Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.

The great subway is open. Mayor McClellan, with a silver controller, turned on the electric current that started the "first train" through the miles of underground tracks in New York this afternoon. At 7 o'clock tonight the regular schedule began, and the public had a chance to test the efficiency of the great underground system.

Every whistle in the city seemed to blow when the hour for the formal opening came. Bells were rung throughout the city, and noise held sway until long after the first train had started.

The ceremonies of the day began with the exercises in the City hall, to which the rapid transit commission had bidden some 600 guests. But outside the hall, and filling City park and all the roads leading thereto, were the thousands of the unbidden ones, representative of all New York.

Crowd Dashed for Train.

The exercises in the City hall consisted of prayer by Bishop Greer, and addresses by Mayor McClellan, W. B. Parsons, chief engineer; President Orr of the Rapid Transit Company, John B. McDonald, the contractor, and others connected with the great work.

At the close of the ceremonies the official party took a train and made a trip through the subway. Then followed many other trains carrying guests of the company, which had issued several thousand invitations.

Promptly at 7 o'clock the first of the crowd were admitted to the station, and when the first train dashed in sight around the loop a hearty cheer went up. As soon as the five cars had been filled, the train was sent away. At Brooklyn bridge an enormous crowd had gathered and the initial train was given a vociferous reception.

Passengers Rapidly Increased.

From station to station the train was heralded with noisy acclaim. As it proceeded uptown the number of those who desired to ride increased and when the terminus was reached every available inch of space was occupied. No sooner had the red lamps on the rear car of the first train disappeared in half-lit shades of the great tunnel when another train drew into City hall station. And it was just as quickly filled. The second train, too, received as warm a welcome as the first.

The service was inaugurated with a three-minute schedule for locals and two-minute for express trains. The people turned out en masse to christen the new road, and it is estimated that nearly 150,000 rode during the evening. The desire of people to ride on locals rather than expresses caused a great crowding in the stations in the central part of the city, but aside from a little deviation from the schedule the opening was successful.

DOCK FIRE IS RAGING.

Threatens Steamers at New York Pier. Policeman and Fireman Missing.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Fire which began shortly after midnight has destroyed the pier at the foot of Forty-second street in Brooklyn. The steamer City of Palermo, of the Prince line, which was lying at the pier, is burning and it is believed cannot be saved.

The pier which is 700 feet long, is occupied by the Bush Terminal and Warehouse Company. The fire now threatens adjoining piers. Five or six lighters, loaded with cotton are ablaze.

A policeman and a fireman are reported as missing. It is estimated that the loss will reach half a million dollars.

PURE FOOD PROMOTER GONE.

Neil S. Phelps of Battle Creek, Mich., Not Seen Since Sunday Afternoon.

BATTLE CREEK, MICH., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Neil S. Phelps, president of the Ellis Publishing Company, builder of the Phelps sanitarium, organizer of the Malta-Vita Pure Food Company, and promoter of several big financial enterprises, has mysteriously disappeared. He left home last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock without overcoat, money or anything else, and went to his office.

At 3 o'clock he was seen standing on the Rice street bridge adjoining his office, looking into the water. He has not been seen since.

RATE WAR IN RAILROAD CARS

EARNINGS REDUCED

Manufacturers Practically Allow Their Customers to Name Figures.

STOCKHOLDERS DISSATISFIED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Oct. 27.

Failure of the directors of the Pressed Steel Car Company to declare the quarterly dividend on the common stock at their meeting yesterday has brought to light the fact that there is at present in progress among the principal car building companies a very aggressive trade war which has cut heavily into their earnings.

All sorts of freight and passenger cars are being sold at bargain prices. Where in boom times premiums were paid for "space," or preference, by one railroad to another, the situation has so completely reversed itself that the car manufacturing companies, in their anxiety to book business, practically allow the railroads to dictate prices.

As an instance, one car company representative stated today that in the recent Erie contract for freight cars, it was discovered that prices had been forced so low that the Pullman company of Chicago absolutely refused to tender a bid. The Pressed Steel Car Company made what was considered an extremely low bid—barely above cost—but the contract was lost. It is said that some railroads are taking advantage of the extremely severe competition in cars to place orders.

Disturber of Prices.

One of the factors in producing this trade condition is the entrance of the Standard Steel Car Company of Butler, Pa., which is at present regarded as the most aggressive disturber of prices for standard sized cars. Instead of maintaining a base price of from $1,000 to $1,100 for cars the base is now from $700 to $800. Additional inducements are also given in the effort to get business.

It was stated today in well-informed quarters that so unprofitable had the business developed of late that the leading manufacturers had been approached with the idea of considering a working arrangement in regard to the maintenance of prices, but so far all efforts have failed hopelessly. The reason is that each large interest is suspicious of the other, and so strained have the relations become that the leading interests in several concerns believe that the other would not fulfill any working agreement.

Practically a similar condition exists in the locomotive business, although the competition is by no means as drastic. It is learned that contracts calling for locomotives to cost $16,000 have been allowed to lapse and that the identical contracts have been replaced at from $12,200 to $13,000.

Grievance of Stockholders.

"With conditions such as exist in the car building line," said a leading manufacturer today, "it is no wonder that the Pressed Steel Car management decided not to pay any dividend on the common stock. I understand there is some basis for the objection made by certain common stockholders of the Pressed Steel Car Company because the dividend was not declared when an appropriation had been made nearly a year ago for a full year's dividend at the rate of 4 per cent. It appears that the management had set aside a sufficient amount out of the previous year's earnings to pay dividends at the rate of 4 per cent, and would have done so at this meeting but the condition of the trade and the additional competition forced the directors to abandon their policy."

WALKER DOUBTS MODUS VIVENDI WITH PANAMA

Admiral Believes an Agreement Was Reached Orally, but None Signed.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Rear Admiral John G. Walker, chairman of the isthmian canal commission, stated tonight that he was at a loss to understand what was being published as the text of a modus vivendi between the United States and Panama. The only thing he knew of was a general agreement reached between Panama, Minister Barrett and Gen. Davis, governor of the canal zone, that the settlement of the questions in dispute be deferred. Panama agreed to raise no issue against the United States, and this government did the same. It resulted in a suspension of the decision long enough to enable the president to intrust the adjustment of affairs to Secretary Taft, who will leave for Panama on November 14.

Admiral Walker doubted if any agreement had been signed by the officials mentioned on August 2. He believed Gen. Davis was then in the United States.

PALMER AND HORNBOSTEL COMING TO PITTSBURGH

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Messrs. Palmer and Hornbostel would have nothing to say today about their winning the prize for the Carnegie Technical school, except that they will both leave for Pittsburgh tomorrow night to consult with the building committee. That they and their friends appreciate the honor of their great success was shown by the number of callers they had today and the congratulatory telephone messages received.

POLL OF OHIO INSURES VICTORY

The Cincinnati Enquirer (Democratic) Concedes 70,000 to Roosevelt.

A CONGRESSIONAL FORECAST

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
CINCINNATI, Oct. 27.—Roosevelt's majority in Ohio will range from 65,000 to 70,000. Last year Gov. Myron T. Herrick carried the state by 113,000, but this abnormal majority was due to Democratic disaffection and dislike of Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, the opposing candidate.

McKinley carried the state four years ago by 69,000, which may be accounted the normal Republican strength in the state. This year there is no disaffection in either party except in a few localities on purely local issues. Each party will cast about its normal strength for president. Save for the invasion of Bryan and Fairbanks this week the campaign has been utterly devoid of excitement or enthusiasm. The Peoples party was not represented on the state ticket a year ago. It gets on this time through petition. Watson may poll 15,000 votes. Debs, Socialist, and Swallow, Prohibition, will also poll about 15,000 or 16,000 votes each. None of the minors will cut any figure in the final result.

The Democrats will elect congressmen in the Fourth, Fifth, Thirteenth and Seventeenth districts. They have an opportunity to elect congressmen also in the Fifteenth and Third districts. A bitter factional fight in the former threatens to engulf Beman Dawes, brother of Charles G. Dawes. The latter is a Democratic district which has been electing a Republican through the grace of Democratic wrangling. If the Democrats are as united as they appear to be on the surface, Nevin, the Republican, will be defeated by Conley, Democrat.

These estimates are based upon a careful poll of the state in every county conducted by the Enquirer (Democratic). The Twelfth district will be close, with chances favoring the Republicans.

DUN MANAGER COUGHS HIMSELF TO DEATH

Philadelphia Man Ruptures Blood Vessel, Which Brings on an Attack of Apoplexy.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—Walter H. Pelly, of 3516 North Fifteenth street, coughed himself to death last night. Mr. Pelly, who was assistant business manager in this city of the Dun mercantile agency, had a slight cold when he returned home last night and went to his room to rest.

Almost immediately he was seized with a violent fit of coughing. He became black in the face and nearly lost his breath. Three physicians were hastily summoned and they worked for nearly an hour in a vain attempt to check the cough. Finally the strain of coughing ruptured a blood vessel in the brain and a stroke of apoplexy snuffed out his life.

11-YEAR-OLD TERROR.

Armed With Knucklers, Razor and Revolver He Threatens Teacher and Scholars.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—When ordered to be quiet by a teacher in the Wylie Avenue schools today, Charles Branch, aged 11, drew a pair of knucklers from his pocket and started toward the instructor. Another pupil attempted to interfere and was dealt a stunning blow. Young Branch then drew a razor and a revolver and terrorized the entire school, threatening teacher and pupils with death.

He was arrested and turned over to the juvenile court, charged with carrying concealed weapons and disturbing the peace.

MRS. KRAUSS CONFESSES TO KILLING DAUGHTER

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Mrs. Rae Krauss, of Hartford City, who has been in jail for several weeks on a charge of administering strychnine to her 18-year-old daughter Crystal, and thereby causing her death, and whose case has been under investigation by the grand jury this week, made a written confession to Judge Vaughn of the circuit court today, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

Chase's Father-in-Law Indicted.

POMEROY, O., Oct. 7.—R. Haning, father-in-law of County Treasurer Thomas J. Chase, was indicted as a confederate in the county treasury robbery of September 9 today. Haning is over 70 years of age, and is a cripple. His bond is fixed at $10,000. Chase was released on $10,000 bail today. The county commissioners appointed a new treasurer.

ITS GROWTH DUE TO PROTECTION

So Declares British Visitor of America's Iron and Steel Trade.

INSTITUTE IS COMING HERE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 27.

Members of the International Iron and Steel institute arrived from New York this afternoon. President Andrew Carnegie will join them in the morning.

While the members are giving their exclusive attention to their official mission—trade conditions—they discussed freely the threatened break between England and Russia, the opinion expressed being that war will follow Russia's refusal to recede from the position assumed.

Sir Walter Foster, member of parliament from London, spoke eulogistically of the vast strides taken by America in iron and steel manufactures since 1890. W. H. Butlin, treasurer of the British Iron Trades association, said:

"I am satisfied that America's great rise in the iron and steel world is due to its policy of protection. I am amazed at the phenomenal development of your iron and steel industries."

From here the visitors go to Washington, and will reach Pittsburgh Monday.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

P. A. JOHNS LIKELY TO DIE FROM FALL

Uniontown Hotel Proprietor Receives Injuries in Youngstown, O., Club House.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 7.—P. A. Johns, one of the proprietors of the McClellan house at Uniontown, Pa., while inspecting the Elks club building this afternoon with a delegation en route to the convention of the Pennsylvania Hotel Men's association at Cambridge Springs, Pa., was attacked with heart failure and fell from the third floor through a spiral stairway to the first floor. He struck a heavy tete, breaking it in pieces and lighting on his head, fracturing his skull and breaking his right arm. He was taken, in an unconscious condition, to the City hospital. His injuries are likely fatal. Mr. Johns weighs about 225 pounds. His wife and daughters were summoned.

UNIONTOWN, PA., Oct. 27.—P. A. Johns was born in 1861 and was a son of the late P. A. Johns, postmaster of Uniontown under both Grant administrations. He was deputy sheriff and held other appointive positions, and in 1899 was elected register and recorder, leading the Republican ticket. For months past he has been associated with W. H. McClellan as one of the proprietors of the McClellan house.

PRISON EMPLOYES DEMAND PAY FOR WORKING OVERTIME

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Eastern penitentiary employes will make a demand for about $500,000 which they say the state owes them for working overtime, since the eight-hour law has been in force. The lawyers employed by the men found the commonwealth could not be made defendant in such a suit, so it is planned to bring the matter before the legislature.

OIL BURNED FIREMAN IN HIS ENGINE CAB

PHILIPS, NEB., Oct. 27.—Fireman Lazear lost his life in a peculiar accident on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad here today. A passenger train struck an oil wagon at a street crossing and the oil, which was thrown over the engine, caught fire. Lazear burned to death.

MAY REPAIR IN PORT OF VIGO

BRITISH SQUADRONS ON MOVE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
VIGO, SPAIN, Oct. 27.—The Russian cruiser Senchong has left Buen, but the collier Bilgia remains in port. The cruiser Almaz has arrived at Muros, the Ivalana is still at Villagarcia. It is affirmed that the Russian vessels at Vigo will sail early Friday morning for Gibraltar. The commanders of the various vessels had a long conference today with Admiral Rojestvensky on board the Kniaz Souvaroff.

The Spanish authorities have now given permission for the Russian squadron to coal, limiting each vessel to 400 tons.

MADRID, Oct. 27.—M. Schevitch, the Russian ambassador to Spain, and Foreign Minister San Pedro had a long conference here today. The government has authorized the Russian warships at Vigo to remain in port and complete repairs, on condition that they leave immediately after repairs are completed.

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 27.—The ships of the British channel fleet cleared their decks this afternoon. It is rumored that the whole fleet with the exception of the battleship Caesar, will steam westward tomorrow morning with the alleged purpose of making a sham attack against the rock of Gibraltar.

Several torpedo boats left Tangier this afternoon fully equipped. Work at the arsenal is proceeding under high pressure.

A division of the Mediterranean fleet, comprising six battleships, all the armored cruisers, and 20 torpedo boats, is expected to arrive here tomorrow.

ATHENS, Oct. 27.—All the vessels of the British Mediterranean fleet now in Greek waters have been ordered to sail forthwith. The Pola British squadron sailed at midnight.

FIUME, HUNGARY, Oct. 27.—The division of the British Mediterranean squadron now here has received urgent orders from the admiralty to unite with the division anchored at Pola, Austria, and to continue their voyage eastward.

VALETTA, ISLAND OF MALTA, Oct. 27.—The British armored cruiser Bacchante, with Rear Admiral Baldwin-Walker on board, the battleship Albemarle, flying the flag of Rear Admiral Hamilton, the battleship Montagu and six torpedo boat destroyers, have arrived here from Corfu. The battleship Queen and nine torpedo boat destroyers sailed hence today for an unknown destination.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—While no time limit for the receipt of Russia's reply has been fixed, it is generally understood today that the route of the Russian squadron past Gibraltar will be barred by the channel squadron, commanded by Vice Admiral Lord Charles Beresford.

SHOT BY YOUTHFUL LOVER.

Fifteen-Year-Old Bellboy Wounds Married Woman With Revolver She Loaned Him.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The love of Mrs. Maud Cahoon, wife of Charles Cahoon, a wealthy mine owner and fruit grower of California and Florida, and Charles Lugannani, a 15-year-old Italian bellboy, culminated last night at midnight when Mrs. Cahoon was shot through the abdomen with a bullet from a revolver in the hands of her youthful lover.

According to the statements of both herself and Lugannani, Mrs. Cahoon tried to take away from him a pistol which she had loaned him, and in the playful struggle for the weapon it was discharged. The woman says the boy is more than life to her, and that his shooting her was only an accident.

NEWTON, N. J., Oct. 27.—Alexander Kiss, one-armed, one-legged and one-eyed Hungarian, was hanged at the jail here today for the murder of his wife by shooting in their home at Franklin furnace, August 8 last.

ENGLAND IS CHECKMATED

Russian Admiral's Report Has Puzzled British Diplomats.

POLICY OF SILENCE

LONDON, Oct. 27.—One of the most complicated diplomatic situations in recent history, and one that is attended with the most dangerous possibilities for the peace of the whole of Europe, exists tonight with no sign of immediate solution. The tension that arose when the dispute between Great Britain and Russia resolved itself into the simple question whether Russia would guarantee in advance that punishment should be administered to the offending officers of the Baltic squadron, has been modified by the introduction of an entirely new set of contentions contained in Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's report; yet even the most astute diplomats, who recognize a temporary improvement in conditions, are puzzled by the complications that so curiously cause it.

The foreign office, apparently as puzzled as the onlookers, pursues a policy of silence, and the British press is almost totally uninformed. Had Admiral Rojestvensky's report not arrived, it is probable the dispute would have been settled tonight. Its terms, however, are generally held to prevent the presentation of the ultimatum which Great Britain undoubtedly intended to send. Although Lord Lansdowne has frankly said that the circumstances reported by Admiral Rojestvensky are to him inconceivable, the foreign minister is not prevented from seeing that new light has been thrown on the "outrage," and that diplomatic usage now compels less urgent action than the British government at first contemplated.

War Preparations Go On.

In the present temper of the British nation it is not at all likely that preparations for hostilities will be relaxed, or that the popular outcry will be diminished by Admiral Rojestvensky's report, but it is understood that Great Britain would run the risk of forfeiting in some degree the good will of France, and certainly that of Germany, if she proceeded to substitute warlike for diplomatic steps, of which intention, so it is stated at the Russian embassy tonight, there is no indication in Lord Lansdowne's communication.

The attitude of France is held to be of the highest importance. It was said today by the representative of another great power that if France had given definite assurances that she would not support Russia in the event of war growing out of the North sea incident, a hostile issue would be almost inevitable, as the temptation to crush the Russian naval power after such provocation could scarcely have been refused by Great Britain.

So long as Great Britain is not sure whether France will help Russia she will not be likely to engage in war; while Russia, with France neutral, would, so it is thought at most of the embassies here, scarcely invite defeat. It is said by a high authority to be that France has given both disputants to understand that she does not desire to become involved, but has reserved her final decision.

Hayashi Scouts Report.

Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister, has again reiterated his statement that it was impossible that any Japanese torpedo boats could have been where the Russian admiral thought them. He declared that Rojestvensky's own statement of indiscriminate firing after such slight investigation proved that the Russian fleet was likely to menace the safety of all neutral seas, and make international law merely a farce.

Exactly what method can be taken to investigate Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's statements does not clearly appear. The Russian embassy here can throw no light upon the alleged presence of torpedo boats in the North sea, the British admiralty has no information, and fresh inquiry among the trawlers elicits no new facts. The Russian embassy thinks that a further and more elaborate inquiry is proceeding at Vigo, where the testimony of the officers participating in the affair is being minutely recorded.

The apparent contradiction between statements emanating from St. Petersburg, and the understanding here whether Great Britain has demanded the punishment of those responsible for the North sea affair, rises from the fact, while admittedly no demands have been submitted by Ambassador Hardinge in St. Petersburg, Foreign Minister Lansdowne, in conversation with Count Benkendorff, has laid down propositions which to all intents and purposes are just as much in the nature of demands as if they had been specifically formulated, but would only become "demands" in the strictly diplomatic sense when formulated and presented.

British Demand Intolerable.

Ambassador Benkendorff, in his interview with Lord Lansdowne today, maintained that punishment of the Baltic fleet officers must be taken on the spontaneous initiative of the emperor's government and that a demand from a foreign power that Russia shall punish her officers cannot be entertained.

There is no indication of Lord Lansdowne withdrawing his demand, and though the dispute has not yet reached an ultimatum stage, it is likely to do so if today passes without some recognition of punishment in principle by the emperor's government. It is now considered certain that the premier will summon a cabinet council for noon tomorrow.

Fisherman Deny Report.

It is reported that Admiral Rojestvensky received from the admiralty in code, secret instructions not only authorizing but obliging him to fire on all ships approaching too close or otherwise arousing suspicion, but that foreign governments were not notified of these instructions.

At Hull Admiral Rojestvensky's statements are dismissed as absolutely inaccurate and unworthy of the slightest consideration. The fishermen are emphatic in declaring that it can be proved beyond doubt that there were no Japanese torpedo boats in the vicinity of Dogger Bank. Further, they point out that the Baltic squadron was 30 miles out of its proper course, with the result that the vessels steamed into the midst of the trawlers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28.—The mystery of the trawler affair, instead of being cleared up by Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's report today, appears to be deeper than ever. The Russian admiral's explanation is hailed with the greatest satisfaction at the admiralty and elsewhere, but it is felt that a direct issue has been raised between Russia and Great Britain, and that the incident has entered upon an even more delicate stage.

Public sentiment in both countries doubtless will demand the most searching investigation to establish facts, and probably neither nation will be willing to accept the result of an ex parte inquiry by the other. The outcome probably will be a mixed tribunal of some sort. This, at least is the suggestion of some of the cooler men here, as it is felt that only thus could a repetition of the Maine inquiry be avoided.

Populace With Admiral.

Popular excitement has reached a pitch unequaled since the beginning of the war. Public sympathy and confidence undoubtedly are with Admiral Rojestvensky and should Russia choose to stand upon his version without further inquiry there is no question but such a course would be popular with the masses, who would be willing to back the government in the controversy to the utmost extremity.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

Hungary Supports Any Movement to End War; Austria Believes Effort Futile.

VIENNA, Oct. 27.—The foreign office believes nothing is likely to result at present on the subject of the proposed new peace conference at The Hague. It points out that apart from the widespread opinion that the time is inopportune, the war in the far east is constantly opening new and important questions of international law which cannot be satisfactorily dealt with unless hostilities are over.

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, Oct. 27.—In the lower house of the Hungarian diet today Francis Kossuth, president of the Independent party, introduced a resolution calling on the premier to urge the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister to support any diplomatic action on the part of the United States tending to put an end to the bloodshed in the far east.

GENERAL TO RESCUE.

Russian Commander, Though Wounded, Went Personally to the Aid of His Men.

WITH GEN. RENNENKAMPFF'S COLUMN, BY COURIER, VIA MUKDEN, (Undated.)—During the attack of the detachment on Eagle Nest rock, October 15, when Lieut. Nichasoff's men were in a perilous position, clinging to the face of the steep slope, Gen. Danilloff, who was already wounded in the knee, went personally to their rescue with two companies of reserves. Lieut. Nichasoff sent back messengers, begging Gen. Danilloff not to expose himself, and promising to hold the position alone, but Danilloff continued his forward movement, and remained in the ranks.

The fighting continued October 12, the losses being very heavy. Out of one company of 200, only 60 men remained. In another company 34 remained, and in still another only 16, with not a single officer.

CHINESE ARE PROPHETS.

Are Hastily Settling Up Money Affairs in Mukden in Anticipation of Battle.

MUKDEN, Oct. 27.—There was a reconnaissance in force last night by the Russian western flank. The Japanese were discovered to be hurriedly fortifying along the whole line. It is the general opinion here that serious events will not develop for some days, but judging by the hurried manner in which the Chinese are settling their money affairs in Mukden they are of a different opinion.

The whole army is delighted with the appointment of Gen. Kuropatkin as commander-in-chief. The one idea among the men is to advance. There is every indication that when the next fight comes it will be of a desperate character.

Both firing lines are now facing each other without outposts.

CASSINI IS WARM.

Declares Russia Will Tolerate No Interference With Her Internal Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador, was deeply interested tonight in the dispatch that the Russian government had not yet received request from Great Britain for the punishment of the officers responsible for firing on British fishermen. He said that such a request would be unprecedented.

"Russia," he added, "cannot admit the right of any power to interfere in her internal affairs, or even suggest a method of internal administration, and it is to be hoped that no nation will make such suggestion."

SAY ROJESTVENSKY'S STORY IS INACCURATE

LONDON, Oct. 27.—(Special Cable.)—The Telegraph correspondent at Hull says: "The owners of the trawler Crane state that Rojestvensky's statements are absolutely inaccurate, and it can be proved beyond doubt that neither torpedo boats nor Japanese subjects were with or in the vicinity of the game cock fleet at the time of the outrage; moreover, the Baltic squadron was considerably out of its course.

NORTH SEA VICTIMS ARE BURIED IN HULL CEMETERY

HULL, ENG., Oct. 27.—The funeral today of two of the victims of the North sea tragedy was made the occasion of a great public demonstration. Hundreds of wreaths, including one from King Edward, were placed about the coffins. Business was practically suspended and the flags were half-masted on the ships in the harbor. Thousands of people lined the route to the cemetery.

Saw Disabled Russian Ships.

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 27.—The British steamer Talbot reports that yesterday at noon she sighted two Russian cruisers off Sagres, Portugal, which appeared to be disabled. The captain of the Talbot asked them if assistance was required, and they replied in the negative.

More Colliers for Baltic Fleet.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—Six more colliers have been chartered at Flensburg to transport coal for the use of the Russian second Pacific squadron.

HOW TO SELECT A PIANO.

Experience Unnecessary.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—Few people realize the importance in the selection of a piano for their home. It means a companion for lifetime. If it becomes harsh and "tinpanny" in tone, you will always be dissatisfied. If you select a world-renowned make like the genuine Chickering or the old reliable Hardman or Kroeger pianos you are sure to have a standard make, with a sweet, singing, poetic and mellow tone that will last a lifetime. These pianos are sold only by W. F. Frederick, the reliable piano dealer, 635 Smithfield street; also 10 other reliable makes. Our reasonable prices and easy terms, if wanted, make piano buying easy at this store. Art catalogue free. Entire building. Remember, the genuine Chickering, Hardman, Strich & Zeidler, Kroeger, McPhail, Estey, Schubert, Haines Bros., Price & Teeple pianos and Chase & Baker and Hardman piano players are sold only by W. F. Frederick. C. & W. Schroeder, Mugrs. Largest dealers between New York and Chicago.

Largest stock of pianos in Pittsburgh. Used uprights, reliable makes, $100. Terms $10 down, $6 per month. Bargains in used Chickering, Hardman, Steinway and Kroeger pianos. Square pianos $10 upward. Used organs, $20 to $40.

CHARGES FISHERMEN WITH "CUTTING IN"

Rojestvensky's Official Report Reflects Seriously Upon Conduct of British Craft.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28.—The naval general staff publishes the following two dispatches from Vice Admiral Rojestvensky:

First Dispatch.

"The North sea incident was caused by two torpedo boats advancing to attack without lights under cover of darkness, against the vessel leading the detachment. When the detachment turned on its searchlights and opened fire, the presence of several small steamboats, resembling steam fishing boats, was discovered. The detachment endeavored to spare these, and ceased firing as soon as the torpedo boats were out of sight.

"The English press is indignant because a torpedo boat, left by the detachment on the spot until morning, did not aid the victims. Now there was not a single torpedo boat near the detachment, and none was left behind; consequently the vessel remaining near the small steamboats was the torpedo boat which was not sunk, but only damaged. The detachment did not aid the little steamboats because we suspected them of complicity on account of their obstinately cutting into the order of the positions of our vessels. Several of them showed no lights and others only very late."

Second Dispatch.

"Having met several hundred fishing boats, the squadron showed them every consideration except when they were in company with foreign torpedo boats, of which one disappeared while the other, according to the fishers' own evidence, remained among them until morning. They supposed it was a Russian and were indignant because it did not aid the victims, but it was foreign and remained until morning, seeking the other torpedo boat, its consort, either to repair damage or through fear of betraying itself to those who were not its accomplices.

"If there were also on the spot fishermen imprudently dragged into the enterprise, I beg in the name of the whole squadron to express my sincere regret to the unfortunate victims of circumstances under which no warship, even in time of deep peace, could have acted otherwise."

New Names for Old Cruisers.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 27.—By order of Emperor Nicholas the cruisers Smolensk and St. Petersburg have been commissioned as cruisers in the active fleet and rechristened the Rion and Dnieper.

Canada Has War Spirit.

OTTAWA, ONT., Oct. 27.—There is a war feeling in the air today that has caused a lull in the Dominion election talk. The Russian admiral's report is regarded as ridiculous.

FLOWERS FOR ROOSEVELT.

The President Is Kindly Remembered on His Forty-Sixth Birthday Anniversary.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The White House was thronged with callers today who congratulated President Roosevelt on his 46th birthday anniversary. Flowers filled the executive office, the most remarkable being a superb collection of 46 huge chrysanthemums of nearly as many varieties sent from the government propagating gardens by Col. Bromwell. Two men were required to carry the bouquet, and it was difficult to get it through the doors of the White House offices.

Mrs. Dewey, wife of the admiral, called and took away several white roses from the president's desk. Senator Knox was among the callers.

Serious Riots in Vilna Province.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 27.—Serious riots are reported to have occurred in the province of Vilna. Gen. Ridzevsky, the new head of the police department, has hurriedly proceeded thither.

ATTITUDE OF POWERS ON THE DARDANELLES

England and Italy Alone Are Opposed to its Passage by Ships of War.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, Oct. 27.—Although no request has been received by the Italian government from Russia regarding the removing of the international restrictions on the passage of the Dardanelles by ships of war, the question has been more or less discussed between the powers since last January, when Great Britain addressed a protest to Turkey against the passing of the straits by Russian torpedo boats. While no conclusion was reached, the attitude of the different powers appears to be as follows:

Great Britain—Decidedly opposed.

Germany—Considers herself an unconcerned spectator, whose interests in the disputed matter would be neither furthered nor prejudiced by whatever solution might be reached.

Austria—Always upheld the principle that the Dardanelles should be open to all or none.

France—Because of her present alliance with Russia, France views the question in a different light from that in which she regarded it at the time of the Crimean war, when, allied with England in the treaty of 1856, which was confirmed by the treaty of Berlin, she favored the prohibition of warships passing the straits.

Italy—Notwithstanding the intimate relations between the houses of Savoy and Romanoff, this government has no reason to change from the attitude assumed in the Crimean war, in which Piedmont participated as the ally of England.

The Italian Anglophile feeling is voiced tonight by the Tribuna, a leading government paper, which calls Admiral Rojestvensky a lunatic, adding that if complete and prompt satisfaction is not given, war will be inevitable.

AMERICANS DISCOVER FRAUDS IN CUSTOMS

Reforming the Service in Santo Domingo—Revolutionists Have Been Dispersed and Peace Re-Established.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

CAPE HAITIEN, HAITI, Oct. 27.—John T. Abbott, the American agent in charge of the custom house at Puerto Plata, and J. E. Strickland, in charge of the Monte Cristi custom house, both appointed by the commission which awarded $4,500,000 to the Santo Domingo Improvement Company of New York, for seizure of its property during one of the revolutions in Santo Domingo about 15 years ago, have discovered big frauds in the customs service. It appears that American intervention in the customs of Santo Domingo has already produced a salutary effect. It is estimated that the receipts at the custom houses will now be increased 25 per cent.

The revolutionists of Santo Domingo have been dispersed and peace has again been re-established in that republic.

PREDICTED ABSORPTION OF MEXICO AND CANADA

BRIDGEPORT, CONN., Oct. 27.—Speaker Joseph G. Cannon was the principal speaker at a Republican rally tonight, it being the speaker's sixty-fourth speech during the present campaign. He predicted that if the present tariff policy was continued the country would soon expand so that it would overrun not only Mexico and Central America, but Canada as well. He said that he did not believe the country once having had a taste of free trade would ever try it again.

AN UNWELCOME TELEGRAM INCITES TO SUICIDE

Charles V. Culbert, an advertising solicitor of this city, attempted to commit suicide at his boarding place, 5827 Butler street, East End, last evening after receiving a telegram from his father, a prominent citizen of Washington, D. C. The message was a disappointing one. Culbert with a razor cut the arteries of his right arm and then inhaled gas. He was removed to the East End Charity hospital, but his condition was such that only slight hopes of his recovery exist.

ELKINS PREDICTS DEFEAT FOR FATHER-IN-LAW DAVIS

CUMBERLAND, MD., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—United States Senator Elkins, while in Cumberland today on his way home from Washington, said: "It is natural for me to predict Republican success. I believe the country is opposed to a change and I believe we will carry West Virginia."

Forging Billets Advanced.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The Steel Billet association has advanced the price of forging billets $2 a ton. There is nothing significant in the advance, as the change is simply in harmony with the action of the billet association at its recent meeting in this city.

Gas Exploded Under Store.

Excitement was created by a fire that broke out in the grocery store of Philip Roderus, in Braddock avenue, Braddock, last evening at 8 o'clock. A gaspipe in the basement broke and the escaping gas was ignited, causing an explosion which frightened the crowd in the room above. Water and smoke did $500 damage.

Made It Warm for the Deputy.

Ben McLean is charged with obstructing the serving of a legal process by Deputy Sheriff E. J. Gumbert, who says when he went to the McLean residence in Forty-second street to serve a writ of replevin, he was attacked by McLean and his brother, the latter firing a shot at him.

Public Heard Excellent Program.

The regular weekly organ recital was held last night in Allegheny Carnegie Music hall by City Organist Caspar P. Koch. The program was an excellent one, Mr. Koch was ably assisted by Dennis McCarthy, tenor soloist, and August H. Fischer, cornetist.

RUSSIANS FIRE ON THREE MORE SHIPS

One Sustains Bombardment for Over Two Hours, but Is Not Hit.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger, dated Geestemunde, October 27, says: "The fishing vessel Sonntag, which arrived here today, reported that it had been fired upon for two and a half hours off Dogger bank, but was not hit."

"On October 21 we were on the Horn's reef fishing grounds, on the west coast of Jutland. In the forenoon five large Russian ships passed and in the evening nine more. North of us was a large freight steamer. At 8:30 o'clock p. m. we were lighted by a reflector, and immediately afterwards there fell the first shells in our neighborhood.

"The Russian vessels fired up to 80 shots a minute in all directions. Towards 9:30 the freighter approached us, drawing the fire upon itself. In the light of the reflector we observed shells striking close to this steamer. We then observed another reflector southward and shells bursting near the ship which was firing on us. We remained unhurt. After 11 o'clock there were no further shells."

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 27.—The skipper of the Swedish steamer Aldebaron, from Hull, England, which arrived today at Gefle, Sweden, says his vessel was chased in the Skagerrack during the evening of Friday, October 21, by a foreign cruiser, apparently Russian, which threw its searchlight on her. The cruiser, increasing her speed, passed the Aldebaron and fired a shot which had no effect.

The Aldebaron thereupon hoisted her flag. The cruiser again threw her searchlight on the steamer and a few minutes later hailed shot all around the Aldebaron without, however, hitting her. The Aldebaron's skipper then ordered the steamer to be stopped, and with his crew sought refuge below. The foreign warship thereupon disappeared in the darkness.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 27.—The master of the Norwegian steamship Skaatol reports from London that he was fired on by a Russian ship on Sunday in the English channel. The firing ceased when the Skaatol hoisted her flag. Soon afterwards 18 Russian men-of-war passed the Skaatol.

ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., Oct. 27.—It is reported from Antigua that loud detonations were heard at points on the south side of that island today.

AUDIENCE HISSED BRYAN.

Kansas City People Did Not Approve His Reference to the President's Philippine Policy.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Oct. 27.—William J. Bryan tonight addressed an audience that taxed the capacity of Convention hall. Part of Mr. Bryan's remarks on the Philippines were greeted with hisses which drowned the sound of his voice. He said:

"Occasionally I go to Washington City, and I may go there again before next March. If I were walking down Pennsylvania avenue and should drop my pocketbook with my name stamped on the outside cover, and the president should come along and pick it up, he would keep it if he should treat the matter as he has the Philippine question. He would doubt if I could properly spend my own money to the best advantage to myself, and he would put the pocketbook into his pocket and carry it off and have a commission appointed to examine it, just as he did the Philippine islands. He would pay the commission out of the pocketbook, and if the commission reported that it would be unwise to let me have my own money, he would keep the pocketbook, just as he has the Philippine islands."

When Bryan said the president would keep the pocketbook he was loudly hissed.

Gave Hospital Bad Check.

Louis Aiken, colored, of 82 Fulton street, is locked up in Central station because he tried to pass a worthless check at the homeopathic hospital yesterday evening. Aiken's wife, it is alleged, had been a patient at the hospital and Aiken offered a check in payment for her room. The hospital authorities discovered the check was worthless and caused his arrest.

Found Dead on the Railroad.

The body of George Davis of Seventeenth street, Sharpsburg, was found on the Pittsburgh & Western tracks at Eighteenth street, Sharpsburg, at 11 o'clock last night. He had evidently been struck by a train. He was 28 years old, married and worked at the Tibby glass works.

Women Attack Workmen.

Women and children attacked workmen for Booth & Flinn at the head of Thirty-first street yesterday morning and the foreman of the gang, John Bennett, had to ask for police assistance at No. 8 station. The workmen were filling holes in Pulaski alley, which the residents wanted kept open so that they could reach their dwellings from the rear.

Football Player Breaks Leg.

Frederick Weiss, aged 16, of 1320 James street, Allegheny, while playing football at the Phipps playgrounds in the First ward last night, had his right leg broken above the knee. He was taken to the Allegheny General hospital.

BRITAIN IS CONTINUING PREPARATIONS FOR WAR

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Notwithstanding the diplomatic check in consequence of Admiral Rojestvensky's report, it is evident that Great Britain is preparing for the possibility of war. Tremendous activity is reported from all dockyards where vessels under repair are being made ready for sea under urgent orders from the admiralty.

At Cardiff it is stated admiralty agents are securing great quantities of coal for Gibraltar, Portsmouth, Malta and other ports, and paying high freights. The Mediterranean fleet is hastening in the direction of Gibraltar, and it is announced that the Channel squadron, with decks cleared, will leave Gibraltar early this morning, its alleged object being a "sham attack on the rock." The home fleet, likewise, is concentrating. In fact almost the entire British navy is pointing in the direction of the Baltic fleet, a portion of which is expected to sail from Vigo today.

Perhaps the most significant development is the cabinet meeting, which is called for noon today. While the call was issued prior to the receipt of Rojestvensky's report, which changed the situation considerably and appears to place some of the burden of proof upon Great Britain, the meeting undoubtedly marks the reaching of a serious stage.

HARMON SAYS CLEVELAND KILLED ALL THE TRUSTS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 27.—Judge Judson Harmon, a member of former President Cleveland's last cabinet, delivered his first speech of the present campaign tonight at West Side Turner hall. He said:

What was the effect of the glorious victory over the Northern Securities Company? The unlawful combinations attacked by Mr. Cleveland's administration were each and all put out of business. The evil they were doing they did and could do no longer. But the enterprising gentlemen who devised a holding company to perpetuate their control of competing railroads still hold that control and so far as any action of the administration is concerned they may keep and use it to the end of time. Neither Mr. Roosevelt nor his attorneys-general have run amuck or otherwise since.

Mr. Roosevelt admits that trusts and combinations injure the people and ought to be suppressed. The only sure way is to reduce the exorbitant tariff taxes which have produced most of them. He does not favor that course. So long as those taxes remain so high as effectually to prevent competition from the outside or the fear of it, overproduction will go on and in one form or another home competition will be stifled, and the guilty parties will rely on evasions, technicalities and administrations made friendly, or at least not hurtfully hostile by liberal campaign contributions and the other methods always open to combined wealth and power.

BIG FIRE ON DOCKS.

It Is Raging on New York Piers and Is Threatening Steamships.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Fire which was discovered early this morning has partly destroyed pier No. 7, between Forty-first and Forty-second streets, in Brooklyn, and has now extended to pier No. 6. Pier 7 is occupied by the American-Hawaiian line and is stored with hemp, cocoanut oil and general merchandise.

The steamships Arizona and America, which were lying at the pier, are said to have been saved, but another vessel is said to be on fire.

Fighting Ward Plan in Avalon.

Avalon council at a special meeting last night protested against any division of that borough. A petition was presented by freeholders in the borough to court asking for the appointment of commissioners to consider the advisability of dividing the borough into wards and commissioners have been appointed. A resolution adopted last night states such action would be detrimental to the taxpayers. The school directors are expected to adopt the same resolution. A petition protesting against the division was signed after the meeting by 40 citizens. An active canvass for signers will be started today. It is thought that a counter petition will be started.

Competitor Unknown to Acheson.

"I do not know who is my competitor," said Congressman Ernest F. Acheson of Washington, who is a candidate for re-election. He went to New York last evening to confer with Republican leaders. "I predict the Republican party will carry all states north of the Mason and Dixon line and at least three states south of the line," he continued.

Sons of Veterans Entertain.

Abraham Lincoln Camp 162, Sons of Veterans, entertained in the East End board of trade rooms last night. Ross Crane, clay modeler, cartoonist, humorist and pianist, gave an interesting and amusing entertainment.

ARMY RESERVE MEN RIOT IN A RUSSIAN PROVINCE

Majority of Traders Being Jews They Suffered Most—Houses of Officials Attacked.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MOHILEFF, RUSSIA, Oct. 27.—There have been no anti-Jewish riots here, strictly speaking, as reported in some quarters, but considerable disorders with army reserve men have occurred in connection with the mobilization.

Drunken peasants in the streets attacked houses and shops and most of the local traders being Jews they suffered, but the houses of local officials were also attacked. The desertion of Jewish reserve men, who are fleeing abroad, helped to incite the populace against them, as Christians had to take their places.

There is trouble with the reserve men in general throughout the province, but order is being restored.

MISSOURI ENTHUSIASTIC OVER SENATOR FAIRBANKS

SPRINGFIELD, MO., Oct. 27.—From Hannibal, Mo., Senator Charles W. Fairbanks' special train today swept through Missouri to the Ozark mountains, ending a day of hard campaigning with a speech in a tent before a great crowd at Springfield. The senator made an even dozen speeches today, but in spite of the hard work he appeared fresh and vigorous at nightfall. The crowds throughout the day were large and the enthusiasm was unbounded.

Governor Herrick Speaks.

BABY'S ECZEMA

Top of Head Covered With Scales Which Peeled Off Taking Hair With Them.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Now Six Years Old With Thick Hair and Clean Scalp. Cure Permanent.

"My baby was about six weeks old when the top of her head became covered with thick scales, which would peel and come off, taking the hair with them. It would soon form again and be as bad as before. I tried several things and then went to the doctor. He said it was Eczema, and prescribed an ointment, which did not do any good. A friend spoke of Cuticura Soap. I tried it and read on the wrapper about Cuticura Ointment as a remedy for Eczema. I bought a box and washed her head in warm water and Cuticura Soap and gently combed the scales off. They did not come back and her hair grew out fine and thick. She is now a year and a half old and has no trace of Eczema."

MRS. C. W. BURGES, Iranistan ave., Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 21, 1898.

Mrs. Burges writes, Feb. 28, 1903:

"My baby, who had Eczema very badly on her head, as I told you before, after using the Cuticura Remedies was cured. She is now six years old and has thick hair and a clean scalp."

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies and rest for tired, worried mothers in warm baths with Cuticura Soap, and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, purest of emollients and greatest of skin cures, to be followed in severe cases by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. This is the purest, sweetest, most speedy, permanent and economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted and pimply skin and scalp humors, with loss of hair of infants and children, as well as adults, and is sure to succeed when all other remedies and the best physicians fail.

MURPHY ENJOYED THE MEETING

Temperance Apostle Attends a South Side Republican Rally and Hears Son Speak.

HE DID NOT MAKE A SPEECH

Republican interest centered last night in the South Side mass meeting held in the German Odd Fellows' hall, Sarah and South Eighteenth streets. An interested auditory was Francis Murphy, the great temperance apostle. He was there to hear his son, T. Edward Murphy of Johnstown, make the principal address of the evening. Every minute of the time was of interest to the man who has left a trail of blue ribbons across the continent.

Years ago the elder Murphy campaigned on the South Side in another cause, and many of the men who knew him then renewed friendships. Hundreds of new acquaintances were made last night. Among the number were presidents, vice presidents and secretaries of brewing companies and many saloonkeepers. All of them received a "God bless you."

The meeting was a very large one and the audience stuck until the last orator had finished his narration of the blessing which accrues from a Republican administration. Previous to the speech-making the Dr. A. J. Barchfeld Republican club of McKees Rocks, the Joseph G. Armstrong club of the Twenty-ninth ward, the James Francis Burke club of the Nineteenth ward and the Twenty-second Ward Republican Marching club paraded the streets of the South Side. One of the banners carried by the marchers urged the electors of the Thirty-second congressional district to "Vote for the Tall Sycamore."

Barchfeld Discussed the Issues.

John Bradley called the meeting to order and introduced Dr. W. H. Weber as the chairman. The first speaker was Dr. Barchfeld, the candidate for congress in the district. He briefly, but with exceeding clearness, told his friends and neighbors of the issues in this campaign. There is no district in the United States that has a better knowledge of the workings of free trade and protection than does the South Side. With protection it prospers and with free trade it lives in idleness. He also talked to them of the Philippines and of the announced intention of Judge Parker, if he became president, to cut the old soldier from the pension roll.

Mr. Murphy made an eloquent address. He chose the period from 1893 to 1897 in the nation's history to discuss. It is a time familiar to the people that made up his audience and in this campaign furnishes the chief theme for the campaign orator. While he made some references to the Philippines, his talk was confined chiefly to the great benefits that have come to this country through the Republican policy of protection and the untold misery that has attended each attempt to put the nation on a free trade basis.

Strong Picture Drawn by Murphy.

No orator has drawn a stronger picture of the soup house and the accompanying distress of the Cleveland administration than did Mr. Murphy last night. There was round after round of applause as he told of the election of McKinley and the "driving of the free trade bats from the furnaces of Pittsburgh and the nation." "We have free trade," said he, "free trade with 80,000,000 of our own people. Protection has been the bulwark of our prosperity. The Democratic party has been the party of fault-finding, while the Republican party has been the party of path-finding. It has blazed the way to all things progressive."

In closing his speech Mr. Murphy said: "Let us vote the Republican ticket from Roosevelt to Dr. Barchfeld and from Dr. Barchfeld to that honorable citizen who is running for coroner, Joseph G. Armstrong."

Ex-Judge Josiah Cohen, in a very brief speech, made this reference to Dr. Barchfeld: "In honoring Dr. Barchfeld you honor yourself. No man who will sit in the next congress will be more able to stand shoulder to shoulder with President Roosevelt and aid him in carrying out his policies than Dr. Barchfeld."

Short speeches were made by Joseph G. Armstrong and Perry A. Shaner. Gen. Willis J. Hulings of Oil City was on the stage, but did not make a speech. At the close of the meeting there was a rush to shake hands with Francis Murphy.

Both Clubs Satisfied.

Plans and the line of march for the Republican parade Saturday evening, November 5, were agreed upon yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the committee appointed to arrange details, with W. I. Mustin in the chair and County Chairman Ford, Secretary Charles A. Muehlbronner, W. R. Brown, John B. Barbour, Jr., Harry S. Lydick, Capt. J. A. Brown and George A. Neale participating in the discussion.

While there is always more or less rivalry between the Americus Republican club and the Young Men's Tariff club as to the number of men they can turn out and the order they shall have in parades in Pittsburgh, rivalry on this occasion will be limited to the first—the number of men in line—as the place each is to occupy in the parade was fixed satisfactorily to the representatives of both clubs at this meeting.

The Americus club will escort Senator P. C. Knox from the Duquesne club to Old City hall, where he speaks at the mass meeting, and then take its place in the line of march. The Tariff club will act as escort to the grand marshal of the parade, thereby securing the right of the line in the parade proper. Should the P. C. Knox club reach Pittsburgh in time from Allegheny it will fall in behind Senator P. C. Knox's carriage and after this reaches Old City hall proceed to its place for formation.

Route of the Parade.

It was agreed that for the parade the Pittsburgh clubs shall form in Grant street, right resting in Fifth avenue, left resting in Water street. The Allegheny club will form in Grant street, right resting in Fifth avenue, left resting in Sixth avenue or New Grant street.

The line of march will be Fifth avenue to Dinwiddie street, Dinwiddie to Center, Center to Fulton, Fulton to Wylie, Wylie to Fifth avenue, Fifth avenue to Market street, Market to Sixth street, Sixth over Sixth street bridge to Federal street, Allegheny, Federal to North, North avenue to Cedar, Cedar to Anderson and dismiss in Anderson.

J. K. P. Hall, Democratic state chairman, was in Pittsburgh yesterday and held a short conference with Col. J. M. Guffey. Hall says that he is too busy to give much attention to the campaign, but has been told that the Democrats will elect seven congressmen in Pennsylvania.

In the Interest of Housekeepers--Real Economy

The woman who takes a real interest in the home is always pleased to learn of anything that may tend to brighten and cheer it in the way of practical or decorative articles, and it follows that she is doubly glad to be able to buy such things for less than the regular retail prices.

Today in behalf of our China and Bric-a-Brac Department, third floor, East, we mention the following special items in Table China, Glassware and Cut Glass. All of the articles mentioned are quoted at quite a little less than the usual prices, and all are unusually fine values at the special prices:

Table China—

Bread and Butter, Tea and Dinner Plates, Cups and Saucers in pretty Bavarian China—three different floral effects with gold band edge.

Bread and Butter Plates, worth $1.75, will sell for $1.25 dozen.
Tea Plates, worth $2.25, will sell for $1.75 dozen.
Dinner Plates, worth $2.75, will sell for $2.25 dozen.
Cups and Saucers, worth $3.00, will sell for $2.50.

Glassware—

Fluted bottom band-tumblers, regularly 35c a dozen, special today for 25c a dozen.

Cut Glass—

8-inch Fruit Bowls, beautifully cut and finished, specially priced at $3.00 each. Easily worth $1.50 more.
5-inch Nappies, can be used for Bonbon Dishes; regular $2.50 grade, very special at $1.50.

We beg to call attention to a really elegant assortment of Candlesticks in china, brass and glass. Prices begin at 25c for a single candlestick of brass up to $75.00 for cut glass Candelabra.

Our line of Candle Shades cannot fail to interest women of a housewifely turn of mind. At 10c we are showing pretty little paper shades, others at 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $2.00, and for $5.50 a very elaborate silk shade fringed with the ultra fashionable colored bead fringe.

A Significant Showing of Wool Suitings.

Let us make that a bit stronger—a significant showing of wool suitings for popular prices. We do not believe the woman is in Pittsburg today who will say she ever saw a more liberal assortment of new dress goods at the several popular prices of 50c, 65c and 75c. In this range we show the newest color combinations and designs. Follow us, please, while we go into detail.

At 50c Yd. Values 85c to $2.00
- 54-inch green and white Mannish Suitings,
- 48-inch Camel's Hair Panama Suitings,
- 50-inch Camel's Hair Nub Suitings.
- 44-inch all-wool Twilled Covert Suitings,
- 46-inch pure Camel's Hair Plaid, green and blue,
- 44-inch illuminated Scotch Plaids.

At 65c Yd. Value $1.25
- 52-inch all-wool Mannish Suitings in stripes, invisible plaids and checks—colors, brown, green, tan and blue. Splendid combinations that will meet with approval from every woman. This offer constitutes one of the best values we have ever named.

At 75c Yd. Values $1.00 to $2.00
- 52-inch all-wool Scotch Mixtures and Heather Tweeds, all the newest designs in invisible dice checks, and illuminated effects.
- 50-inch Camel's Hair Panne Suitings in all the modish and wanted shades—two numbers of dress goods that are unrivaled as to quality, and certainly unapproachable anywhere for the price named.

Mercerized White Waistings, Less Than Half.

We cannot recall the time when such distinctly high-class white cotton materials were offered for such plain everyday prices. The loss is the manufacturer's.

15c a yard, 35c quality, Scotch Vestings; also plain and jacquard Oxfords. 32 inches wide.

25c a yard, 50c quality, mercerized Vestings 28 inches wide; also at the same price fine fleeced piques.

50c a yard, 85c and $1.00 qualities, mercerized Vestings, 28 inches wide.

Aids to Autumn Indoor Comfort.

And here again we speak to the housewife, or to whichever member of the family takes it upon himself or herself to furnish up and add comfort to the house in preparation for cold weather. A great deal of comfort arises from having things look nice, not only comfort of mind, but real bodily comfort. Take for example an unsightly window minus its proper drapery. What a difference the right kind of shades and proper draperies makes—not only to the window, but to the room—and how much of satisfaction in it, too.

In the fourth floor Curtain and Drapery Department are to be found dozens of things which will help the housewife in making the home cheerful—

Furniture Slips—all kinds of sash curtains—window shades.

Curtain stuffs such as swisses, nets, etamines and English casement cloths for the cash curtains. Laces and insertions in addition to the foregoing for sill curtains. Motifs, bobbinets and laces by the yard for panel curtains.

Washable silk draperies for pillows, mantels and screens. Plain silks in a variety of solid colors for short curtains without linings—Florentine, Corean, Habutai and Shaki weaves.

Art Loom Tapestries for couch covers, table covers and door curtains ready made.

Armure figured and plain Gordon Rep Tapestries, 50c the yard for making up odd-sized curtains.

Mercerized Rep Tapestries, armure figured and plain colors, 75c, 90c and $1.00 a yard.

Tapestries in imitation of Old Gobelin for furniture coverings, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 a yard.

High art English transparent colored Madras for door draperies and portieres, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 a yard.

Colored Muslin Spreads with plain flounce for brass beds, complete with roll bolster cover—window curtains to match. Spread and bolster piece, $3.00 and $3.50 the set.

Trifling Prices for Fine Veilings.

If you need a new veil buy it today, thus taking advantage of the following advantageous offer.

A very fine grade of Tuxedo Mesh Veiling, plain and dotted, special today at 15c a yard, 2 yards for 25c. Plenty of it. Cheap enough at this price to buy at least several.

Attractive Millinery for Inexpensive Prices.

Have you been considering an ostrich plume trimmed hat? If so, our offer today will please you mightily. It is a duplicate of that made several weeks ago. In fact it was the great demand at the former sale which leads us to repeat the proposition.

Here is the offer: Fine imported ostrich plumes for one-third less than regular retail prices—a splendid black and pure white, hard flue, French Heads, with celluloid quill ends.

15-inch Plumes $2.00, value $3.00.
16-inch Plumes $3.00, value $4.50.
17-inch Plumes $4.00, value $5.00.
18-inch Plumes $5.00, value $7.50.
20-inch Plumes $6.00, value $9.00.

Other Millinery Specials—

$2.00 values in handsome Felts, $1.00.
$3.00 to $4.00 Trimmed Sample Hats, $2.00.
$4.50 and $5.00 high-class Tailored Hats, $3.50.
Pompons, Breasts, Wings and other feathers for lowest prices.

Examine our feathers at 25c, 45c and 65c, and note how superior they are for that money.

Important Necessities at the Notion Counter.

They are trifles when you are well supplied with them, but when in need of them and without them you'll decide they are of vital importance.

Bundles of cotton tape, made up of assorted widths, white only, 5c and 10c bundle.

Featherbone girdle foundations, 10c and 15c.

Silk-chiffon and featherbone Collar foundations, all sizes, 5c each, 50c dozen.

Special assortment of needle books, our own importation, 25c, 50c, 75c.

The Arnold Demonstration.

in the Infants' Department, second floor, East, is still going on. Most women are familiar with the Arnold goods for infants as well as for adults, even when they do not know it by name.

The line is one of underwear and nightgowns in various materials, such as flannel, flannelette and cotton goods. It is noted for good workmanship and comfort-giving qualities.

We invite every one to call while the demonstration is going on.

New and Fine Wool Waistings, Less Prices.

In the imported dress goods section we are showing a beautiful line of new wool Waistings. These are entirely different from anything brought out for separate waists in previous years and altogether prettier. Each pattern is so different from the other that we cannot enter into a description, but there are Tartan plaids, mottled ground effects, embroidered figure designs and prunella grounds with Persian designs. 50c, 65c, 75c a yard.

As something very special we today offer 1,000 yards of fine novelty cotton waistings in black and white at 25c a yard. Regular prices 50c and 75c a yard.

Women's and Children's Cool Weather Hosiery.

On the principle that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, get yourself and the children good warm hose and thus prevent the colds that damp pavements and streets are likely to give. If you can't wear woolen hose, there's heavy weight cottons and cotton and wool mixtures.

Women's and children's fleece-lined hose, reinforced feet, 25c, 35c, 50c.
Women's silk fleece-lined hose, $1.50.
Women's and children's cashmere hose, oxford mixed, plain black and black ribbed, 25c, 35c, 50c and up to $4.50.
Women's and children's winter weight cotton hose, 15c, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c and $1.00.
Women's black cotton hose with natural wool feet, 75c.
Women's natural wool hose, 75c.
Women's silk and wool mixed hose, $1.50.

Leggins—

Women's knitted leggins, $1.00 and $1.25.
Children's and Misses' knitted leggins, 35c, 50c, 65c, 75c.
Women's jersey buttoned leggins, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00.
Children's jersey butoned leggins, $1.00, $1.50, $1.75.
Women's and children's jersey panta-leggins, ranging in price, according to size, $1.75 to $5.00.
Infants' and children's black knitted drawer-leggins, machine knit, 75c; hand knit, $1.25.
Infants' white machine knit drawer-leggins, 75c; hand knit, $1.25.
Brown panta drawer-leggins, ranging in price from $1.75 to $4.00.
Misses' white jersey panta-leggins, $2.00 to $3.00, according to size.
Black cloth Gaiters, 50c and $1.00.

Office of City Clerks.
City of Allegheny, Pa., October 20, 1904.

Notice is hereby given that the following ordinance was presented at a meeting of select council of the city of Allegheny on the 19th day of October, 1904, and was referred to committee on public works.

LAFAYETTE WILLS, City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing and ordering the grading, paving and curbing of Euclid avenue, Tenth ward, from Harrison avenue to Irwin avenue, and providing for assessment and collection of the cost and expense thereof.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the select and common councils of the city of Allegheny, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That the grading, paving and curbing of Euclid avenue, Tenth ward, from Harrison avenue to Irwin avenue, is hereby authorized and ordered, and the director of the department of public works is hereby instructed to prepare specifications therefor, and the mayor and the said director are authorized to advertise for proposals for doing said work in accordance with such specifications, and award the contract therefor according to the provisions of the acts of assembly in such cases made and provided.

The cost and expense of said improvement to be assessed and collected in accordance with the provisions of the laws of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania pertaining thereto and regulating the same.

Sec. 2. That so much of any ordinance as may conflict with or be supplied by the foregoing, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Department of Public Works,

Friday, October 28, 1904.

The letter from Mr. D. L. Browne to Commissioner Evans, which we publish today, is another forcible expression of the feeling of the community over the scheme of vandalism menacing the court house. Although this is the sort of opposition which Commissioner Mercer derides as mere sentiment, it is so pervasive that the county commissioners would do well to consider it.

The report of the British board of trade for the first six months of the present year shows that it has been a period of decline in the rates of wages. The industries in which reduction of pay is most marked are coal mining, iron and steel working, engineering, shipbuilding and glass manufacturing. These trades are just those which the Democratic party is most anxious to expose to the competition of cheap foreign labor upon the ground that protection is "robbery."

There is reason to believe the competition of the architects has secured for the Carnegie technical schools the best possible designs. It was participated in by the cleverest architects in the country and the task of choosing the best from among the many excellent plans offered was no mean one. The result assures an addition to the architectural features of Pittsburgh of an importance second only to the purpose of the new institution. This city is forging to the front in many ways and the technical schools should accelerate the movement.

The Massachusetts superior court has just decided a case based on the rights of corporations to establish a monopoly which is likely to have wide interest, as it is to be carried to the United States supreme court by the defendant. A recent law in that state forbids one to make it a condition of the sale of any goods that the purchaser shall not deal in the goods of any other concern. The tobacco "trust" was charged with offering a discount as an inducement for handling their goods if those of the independent concerns were refused. The independent tobacco companies brought suit and the decision is in their favor, the court holding that such a compact existed in restraint of trade. The doings of the tobacco "trust" are interesting to the users of the weed, who are often asked to decide between lower prices for their goods and patronizing a monopoly. But chewing tobacco is almost entirely controlled by the combination, so that the fight against it on this one branch is considered almost hopeless.

Judge Parker's attack on the protective tariff, when he denounced the duty of $7.84 cents a ton on steel rails, is answered effectively by the Bulletin of the American Iron and Steel association. The candidate said this rate was an extortion, for it added just so much to a fair price and he asked why the railroads would submit to it. The Bulletin says in reply that is was due to the tariff on rails that they could be produced in this country and consequently railroads increased in the United States from 44,000 miles in 1871 to 181,000 miles in 1897. This was attended by a corresponding decrease in freight rates for the cost of moving a bushel of wheat from Chicago to New York has been reduced from 44.2 to 8.75 cents since 1867. In 1873 the price of steel rails in England was $85.15 a ton. Ten years later the price in this country was $37.75 a ton and they are now selling for $28 a ton. Without cheap rails our roads would not have opened up the west as they have done and it would not have been possible to secure the low freight rates that now prevail in this country.

The ability of the present administration of the national government is a valuable commercial asset. American credit in all lines is improved by the prestige of our government. The Statist, a London periodical devoted wholly to the market for securities, and interested in politics only as they affect credit, in a recent issue refers to the certainty of President Roosevelt's election as justifying a higher rating of American securities. Incidentally it remarks: "President Roosevelt has conducted the government in such a manner as to win golden opinions from all sorts of people. Never has the prestige of the United States stood so high abroad as it stands at present. And at the same time there is universal confidence in the moderation of that government." While people in this country care little for what is thought of us abroad, it is a manifest advantage to every American interest that our government commands universal respect. Inasmuch as one of the arguments of the Democratic party in favor of a change is that President Roosevelt is a mischief-maker and a disturber of the peace of the world, it is a pertinent fact that the whole civilized world takes just the other view and regards his ability and moderation as a great security to the world's welfare.

Allegheny Graft.

Another start has been made on the Allegheny graft cases by the arrest of Police Captain James Wilson. It is promised that other cases will follow in short order, as rapidly as the careful attorneys are satisfied they have sufficient testimony to warrant making informations. The result is apt to be a series of sensational proceedings.

While it would be out of place to comment upon the innocence or guilt of the persons who have been arrested, in advance of their trial by jury, it is proper to say that the reputation of Allegheny for graft extends far beyond its borders. The expose of Allegheny made by Josiah Flynt through the columns of The Gazette, three years ago, made clear the practices that prevail on the North Side. The protection of disorderly houses was among the least of the offenses then charged. The protection of thieves was among the more serious and it is a fact that this charge is generally accepted as true by the police and criminal elements of other cities. Such being the case, the graft investigation may be regarded as only fairly begun.

As an indication of how Allegheny is regarded elsewhere the following is quoted from the Altoona Gazette of Wednesday: "Chief Tillard thinks this man, as well as those who did the pickpocket work on the night of the Fairbanks rally, belongs to the gang of crooks and thugs who are making their way to Allegheny, where many of them spend the winter. Scores of them spend the winter in the low resorts on Robinson street and the Pittsburgh and Allegheny detectives usually ignore their presence, as they are generally comparatively well behaved while there." This was said with reference to a subscription swindler who worked the Mountain city.

It is to be hoped the investigation now under way will go deep enough to uncover the graft that protects criminals who find safe refuge in Allegheny while they prey upon other towns, particularly those in the Pittsburgh region. The system ought to be broken up.

Mismanaged Finances.

The city of Pittsburgh finds itself in an embarrassing position again from the mismanagement of its fiscal affairs. There can be no question of its solvency, but on account of the wretched manner in which its resources are handled it is unable to pay its debts as they come due. Even with funds in its treasury they are not available for the most urgent uses, and there is no way out except to borrow at interest rates more than double those received upon idle funds, or to allow judgments to stand at a still higher rate.

This condition of affairs has not come about through the operation of unusual or unexpected causes. It was predicted by The Gazette in advance when the tax and appropriations ordinances were being prepared last winter. It is in fact so constant a condition that every citizen has come to expect it toward the close of the fiscal year. The present instance differs from previous experience solely in the fact that exhaustion of resources has become apparent earlier than usual. Appropriations have been drawn upon more recklessly than ever, though caution should have been indicated by the fact that insufficient provision was made in the beginning for ordinary expenditures.

First in error were the controller and the finance committee of councils, who prepared schedules designed to make an appearance of economy rather than to meet public needs. They were the more encouraged to this course because the estimates furnished by the heads of departments were loosely made, with little reference to actual necessities. The second error was made by councils in overthrowing the schedules prepared and substituting others with less regard for the actual needs of government. These blunders perpetrated for temporary factional advantage, have been magnified by extravagant administration, especially in the department of public works, and the whole system of accounts has been confused by transfers of funds from one account to another.

The humiliating condition of the city is the joint product of a wrong system and inefficient management of the public business. The system of making estimates and providing for them is open to gross irregularity because of the confusion of responsibility. It is made to yield the maximum of misgovernment by official disregard of the public welfare. This is illustrated not only by the fact that warrants are not issued for proper accounts, but by the pending effort to sell a large issue of bonds in bulk at an unduly high rate of interest, when the money will not be needed for probably two years, possibly three, not to mention the grants of valuable franchises to private corporations for their own profit without an effort to make them pay a share of the needed public revenue.

Uniformity in Legislation.

A majority of the delegates to the Episcopal convention just closed in Boston were in favor of a canon prohibiting the marriage of any divorced person, but the narrow majority in the house of deputies was overcome by taking technical advantage of the system of voting by dioceses. No doubt some of the delegates believed that the innocent party to a divorce should have the opportunity to marry again and have the ceremony recognized by the church, but the general feeling of those who opposed further restrictions was that under the present laws such people can get married anyway and it would be undesirable for the church to exclude from its fellowship the innocent person who formed such an alliance.

The failure of the Episcopal church to take advanced ground against remarriage leaves the Roman Catholic church the strongest religious influence opposed to a dissolution of the marriage tie, for when one is married, according to its rules, as well as civil laws, the union is indissoluble. The control of this religious organization, especially over the women, does much to prevent attempts at separation, which are still possible under the civil law, though forbidden by the church.

In the meantime the laws in nearly every state differ in the conditions of marriage as well as divorce. Some of them prohibit marriage to nephews and nieces, other forbid the intermarriage of cousins, but none of these restrictions will be observed so long as couples can secure legal sanction to the union by crossing the state line. The states are more closely united than they used to be and the result is that unions forbidden in some states are performed in others every day in the year.

The same is true of conditions for divorce, which are recognized in some states and not in others, but there are always some who will take advantage of the most liberal reasons for separation. The churches can hardly expect to combat such inducements to secure decrees, especially since the civil authorities are the only ones who can severely punish infractions of the marriage law. The need, therefore, of a uniform civil law was never more apparent than now. Such regulation need not be so stringent as to refuse to marry divorced persons, but the conditions necessary to matrimony and the circumstances essential to divorce could be made alike in every state.

An American Precedent.

The demands made upon Russia by the British government are substantially the same as those made upon Spain by President Grant in the Virginius case. In that case a vessel under American registry and flying the flag of the United States was captured by a Spanish gunboat, carried into the port of Santiago de Cuba and 53 of her passengers were put to death upon the charge of complicity with Cuban insurgents. Reciting the facts of the case in his annual message, 1873, President Grant said that vessels on the high seas in time of peace remain under the jurisdiction of the country to which they belong, so that the action of the Spanish authorities was in derogation of American sovereignty. Hence, "a due reparation to the flag, and the punishment of the authorities who had been guilty of the illegal acts of violence were demanded." The instructions sent by Secretary Fish to Mr. Sickels, our minister to Spain, contained the following passage.

Condemnation, disavowal and deprecation of the act will not be accepted by the world as sufficient to relieve the government of Spain from participation in the just responsibility for the outrage. There must be a signal mark of displeasure and a punishment to which the civilized world can point, and which other subordinate or local officials will have cause to look to as a beacon on a dangerous rock, to be forever after avoided.

It will be seen that this directly contravenes the doctrine which Russia is now asserting that if punishment may seem proper it "must be taken upon the spontaneous initiative of the emperor's government and that a demand from a foreign power that Russia shall punish her officers cannot be entertained." We made Spain entertain just such a demand and act upon it. Gen. Burriel was ordered home and tried for the massacre he authorized. Although the bombardment of the Hull fishing fleet was not marked by the intentional ferocity of the Virginius affair or by so great a carnage, it is in some respects more culpable. The Virginius was in fact fitted out in aid of the Cuban insurrection and had the passengers been apprehended within Spanish jurisdiction we should have had no specific ground of complaint. The Hull case is analogous to the act of some policeman who, while crazy drunk, opens fire upon a street crowd and gives as his excuse that he thought that there were criminals in the crowd who were seeking to do him.

If Russia adheres to the position she has assumed the danger of a collision between Russia and England is imminent. The firing upon the Hull fishing fleet was itself an act of war. The movements of English fleets indicate that the government is preparing for action. Under ordinary circumstances it might be assumed that Russia will yield the point, as Spain did in our case, but the circumstances are peculiar. Russia has been beaten by Japan, finds it impossible to recover lost ground and is confronted by the humiliating necessity of lying down before an oriental power whom she had previously scorned and slighted. With England also as an antagonist there would be no such humiliation. Holy Russia would then yield to overwhelming odds and could appeal to the sympathy of her people in her hour of trial. A contest with England would hardly add to such difficulties as those which now beset her. The war would be short and sharp, like our Spanish war, and Russia would stand to lose only the worthless Baltic squadron, which she hardly knows what to do with. These circumstances constitute the real point of the present situation, for it is hardly likely that England will recede from her demands. She certainly cannot do so without national disgrace.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—That the Roman Catholic church has in the value of property used for ecclesiastical purposes surpassed the wealthy Protestant Episcopal denomination in this city was made known today in the annual summary of the Federation of Churches. Census figures in the past have shown that the Catholics here were not so well equipped as the Episcopalians, and the figures are a source of surprise to those who have followed the trend of religious life in New York. The statistics have been prepared by an organization supported by Protestant churches exclusively, and are issued for the purpose of keeping its constituents informed as to the exact status of the various communions.

Investigation shows that the ecclesiastical and charitable tax exemptions in the city amount to $216,694,195, of which $185,028,876 are used entirely for religious purposes. The total amount of church property owned by Protestants is $114,970,255, while the Russian Orthodox church has possessions amounting to $102,900. The total "non-Roman" holdings, says the report, excluding Hebrew statistics, amounts to $115,072,255. The total Catholic holdings exempt from taxation are $55,582,065, or about half of the total for all Protestant churches in the metropolis.

Protestant Episcopal holdings in New York are $53,000,450. Next to the Episcopalians come the Presbyterians, their exemptions being given as $16,714,100.

Here's a New Game of Hookey.

That they were tired of going to school was the reason given today in the children's court, Brooklyn, by three small boys for setting fire to a school building. To an extent they have gained their end, for the little prisoners were remanded to the care of the Children's society until next Tuesday for examination on a charge of arson. Policeman Tait, who arrested the youngsters after making an investigation of the cause of the school building fire, told Justice Fitzgerald the boys had admitted to him that they had set fire to the building last night in the hope that attendance at school would not be necessary.

Stops His Own Funeral by 'Phone.

While the sexton of the First Reformed church of Hackensack was digging a grave for John H. Wygant, and the young man's wife was putting on her mourning gown and arranging her widow's veil, Wygant called her up on the telephone and announced that he was still in the flesh. The members of Mr. Wygant's family, including his father, his mother and his wife, not only believed him dead, but had identified a body in the Hoboken morgue as his. The dead man had been killed in the Lackawanna railroad tunnel, and friends of the Wygants who saw the body notified the family. Notices were issued and the rector was waiting the arrival of the cortege when he got word John H. Wygant was still alive. Mrs. Wygant said the body in the Hoboken morgue was a perfect double of her husband.

Tiffany Is a Little Short.

Burnett Tiffany, who recently brought an action against the custodians of a trust fund left for him, to obtain an increased income, claiming he could not live on less than $30,000 a year, suffered the inconvenience of four deputy sheriffs in his house all last night. Horner & Company, furniture dealers, obtained a judgment against Tiffany some time ago for $3,711. Deputy Sheriff Porges was sent to the house to levy on the furniture. The maid told him Mr. Tiffany was out, and Mrs. Tiffany was too ill to see him. She slammed the door in his face, and he left after being told that the furniture was in Mrs. Tiffany's name.

Horner & Company then put up a bond of $10,000 to indemnify the sheriff, and Proges was again sent to levy. With four deputies he visited the Tiffany home, at 125 West Eighty-eighth street, and obtained entrance through a basement door that had been left unlocked. Porges levied on the furniture and withdrew, leaving his four deputies in charge. Two of the deputies are still there, awaiting settlement of the affair.

Is Anti-Race Suicide Candidate.

Lively campaign work is the order of the day in the Eighth assembly district. Louis Freidel, the Republican candidate, is after the seat of his rival, Bennett Siegelstein, who was nominated by Tammany, and the latter is busily trying to roll up as large a majority for himself as possible. The Republican candidate is making his campaign along several lines of attack, and his friends are adding fresh, if not greatly important, claims for support. As one of them put it today: "Mr. Freidel deserves support for many reasons. Besides being a friend of labor, a union man and all that, he is married and has three children, and he is the first married man of family that has been nominated by either party in this district for 10 years. Why, one of our campaign slogans in this district is 'Freidel is married.'"

Vaudeville Dog Proves Himself.

Charles Woodford, who owns a troupe of performing dogs, has been doing a turn with them in local vaudeville houses during the week. Meanwhile he and the dogs have been living in their private car, Lulu, which is sidetracked in the Pennsylvania yards in Jersey City. Today a man was discovered leading away a valuable member of the company. The man with the stolen dog reached the Cortlandt street ferry just as a boat was pulling out. He made a jump for it and landed. Policeman Murphy, hearing the shouts of Woodford and his assistant, also jumped and promptly took charge of the fugitive and the dog. The boat went back to the Jersey shore, and in a surprisingly short time the prisoner was arraigned before Justice Higgins in the first criminal court. There the dog was put through his poses by Woodford to prove ownership, and the prisoner was held for court.

Speeding Automobiles.

There is reason to believe that some of the fast passenger engines will soon be bought from railroad companies, fitted with rubber tires and a horn, and sent flying over the country roads in an effort to lower the speed records. They will be rather safer than the 90-horse power machines now let loose, as they can be seen better and they will be more merciful, as travelers run over will be killed instantly and not, as is now often the case, left to suffer.—Franklin News.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Please hear my query; this is it—
As good as six in seven
That men to men for thought submit—
Will horses be in heaven?

The noble creatures! Tell me why
When fair and true their story
Of serving God until they die,
They'll have no place in glory?
—Frank Britt.

Nonsense, do you say?

You are no lover of the horse if you can't wish it a place in heaven. And if you are too selfish to allow animals, particularly those that serve you faithfully, to enjoy blessed peace and rest in that boundless eternity to which all life tends, what are your chances for a high place?

There is no selfishness in heaven—there can't be, for where selfishness is heaven is not. They are extremes opposed one to the other.

What is the difference between the life that animates you and that which animates the horse? Is it not merely a difference of potency? Are not both from the same fountain?

And, after all, is it not merely the difference in potential that causes the great variety we see in animal life? And is not vegetable life the same life that animates and vitalizes everything, differing only in potential?

* * * * *

The man who loves horses and dogs and women is built on safe lines.

There are men who like these for the use they can make of them; but such men would own slaves and drive them day by day as long as their services were profitable, and then turn them out.

All men who fancy good horses and dogs may not make model husbands, but model husbands are usually fanciers of these animals.

And yet there are good people who feel a bit suspicious of a preacher who drives a fast-stepping team, or allows a respectable looking dog to walk along the street with him.

This brand of good people are like sermons filled with vengeance, fire and things most dreadful. Their God is terrible and terrifying rather than loving and lovable.

Hasn't it ever occurred to you that to love God is to love His manifestations in the material world? And what are His manifestations if not the things we see and know and can appreciate? Are not those willing, helpful servants, the horse and dog and cow, together with the grain, fruit and flowers that grow up out of the earth, and the sun and air above the earth, and the waters beneath, the more tangible manifestations of God?

If you love not these, and do not appreciate and cultivate them, what evidence have you that you love God at all?

The heathen mouths praise and mumble prayers to their ideal gods, who are always terrifying to look upon and terrible to think of.

As you love and appreciate the gifts of God, so is your love to Him.

* * * * *

Have you ever ridden behind a pair of fast steppers, borne on rubber tires over roads with just roughness enough to give variety to the jaunt?

If not you have no right to testify concerning horses, nor do you know the value of good roads, nor can you perceive the religion there is in driving over the country on missions of love, pleasure or business.

Should you happen in Waynesburg on some fine day, and should Editor McKay invite you to ride behind his pair of fine blacks, don't decline if you are a Christian. He is one, and one of the anointed, for he is a preacher, not only by general acceptation, but by virtue of the several degrees taken in college and theological seminary.

That he is a good preacher is amply proven by the good works he has done; also by the calls that come to him from Cumberland Presbyterian churches.

Why he should prefer to edit the Waynesburg Daily Times rather than accept such a soft snap as some of these calls represent is a mystery to many, and especially to those who would like to live well without doing much work.

You will soon discover that Doctor McKay, for he is a doctor of theology, is built for a strenuous life, and so strongly built that way that he would make a good hunting companion for Roosevelt. He delights in resuscitating dying churches, building temples of worship where none have been, and in working where there is plenty of hard work to do. Soft snaps are never sought by those enjoying a strenuous life.

The ride down Ten Mile creek to Jefferson is just hilly and humpy enough to keep you wide awake. However, no one possessed of a living soul could grow drowsy spinning along through such lovely scenery, across rich farms, around splendid hills, and among derricks and gas-pumping stations.

No, indeed! Only those whose souls are dead could drive here unmoved and not inspire the very breath of heaven. For, as you know, or ought to know, the breath of heaven enwraps the beauties of nature, and when breathed it inspires our love for the beautiful, the true, and the good.

The old mills and the dams above are gone, or remain only as views. But even these relics will recall the time when as a boy you went to mill perched on a sack of grain thrown across the withers of a tried and trusty horse. And then as you wind up a steep bit of road you will be reminded of the trouble you often had in keeping the sack of grain or meal from sliding off over the horse's tail.

These things are pleasantly thinkable now, but were not so then.

And as you round into Jefferson you are met with a view of the Baptist college that was, but is no more. And then you dash into the old town, one of the oldest in this section of the state; nor will you stop to question its age, for it is your senior by many years, therefore you pay it the respect due on that score.

Jefferson, however, is quite a neat, clean country village, and not one of the run-down-at-the-heel sort to be found in boom sections after the boom has passed.

* * * * *

Just here Dr. McKay will tell you the interesting part of the town begins, and thereupon pulls the blacks off the mud pike and turns down a narrower road which leads through a fertile valley and then up a long, long hill, and so high that when you get to the top you feel that you are higher than anything in sight, except it be the Blue Ridge mountains, which seem to form a dark, unbroken enclosure around a broad and picturesque valley which might have been a playground of the gods, judging from the artless manner in which hills and mounds and groves and streams are scattered about.

That hazy, yet formidable view of mountains is full 15 miles distant, and you could see much farther in some directions if you had a field glass, but you don't want to see farther, because there is more in sight than you can take in, being far more and better than is offered by many of our noted resorts.

High as the hills are, they are cultivated to their tops and yield bountifully, while the folk who live among them are sheltered in comfortable and even spacious houses.

Another long hill-road leads down to Muddy creek, which is so clear that it is not clear to you why it is called muddy.

A handsome new church, modern in architectural design, art glass windows, and finished as well as are many city churches, suggests civilization, culture and religious training.

But while still contemplating all this the doctor reins up in front of Bert Long's barn and asks to see that prize saddle horse. It is brought out; also a saddle mare that any queen might be proud to own. And so intelligent, too. All you have to do is to tell her what gait you prefer, and off she goes at a trot, pace, lope or walk.

Beauties they are—far more beautiful and lovable than some people, and more beautiful and loving, too.

* * * * *

"Will horses be in heaven? No."
You say with shocked expression;
And yet why treat the subject so?
Look first at Revelation.
John saw them there, red, white and black;
Once there, why not forever?
You say such reasoning is slack
And cannot call it clever.

Judge Parker plans to address a mass meeting in New York city next Monday. The nominee's managers have now decided that he shall enter actively into the campaign, and they announce that he will appear as the principal speaker next week at mass meetings in New York, Connecticut and New Jersey.

Judge Parker will make his speech at Madison Square garden Monday night at a meeting held under the auspices of the Parker and Davis Business Men's association. Isidor Straus will be chairman of the meeting. Hoke Smith, former secretary of the interior, will also speak at the garden that night. At Newark Tuesday night the nominee will be the principal speaker at a mass meeting held by the Parker and Davis Constitution club and the Lawyers' Club of New Jersey. Judge Parker's third speech will be made at Hartford, Conn., Thursday night, November 3. He will be present at a mass meeting in New York city Wednesday night, November 2, under auspices of Parker independent clubs. While Judge Parker will not deliver a speech at the meeting of the independents he will attend the reception and will be present on the platform. He will continue his conferences with Democratic party leaders in New York the following Friday, and Saturday, November 5, he will go to Brooklyn, to be present at a mass meeting of the Brooklyn and Kings County Democratic clubs.

Arrangements have also been made to have former President Cleveland speak in New York and Newark. Mr. Cleveland will address a mass meeting in Cooper Union November 2, under the auspices of the Germans in New York. Carl Schurz will preside, and several prominent German speakers will be heard from the platform. Mr. Cleveland will be the chief speaker at a second Democratic mass meeting in Newark on Friday, November 4. James H. Eckles, former controller of the currency, will also address the meeting, which will be held under the auspices of the Democratic First Voters of New Jersey and the College Men's Parker and Davis association.

Francis P. Curran of Woburn, who was chairman of the Hearst Democratic state committee in Massachusetts and Democratic nominee for county commissioner, has announced that he would quit Parker and vote for Roosevelt. He sums up his reasons as follows: "I want a man, not a phonograph. I want a personality, not a shadow. I want a man who tries to do right rather than a man who thinks he will do right." Curran is one of the most influential Democrats in the state. Russell Sullivan, novelist, essayist and playwright; Otis Kimball, financier; G. F. Babbitt, ex-health commissioner; Thomas Riley, the Democratic orator, lawyer and poet, and J. T. Wheelwright have all announced their intention of quitting the Democratic presidential ranks and voting for Roosevelt. Others have not openly declared themselves, but Curran says hundreds of Bryanites will vote for Roosevelt on election day.

"Astonishment blended with great curiosity was the prevailing sentiment in all sections over the defensive statement issued by the Standard Oil Company. The curiosity, however, was not gratified in the slightest degree, for the source whence the statement came had dried and there was not a word of explanation obtainable," says the New York Herald. "Wall street ascribed the statement to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., whose religious tendencies are well known, but at the same time it pointed out that there are Standard Oil groups in control of properties other than the great corporation. Miss Ida M. Tarbell, a magazine writer, who compiled a history of the Standard Oil Company, declared she had only written what she had found, mainly on sworn testimony."

Of the late Postmaster Van Cott, the New York Sun says: "Consolidation Van Cott's best qualities furnished the opportunities for the persistent and relentless attacks that were made upon him. His loyalty to his friends and political associates led him into situations in which a more cautious, more calculating and more selfish man would never have allowed himself to be involved. His mistakes originated in motives at once creditable to himself and attractive to those who knew him. He had good red blood in his veins, and his death makes a hole in the Republican party of New York county that cannot be readily filled."

\+ \+ \+ \+

News comes from Cortland, N. Y., where Judge Parker was born, that the zealous partisans who have been making pilgrimages to the house in which he first saw the light of day have been greatly angered and even shocked to find every window in the front of the building decorated with Roosevelt portraits. The house and the farm on which it stands are still owned by Mrs. Parker, mother of the Democratic candidate, but the present tenant is an ardent supporter of his opponent, and, exercising his right as a free American citizen, showed his enthusiasm by placing in each window of the house a large poster picture of Roosevelt.

Gen. Daniel Sickles has fallen into line as a supporter of the Republican ticket. At a rally in Brooklyn the other night he said:

"I'm an old Democrat, but I can't vote for the Democratic nominee for president. Parker stands upon almost the identical platform of Bryan in 1896 and 1900. It's true that Parker sent a telegram about the gold standard, which Bryan had repudiated. But a telegram does not make a platform. It only binds the sender, but it does not bind the receiver. I can't support Bryan's substitute. Parker wants to haul down the flag in the Philippines."

Congressman Burton L. French, in speaking of the political situation in Idaho, says: "Idaho will give Roosevelt the largest majority ever given a candidate in the history of the state, and the Republican state ticket will be elected by a big majority. The Democrats have attempted to make Mormonism an issue and, if their charges were true, it would be a serious question. They are not, however, and are a disappointment even to those who make them. They are made merely for political effect and to cover up the splendid popularity of Roosevelt's administration. They have made no specific charges of the practice of polygamy and confine their statements to generalities which are unworthy of consideration."

Allegheny Police Official Under Bail on Two Charges Made by Woman.

GRAFT INVESTIGATION SURE

The first active step in the investigation into the graft charges against Allegheny police officials was taken yesterday by the arrest of Police Capt. James Wilson. Wilson is charged with extortion and aiding and abetting a disreputable house. County Detective Robert G. Robinson swore to the informations before Alderman S. J. Toole and Constable Joyce served the warrants. The first information charges Wilson as follows:

On or about said date, fraudulently and corruptly, and in violation of his official duty, did demand, receive and take, from one Nellie Snyder, the sum of $35, the said Nellie Snyder at, and before said time, having been the keeper of a disorderly house and a place where intoxicating liquors were disposed of without a license on River avenue, in the city of Allegheny, agreeing therefor and therefor to secure to the said Nellie Snyder permission and license and privilege of opening, maintaining and conducting a disorderly house and place for the sale of intoxicating liquors without license, to the great nuisance of the said community, and in violation of the statute in such case made.

The second information charges that James Wilson, for hire and reward, aided and abetted Nellie Snyder in opening, maintaining and conducting a disorderly house.

The Snyder woman formerly kept a house at 519 River avenue, and asserts she was driven out of the city because she refused to pay the police the money demanded by them. It is further alleged she got into difficulty by telling other women she had paid money to Wilson. In her affidavit she declares another police official of Allegheny offered her money if she would steal some diamonds from the trunk of a woman named by the officer, who showed a key that would fit the lock.

Constable Joyce met Capt. Wilson in Federal street shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Wilson informed Joyce that bail bonds were in the office of Magistrate Abernathey, to which place Joyce proceeded. It was evident that the arrest of Wilson was anticipated, for the bonds were ready, signed by Thomas M. Marshall, the attorney. It was found, however, that bail to the amount of $500 only had been furnished in each case, while Alderman Toole had fixed $1,000 as the sum required in each case. Joyce again found Wilson and took him to the office of Aldermon Toole, where the bonds were satisfactorily executed. Mr. Marshall again affixing his signature.

Capt. Wilson denies having had any dealings with the Snyder woman, and says he is eager to have his character cleared of any such charge.

Mayor Wyman, when asked about the case yesterday, said:

"I don't know anything about it."

He said Wilson would not be suspended, but would continue wearing his uniform and performing his regular duties until it was proved that he was guilty of misdemeanor. Wilson's case will be heard at the December term of court.

DABRYDINO HANGED.

Slayer of Mary Mucenska Was Executed in the Jail Yard for His Crime.

Albert Dabrydino was hanged in the jail yard yesterday morning for the murder of Mary Mucenska, May 28, 1903. Looking at the sun, the condemned man mounted the scaffold and an instant later was swinging at the rope's end. His neck was broken by the fall and 11 minutes later he was pronounced dead. His body was turned over to his brothers and will be buried this morning.

Dabrydino met his end calmly. He was led from his cell by Deputy Sheriffs Edward Swartwood and Samuel Grenet. At the foot of the gallows he kissed the crucifix which was held to him by the Rev. L. M. A. Miskiewicz of St. Adelbert's church, South Side. Deputy Swartwood adjusted the noose and black cap and Sheriff Dickson sprung the trap.

Dabrydino shot and killed his sweetheart because she refused to marry him. The crime took place at her home, 150 Pius street, South Side. He brought her to this country from Poland and defrayed her expenses on her promise that she would wed him. The girl obtained employment here and told Dabrydino she preferred work to marriage. At the trial he said he intended to shoot himself, and the girl in trying to prevent him was accidentally shot in the struggle. The jury discredited the story.

MUSIC LOVERS MISSED A TREAT

Concert for Colored Industrial School Proved a Musical Treat.

Lovers of music in Pittsburgh missed a treat last evening when they failed to attend the concert given in Old City hall for the benefit of the Western Pennsylvania Industrial Home for Colored Children. The musical program was one of unusual excellence and the literary end was carried out to perfection. None but negroes took part in the program.

The feature of the evening's entertainment was the singing of Miss Bessie Jones, a really remarkable mezzo-soprano. She has a voice of peculiar richness and power, and her rendition of several particularly difficult selections was a revelation to those who had not heard her before. The singing of the John Wesley choir, under the leadership of G. M. Washington, was particularly fine, as was the piano performances of Miss Anna Perkins and Mrs. A. L. Anderson. Only a small audience was present, but the sale of tickets was large, so the results for the school will be good.

The school was founded in 1902 by the Rev. George W. Kineald, formerly pastor of the John Wesley church in this city. It is located in Lawrence county, about four miles from New Castle. It is the first negro industrial school north of Mason and Dixon's line.

M'KEESPORT AIRSHIP MAN WILL NOT FLY TOO HIGH

John Shaffer of the McKeesport police force claims to have solved the problem of aerial navigation. He has been at work on a model which he declares will be successful when tested. Shaffer's idea is that airships will never be operated at any great height owing to winds that at times even prevent the flight of birds. He says aerial navigation at a height of from 50 to 100 feet is a probability. The inventor will shortly arrange for a public trial of his device.

WILL SACRIFICE CUTICLE FOR HIS SISTER'S SAKE

In order to save his sister from disfigurement Charles McAttee of Spring street, McKeesport, will give up a large portion of his cuticle. Sadie McAttee was frightfully burned by her clothes catching fire. At the McKeesport hospital she is now recovering. The burns left a raw place in her neck which the physicians say will not heal unless healthy skin is grafted over it.

Traffic Club Dined.

The Traffic club of Pittsburgh signalized the opening of their winter season of social events with a beefsteak dinner in Hotel Schenley last night. Nearly 100 guests assembled and listened to addresses by A. W. Strost, H. A. Jaggard, D. T. McCabe, J. M. Belleville, W. C. Loree, F. A. Butterworth, T. B. Montgomery and J. T. Walsh. Short talks by members and an entertainment by the Lone Star quartet were other features.

Is Charged With Embezzlement.

August J. Heptall of Cambria county was arrested yesterday in Homestead by Constable Alexander Covert of Johnstown on a charge of embezzling $687, which, it is alleged, he collected and failed to pay in. He had been working in the Homestead steel works and claimed that he paid the money to his parents, who were to settle.

PEOPLE STILL FILE PROTESTS

Letters Flood Commissioners' Office Over Proposed Court House Changes.

SUCH ACTION IS UNNECESSARY

Protests continue to pour into the office of the county commissioners anent the proposed desecration of the court house by the addition of more stories. Not a day elapses but finds further marks of the disapprobation with which this proposed act is viewed by an indignant populace. The mail of the county commissioners is filled with letters protesting against the change and offering substitutes which will not only bring about the relief which the county officials seek, but will preserve in its entirety and original beauty the structure which marks a bright spot in building progress in the county's history. The following letter found its way to the office of the commissioners yesterday:

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 27, 1904.

Mr. James Evans, Commissioner, Allegheny county, Pa.

My dear Mr. Evans: As one of the lifelong citizens of Allegheny county, I cannot but feel, with the civic pride I have in this district, that it would be a great mistake to destroy the beauty and proportions of our court house by making any external changes in the building or by adding more stories to its height. It is the one masterpiece of architecture in this section of the country and through it Mr. Richardson's work has had a great and good influence on all our surroundings.

I do hope the irretrievable mistake will not be made of adding to the building, as I read in the press is proposed. All whom I come in contact with, that I have heard express themselves, and there are many, voice this sentiment. Surely such an extension of the building, at best, could but afford a temporary relief and other buildings would have to be erected, sooner or later, on nearby property. Why not take this into consideration now and have the property on the Diamond street side and Fifth avenue side acquired and a grand court of honor designed, for gradual development as the county requires it? Of course, the expense will be objected to, but these properties will all bring in rentals that would carry their cost until needed. The county is rich and growing richer every year, and can easily afford it, and I am sure such an accomplishment would bestow everlasting honor and fame on the present commissioners for their farsightedness, wisdom and good taste.

We will, perhaps, all agree that it is unfortunate that the magnificent Frick building, in its great height, overshadows the court house, but to raise the height of the court house, which cannot be done without destroying its harmonious beauty, will not improve the matter. For instance, no one would think of raising the height of the beautiful, classic and simple treasury building in New York city, or the famous Trinity church there, to make them suit better their great, high surroundings.

We are sadly in need of civic pride in this community and each citizen should do what he can to build it up. This, I assure you, is my only motive in writing, and I have no other interest to further. Very truly yours,

D. L. BROWNE.

MONEY COMING IN.

Controller Says Enough Is in Sight to Pay October Expenses.

"There will be enough money in the city treasury to pay the bills of city officers and employes and all bills of the current month," said Controller John E. Lerkin yesterday. "By industry we are getting money from sources generally neglected. For instance, I have had the city auditor hustling around among the holders of switch privileges and they are paying some of the money they owe.

"There are other little sources, and although none may constitute a large fund, yet in the aggregate they amount to considerable. I predicted that there would be no money in the city treasury near the middle of November, and I have seen no reason to change my opinion."

WHY APPENDICITIS?

Why is appendicitis so common today?

Because we have got into the pernicious habit of eating too fast.

Dr. Curtis, the great authority on this disease, says: "Appendicitis often follows the eating of a very hasty, or particularly large or indigestible meal."

It is an accepted, scientific truth, which admits of no dispute, that if you will only keep your digestive apparatus in good order, you will never suffer from this dread disease, which, at best, means a weakening operation, with long weeks wasted in bed, and big doctor's and surgeon's bills to pay as souvenirs.

Keep your appendix in health by the proper use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, whenever you have laid yourself open to danger by overeating, and upon the least sign of stomach or intestinal trouble, for otherwise, at any time, this dangerous disease may lay you low.

The curative influence of this great medicine is quickly shown in the gentle, soothing effect it has on all inflamed conditions of any part of the digestive tract.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets tone all these parts up to a proper condition of perfect health, and regulate their functions into a proper working state.

They also make away with all the causes of irritation, inflammation or indigestion, by helping to dissolve, digest and assimilate, or put to proper use, all the food which is lying around in odd corners of your digestive apparatus, fermenting, rotting and curdling, like so much garbage in a dirty sink.

In these natural and perfectly simple ways, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets restore all sufferers, from any form of dyspeptic trouble, to health.

They are safe and reliable. They never fail to relieve and cure, quickly and permanently.

Use them, and you need never worry about your vermiform appendix.

DEATH REUNITES AN AGED COUPLE

Widow of the Rev. John K. Melhorn, Who Died a Week Ago, Answers Last Summons.

LOSS OF HUSBAND WAS FATAL

Death again visited the Melhorn home, 237 Fourth avenue, Homestead, yesterday, this time to summon Mrs. Isabella C. Melhorn, widow of the Rev. John K. Melhorn, who died last Thursday after an operation at Passavant hospital. Mrs. Melhorn was aged 75 and had been in failing health, the result of her advanced age, for the last three months. She was confined to her bed at the time of her husband's funeral and the sad news of his demise caused her condition to become critical and her death had not been unexpected.

The Rev. and Mrs. Melhorn had been active in Lutheran church circles in Western Pennsylvania for over 50 years and both were well known in this section. Four years ago Mr. Melhorn observed the 50th anniversary of his ordination to the ministry and a short time later the couple celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage, surrounded by their children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Melhorn was born in West Middlesex, Washington county, Pa. She was a daughter of David Hill, a pioneer of Washington county, who, in the early days when pikes were the popular highways of travel, operated a line of stage coaches and freight wagons on the old National pike. Mrs. Melhorn actively assisted her husband in his work as pastor of congregations which he served at Masontown, Fayette county; Freeport, Pa.; Grace Lutheran church, South Side, and St. John's Lutheran church, Homestead, which he organized, and from which he was buried last Saturday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held over the remains of Mrs. Melhorn at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Rev. John Yount, pastor of St. John's church, Homestead, will officiate. Mrs. Melhorn's remains will be interred beside her husband's in the South Side cemetery after the services.

She is survived by eight children, as follows: Mrs. P. W. Hirt of Erie, Pa.; W. E. Melhorn of Knoxville; Mrs. E. G. W. Dietrick of New York city; Mrs. C. S. Miller of Independence, Kan.; Mrs. R. C. Rankin of McKeesport, and Anna, Etta and R. S. Melhorn, at home; also by many grandchildren. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Anna Heilman of Washington, Pa., and Mrs. N. L. Vandike of Freeport, Pa., and a brother, Dr. R. M. Hill of Fannington, Pa.

Reuben Reese.

Reuben Reese, Sr., aged 69, of Carlin station, died at the home of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. C. W. Reese, at Summit, Crawford county, Pa., on Wednesday. He was born in Etna and at an early age moved to Chartiers township, where he lived until his death. His son, C. W. Reese of Summit, died three weeks ago while the father was visiting his home. Mr. Reese was a member of Guyasuta lodge, No. 513, of Pittsburgh; Commandry No. 1, Knights Templar, and Good Intent Lodge No. 29, A. O. U. M. Funeral services will be in charge of the Knights Templar, who will be assisted by the Rev. David Flannegan of the West End Methodist Episcopal church, of which Mr. Reese was a member. In 1883 Mr. Reese married Miss Katherine Obey, who with three children, George M. Reese, Reuben Reese, Jr., and Mrs. Frank L. Andrews, all of Pittsburgh, survive.

Mrs. Anna Mulhearn.

Mrs. Anna Mulhearn, aged 53, widow of Charles Mulhearn, died yesterday at the family home, 538 Talbot avenue, Braddock, of heart trouble. She was born in Ireland and came to America 42 years ago with her parents, who settled at Chardaville, Pa. The family removed to Braddock seven years ago. She was a member of St. Brendan's Catholic church, Braddock, and is survived by five children, James, Mrs. John F. Mulhearn and Miss Nora Mulhearn, all of Braddock, Mrs. John McIntch of Charleroi, and Mrs. William Williams of Fayette City, Pa.

Henry Threnhauser.

Henry Threnhauser, aged 56, died yesterday at his home in Baldwin township from typhoid fever. He was born near the farm where he died and had spent nearly his entire life in Baldwin township. He was a member of St. Wendelin's Roman Catholic church, Lafferty hill. He is survived by his wife, whose maiden name was Miss Mary A. Koffler, one son and four daughters. Funeral services will be held in St. Wendelin's church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Samuel Laird Love.

Samuel Laird Love, aged 29, died yesterday morning at the home of his father, John S. Love, Swissvale avenue and Race street, Edgewood, of peritonitis after an illness of two weeks. He was employed at the plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in East Pittsburgh. His parents survive. Funeral services will be held over the remains at his late home at 2 p. m. this afternoon. Interment will be made in Allegheny cemetery.

Mrs. Thomas Bott.

Mrs. Rose M. Bott, aged 27, wife of Thomas Bott, died at her home in Tenth avenue, Homestead, Wednesday night after a long illness. She is survived by her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Early, four sisters and two brothers, all of Homestead. She was a member of St. Mary Magdalen's Catholic church.

Obituary Notes.

E. L. Phillips, aged 38, manager of the Phillips Canning Company, at Kent, O., died suddenly yesterday. He leaves a widow, who was formerly Mrs. H. L. Zwidinger of Pittsburgh, whom he married two years ago.

Mrs. Christina Yessel, aged 22, wife of Charles F. Yessel, is dead at her home, 1401 Coal street, Wilkinsburg. Her husband, a son, her mother, Mrs. Ma ia Pears n of Linn, Mass., and one sister, Edith, in Sweden, survive.

James Carney, aged 34, a member of the local police bureau, is dead at his home, 4310 Lawrence street, Lawrenceville, of pneumonia. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church, and is survived by his widow and three children.

Oscar F. Jenkins, aged 77, died at his home at Wellsville, O., Wednesday night. He was formerly a conductor on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad and later ran a flour mill, retiring from business about 15 years ago. Mrs. Joseph Goss of Rochester, Pa., is a daughter.

Mrs. Bessie M. Frantz, wife of Harry M. Frantz of the Cumberland (Md.) Fruit and Produce Company, and a daughter of Mrs. Annie E. Grove of Homestead, died Wednesday, aged 25. She leaves one brother, Ellis Grove of Chicago, one sister, Miss Myrtle Grove of Homestead, and two daughters, Thelma and Gretchen.

PENROSE'S EYE ON THE HOUSE

Is Keeping a Sharp Watch Over Developments in States's Close Districts.

WANTS REYNOLDS TO WIN

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, PA., Oct. 27.

While Chairman Penrose feels very confident of making a congressional gain instead of a loss in this campaign, he is keeping in very close touch with the situation in all of the close Pennsylvania districts. Col. W. R. Andrews, secretary of the state committee, said this evening:

"Chairman Penrose and the state organization realize it will not do for Pennsylvania to lose a single congressman. The Republican majority in the national house at present is only 31 members, and a change in 16 districts would give the Democrats the control of the next house. They would elect the speaker, who would appoint a Democratic chairman of every committee, and would be able to block all legislation desired by the Republican national leaders.

"We are at this time giving especial attention to the fight between John M. Reynolds and Joseph Thropp, in the Bedford-Blair-Cambria district. We believe Mr. Reynolds is sure to win, but desire that every Republican of his district should put his shoulder to the wheel and work for his success.

"Mr. Reynolds, by reason of his four years' service as assistant secretary of the interior, will be a very valuable man in the lower house of congress. He knows the needs of Pennsylvania and its requirement of a protective policy. It is true Mr. Reynolds was formerly a Democrat. He became a Republican in 1896, and has since worked faithfully and consistently for his party.

"Mr. Thropp, the Democratic candidate, claims to be a protectionist and a Republican along national lines. It stands to reason, however, that should he be elected, he would vote with the party which elected him, and that his ballot would be cast in the organization of the house for the Democrat nominated for speaker. He would be obliged to do this as a matter of party principle, and for the further individual, selfish reason of securing personal recognition on the important committees.

"When it is remembered that a change of 16 districts in the 45 states in the union would result in a Democratic majority, some apprehension must exist as to a close vote in the organization of the house. One vote either way may possibly decide the speakership. Mr. Thropp should not be given the opportunity of casting that vote. I do not believe that the Republicans of Bedford, Blair and Cambria are willing to assume the risk which their support of Mr. Thropp would involve."

Chairman Penrose cordially approved the sentiments expressed by Mr. Andrews. He said that while in his opinion all of the congressional districts now represented by Republicans were in good shape, it was vitally essential that nothing should be left to chance.

DEDICATION OF A SCHOOL.

Sterrett Sub-District Has a Handsome New Temple of Learning.

The Park Place school building, in the Sterrett sub-district, Twenty-second ward, in Braddock avenue, near Penn avenue, was dedicated yesterday. During the afternoon the building was thrown open for public inspection and a large number of the residents of the district visited it.

In the evening a large crowd assembled in the new building, where addresses were made and music rendered. W. J. Fleming, secretary of the Sterrett district, presided. The principal speaker was Dr. S. B. McCormick, chancellor of the Western University of Pennsylvania. He spoke on "Good Citizenship and the Development of Power." Addresses were also made by Dr. A. R. Van Fossen, pastor of the East End Presbyterian church, and the Rev. W. T. Silveus, pastor of the Second Cumberland Presbyterian church.

The Semple school building, Wilkinsburg, will be dedicated this evening.

NOT READY TO TALK.

W. S. Guffey Has a Secret Meeting of His "Graft" Investigators.

Wesley S. Guffey, who is at the head of a movement to investigate councilmanic "graft," yesterday held a secret meeting of his co-workers. This announcement was made after the meeting:

"A meeting was held this afternoon. It was decided to give nothing for publication at present. The organization has not been perfected yet. Subscriptions are still coming in. Hereafter names of subscribers will not be published."

Lawson Says Denial Is Only Technical.

No further attention is being paid by the management of the Westinghouse interests to the statements of Thomas D. Lawson of Boston in regard to his claim of saving the Westinghouse concerns from a raid by the "Morgan branch of the system," as Mr. Lawson terms it. Mr. Lawson has made another statement decrying the denial printed a few days ago to his claim that he represented the Westinghouse people in this matter. He says that Westinghouse officials as individuals secured his services and paid him and that the denial that the "Westinghouse Company" did not have any relations with him is only technically correct.

Railways Company President Gives Reasons for Complaints Against the Service.

HOPEFUL OF IMPROVEMENT

"We are now in the throes of the change from summer to winter cars, and that change always produces trouble," said President James D. Callery of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, when asked to explain the overcrowding of Pittsburgh cars at present.

"The summer cars have a seating capacity of 45 to 55, while our standard winter cars, although theoretically capable of furnishing seats to 28, rarely seat more than 24 or 26 at the most. People do not sit right to allow it.

"Our main complaints concern the cars during the rush hours. That problem has been aggravated in the past year or so by the changing of the hours of closing the Pittsburgh stores. Formerly the stores were open until 6 o'clock. Now they close at 5:30 and that throws their employes into the same hours of returning home that the office people use, between 5 and 6. All of this business comes with a rush. Up to 6 o'clock the cars can scarcely hold the crowds. At 6:10 the rush has subsided and the cars have the appearance of a Sunday morning.

"There are many reasons why it is impossible to supply the demand satisfactorily during those rush hours. One reason is that we cannot keep men to run the cars merely for the two hours a day. If we did so we should be using constantly green men just when the most experienced men are needed.

"Our main trouble is with people working in the city and living in residence suburbs like Bellevue and Avalon. Do the best we can, there will always be overcrowding of the cars at the rush hours to such suburbs, although the service we are giving to these towns now is an excellent one in the number of cars used.

"We are looking forward to much help from the new power plant at Brunots Island. Two of the five units there are in service and have made an almost unprecedented record in the perfection of their construction and design. They are so well built that immediately after being turned over they could be put into service and their record has been excellent. One of these units is supplying the power for the West End cars. The other is lighting all of the West End and re-enforcing the Thirteenth street station. The remaining three units are to be finished within 30 days and will supply power for the cars on all of the South Side and Allegheny, and re-enforce the supply for downtown Pittsburgh, as well as the Allegheny County Light Company.

"Our East End service will be improved on account of the demand on the present power plants being lessened. The storage batteries at East Liberty and Oakland will not, however, be discontinued. They will be kept ready for emergencies. Without them I do not believe we could ever have operated the Pittsburgh Railways Company. They were the first move made to increase the power supply after the present company was formed. The batteries are charged at night and during the less busy hours of the day, so that they can be called into use when needed. Their capacity of 10,000 horsepower is sufficient to carry the East Liberty load for half an hour and the Fifth avenue and Forbes street load for one hour. They take up the overload on the power houses."

In regard to the West End service, Mr. Callery said that this cannot be materially improved until the improvements on the Point bridge are completed and the West End cars can be removed from the Smithfield street bridge. Along West Carson street and on the bridge the cars are subject to many delays and the route is seven and one-half minutes longer. When the Point bridge is again fit for use, he says, the service will be better than ever, as the increased power supply will enable the company to operate the cars more satisfactorily.

HONORS FOR M'QUAIDE.

Superintendent of Detectives Asked to Make Address at Meeting of Ohio Police Officials.

Honors have been thrust upon Supt. McQuaide of the Pittsburgh bureau of detectives. The handsome and efficient thief-taker has been invited to make the principal address before the convention of the Ohio Police Chiefs' association, which meets in Toledo on November 15. The invitation was brought to the city yesterday by Detective Jacob Mintz of the Cleveland detective force, who is a member of the board of governors of the association.

The topic on which Supt. McQuaide is desired to discourse is "The Catching of a Thief," something with which he is generally accredited with being familiar. The Ohio association is made up of high police officials from all of the large cities of the state, and Supt. McQuaide is the first man outside of the state ever invited to speak at the convention.

NEW BATTLESHIP READY.

Date Set for New Jersey's Launching. Missouri Found to Be Badly Damaged.

QUINCY, MASS., Oct. 27.—The Fore River Shipbuilding Company announced today that the United States battleship New Jersey, under construction, will be launched Thursday, November 10. The ship will be christened by Mrs. William B. Kinney, daughter of Gov. Franklin Murphy of New Jersey.

A board of naval officers began an inspection today of one of the high-pressure steam cylinders of the United States battleship Missouri. The cylinder has been found to be cracked at a point where, under full steam, there is a pressure of 225 pounds to the square inch.

WANTED HIS WIFE SENT TO MORGANZA FOR LIFE

"Please send my divorced wife to Morganza for life," pleaded David Harvey, colored, of Collier street before Alderman Negley last night. According to Harvey, Catherine Smith, his former spouse, has taken possession of his home and guards it with a shotgun, threatening to shoot him or burn him alive if he returns. A warrant for her arrest was issued on his information charging disorderly conduct.

Cashier of Failed Bank Indicted.

AKRON, O., Oct. 27.—The grand jury today returned an indictment against Aaron Wagoner, cashier of the Akron Savings bank, which failed last April. He was indicted on two counts for perjury and two for making false pretense. It is reported that other employes were indicted. The jury made a special report, which will be given out later. Wagoner is president of the board of managers of the Ohio penitentiary.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. Addison Rudesill, for more than half a century well-known residents of this city, this week celebrated the 58th anniversary of their marriage, the event occurring at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Harry White. Both are strong and hearty and expect to celebrate many more anniversaries of their marriage. Fourteen children have been born to them, of whom five survive. The are: Mrs. Harry White, Frank and Fred Rudesill of this city, William J. Rudesill of Los Angeles, Cal., and Miss Gevien Rudesill of Brooklyn, N. Y.

OVER 100,000 MALES KILLED IN REBELLIONS

Missionary Talks of Colombia and Panama—Americans Are Welcome.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The Rev. J. G. Tousseau, a graduate of Washington and Jefferson college in the class of 1883, who has been a missionary in Colombia and Panama, returned to Washington today. In speaking of the country he said:

"During the revolutions of the last five years more than 100,000 men and boys have been killed out of a population of less than 3,000,000. The continued war has diminished the male population to such an extent that a law has been passed shortening the prison terms of convicts in order that the country may be repopulated. The continued war has demoralized business. The money system is corrupted and the currency has so depreciated that a dollar is now worth but a penny."

Mr. Tousseau said the natives welcome the advent of the United States engineers and canal builders and expect to reap a harvest through the construction of the big Panama waterway.

Shaffer Wants Wright's Place.

Theodore J. Shaffer, president of the Amalgamated association, is a candidate for the position of commissioner of commerce and labor, now held by Carroll D. Wright. Over a year ago Mr. Wright tendered his resignation, but will continue in office until his successor is appointed.

AIRSHIP SAILED WITH STRING TIED TO IT

Operator Intimaes, Too, That He Prefers o Run it in the Warm Weather.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 27.—Floating gracefully in the air at an average height of 30 feet above the heads of the several thousand spectators, the airship designed and built by T. C. Benbow of Columbus, Mont., today made what the inventor declares was a successful trial flight. After navigating the air for 15 minutes, during which he directed the prow of his vessel toward all points of the compass, slowly descended to the ground near the starting place.

While Benbow appeared to have absolute control over the machine, an anchor rope about 50 feet long was used, one end of which was held by an assistant during the flight.

Benbow said: "I had intended making a trip over the fair grounds, but found that the rapid condensation of gas was fast reducing the lifting power. I intend, if the weather permits, to make a practical demonstration tomorrow, and I will make the start in the middle of the day, when the atmosphere is warmer."

Fined for Kissing Girl.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Richard Ambush of Canonsburg was this evening heavily fined and ordered out of town and told that if he ever was brought before the magistrate again he would be sent to jail, because he kissed a pretty girl on the street against her wish.

Mrs. Haskell, Worthy Vice Templar, Independent Order Good Templars, of Silver Lake, Mass., tells of her cure by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: Four years ago I was nearly dead with inflammation and ulceration. I endured daily untold agony, and life was a burden to me. I had used medicines and washes internally and externally until I made up my mind that there was no relief for me. Calling at the home of a friend, I noticed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My friend endorsed it highly and I decided to give it a trial to see if it would help me. It took patience and perseverence for I was in bad condition, and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nearly five months before I was cured, but what a change, from despair to happiness, from misery to the delightful exhilarating feeling health always brings. I would not change back for a thousand dollars, and your Vegetable Compound is a grand medicine.

"I wish every sick woman would try it and be convinced."—MRS. IDA HASKELL, Silver Lake, Mass. Worthy Vice Templar, Independent Order of Good Templars.

When a medicine has been successful in more than a million cases, is it justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me"?

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, and sick and discouraged, exhausted with each day's work. You have some derangement of the feminine organism, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as surely as it has others.

Mrs. Tillie Hart, of Larimore, N. D., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: I might have been spared many months of suffering and pain if I had known of the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a few months sooner, for I tried many remedies without finding anything which helped me before I tried the Vegetable Compound. I dreaded the approach of the menstrual period every month, as it meant much suffering and pain. Some months the flow was very scanty and others it was profuse, but after I had used the Compound for two months I became regular and natural, and so I continued until I felt perfectly well, and the parts were strengthened to perform the work without assistance and pain. I am like a different woman now, where before I did not care to live, and I am pleased to testify as to the good your Vegetable Compound has done for me." Sincerely yours, MRS. TILLIE HART, Larimore, N.D.

Be it, therefore, believed by all women who are ill that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they should take. It has stood the test of time, and it has hundreds of thousands of cures to its credit. Women should consider it unwise to use any other medicine.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass, will answer cheerfully and without letters addressed to her by sick women. Perhaps she has knowledge that will help your case—try her to-day—it is thing

SPRANG 60 FEET TO DEATH BELOW

CORONER FAILED TO REPORT

Mrs. C. A. Lindstrom of 35 Liberty place, Allegheny, committed suicide yesterday morning at the Allegheny General hospital by plunging from a fifth-story window to the courtyard, being instantly killed. Although the accident happened at 6 a. m. and the coroner was immediately notified, the facts were kept concealed by him, and he did not even notify the Allegheny police that they might investigate the reported suicide.

Mrs. Lindstrom was 45 years old and her husband is a constructing engineer in the employ of the Pressed Steel Car Company. She had been four weeks in the hospital, suffering from nervous prostration, and most of the time was attended by a private nurse. Several days ago the nurse was relieved by a nurse attached to the hospital, but returned on Tuesday and again took charge of the patient.

At 6 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. Lindstrom complained of thirst, and the nurse left the room to get a glass of ice water in the corridor. When she returned Mrs. Lindstrom was gone, and looking out of the window the nurse saw her lying in a heap in the courtyard.

The nurse gave the alarm and the attendants of the hospital rushed into the yard. Mrs. Lindstrom was dead. No bones were broken and there were very few bruises, but blood was flowing from the woman's nose and mouth. Internal injuries caused death.

After the nurse left the room Mrs. Lindstrom had got out of bed, raised the window and the wire fly screen two feet, and crawled out on the window sill. She fell 60 feet.

Superintendent Bechtel was immediately awakened and he notified the coroner. Superintendent of Police Campbell did not hear of the accident until in the afternoon. He was very angry because he had not been told sooner. The policeman on the beat passed the hospital several times during the morning, Campbell said, and each time dropped into the office and inquired if anything unusual had happened. The news became public merely by accident, and it is said that Coroner McGeary, suspecting one of his deputies of giving the facts, spent hours trying to identify the supposed culprit.

To the Stranger Within the Gates

Here's a Tip as to How the Real Pittsburgher Always Manages to Look So Cleanly Dressed.

The clean, well-groomed appearance of the average Pittsburgher is a perennial source of wonder to the stranger in the Smoky City. Both men and women—many of them at least—seem to be immune from the grime that fills the air. They go about looking as fresh and clean as if they had just stepped from the proverbial bandbox, or as if they lived in glass cases instead of in the busiest, and, perhaps, smokiest city in the world.

The whole secret of this paradox is in the fact that wise Pittsburghers have learned that the Linnekin Company will clean men's and women's garments in a manner far superior to anything ever before known. The company has a new process, which makes garments look like new and yet will not injure the most delicate fabric. Their charges are so moderate that it is more economical to have clothes cleaned, to say nothing of the satisfaction one gets from wearing clean clothes.

TYNER ATTACKS THE PRESIDENT

Former Postoffice Official Again Asks for Vindication in Fraud Charge.

TEXT OF CORRESPONDENCE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—James N. Tyner, formerly assistant attorney general of the postoffice department, who was removed from office by the president and later tried and acquitted on charges in connection with alleged postal frauds, tonight made public the following letter sent by him to the president:

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8, 1904.

Sir—Immediately after the publication of your extraordinary "proclamation" last November declaring me guilty, without hearing or trial, of "gross corruption," acceptance of bribes and other misconduct in office, I died with you an emphatic denial of every charge in toto and asked for an opportunity to prove my innocence. You ignored this humble protest, and, after I had exhausted every means of establishing my innocence and had been promptly acquitted by a jury upon the indictments you caused to be found against me, I again petitioned you to withdraw your unwarranted "proclamation of guilt."

In reply to this I received your secretary's letter of June 24, which was so unfair and unjust, and so clearly owed its character to the exigencies of your presidential campaign that I considered it unworthy of notice, especially as you withheld it from the public. Even now I could make no reply if there had not recently appeared in a popular magazine an "inspired" article which uses the very phraseology of your letter, and which is such a deliberate tissue of falsehoods and is circulated for such an evident purpose that I cannot ignore it.

Proclamation to Public.

Your unqualified statement that I was guilty of "gross corruption" and of accepting bribes, etc., while assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, was not made in a "message to congress," as you now assert. Congress was not even in session. For obvious reasons it was made in a "proclamation" direct to the public with the usual limelight accessories. If your statements had been made to congress in the course of and as part of your official duties—though no such duty could devolve upon the president under our Constitution, as you well know—I should not have addressed you personally, but you went outside your rights and duties as chief magistrate and in defiance of every established principle of law and even without a hearing or without evidence, rashly and impetously pronounced me guilty of these grave crimes, and to these charges lent the weight of your great office. I felt that you should be given the opportunity to justify yourself or to retract.

Your accusations are false and have been proven false, but I have no further means of establishing this except by pulling you into the courts, and I have too much respect for the high office which you occupy to do this. My object in writing you was to give you the opportunity to do a just and manly act, and to vindicate yourself, not me. I do not need your vindication. I can face my eternal Judge with entire peace of mind.

Your effort to override the verdict of court and jury by a specious distinction between the crimes you say you referred to in your "proclamation" and conspiracy to defraud those crimes might be less contemptible if its unfairness and its intent were not so obvious, and if you did not know that every act referred to in the Bristow report was fully before the jury on the charge of "corruption" "bribery" and "misconduct in office." Had there been any evidence of wrongdoing it would have been offered and admitted, but there was none, and you know it.

Would Stand Trial Again.

In my letter of December 2, 1903, protesting against your unwarranted "proclamation" and defied you to produce a scintilla of evidence to support your accusations, and prayed that my life might be spared to face these charges, and now after I have gone to trial and every act of my private and official life has been laid bare and not a particle of evidence has been produced against me, you seek to shield yourself by saying that I was not tried for what you accused me of, but for something else. That this is false the records show, and you know it.

If I am guilty of crimes other than those charged in the indictments found against me, then why was I not indicted and tried for them also? And as my life is still spared me I am ready now, groundless and unjust as I know your charges are, to stand trial. Executive pressure secured three indictments against me; maybe it can procure others. No technicalities nor pleas of limitation will be interposed to prevent you from proving your serious charges. Naturally, at my age and in my condition, I have no desire to be again hailed into the criminal court, but in order to preserve my record of 40 years of public service untarnished I am willing to undergo if necessary any ordeal. I know I am innocent and you know there is no truthful evidence against me. And your statements ought not to stand.

In my several letters addressed to you I merely demanded what I conceived to be my rights as an American citizen. I am asking no favors. I wanted neither your sympathy nor that of a jury, but as for 30 years of my life I tried to do right unto others so I hoped that you might do right unto me. If any citizen of our republic can stand convicted by presidential proclamation, then law is a farce and no man's reputation is safe. You preach "a square deal to every man," why not practice it? Asking that this protest may be filed with the record of my case, I am

Very respectfully,
JAMES N. TYNER.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
President of the United States.

Roosevelt Letter to Tyner.

The letter which was sent to Judge James N. Tyner, assistant attorney general for the postoffice department, on behalf of the president, in answer to one sent by the judge to the president June 11, 1904, asking him to "right the great wrong" which he declared the president had unwittingly done him in using certain statements reflecting upon his official conduct in transmitting papers to congress in connection with matters disclosed in Mr. Bristow's report, was made public to-day. The letter is as follows:

White House, Washington, June 24, 1904.

Sir—I am directed by the president to say your letter of the 11th inst., addressed to him, was received and was referred to the department of justice for inquiry into the statements made therein, and for such report as the facts ascertained might appear to require.

A report has been received from the department of justice and considered by the president, who further directs me to inform you that the facts disclosed in such report abundantly confirm the views as to your official conduct heretofore expressed by him in his message to congress prepared after three indictments had been presented against you by a grand jury, and warrant the action in your removal from office, and do not allow him to withdrew the expression or annual the action. The president naturally shrinks from saying anything that will diminish any comfort you may have derived from the verdict of the jury, but that you was not tried for the wrong-doing to which he referred, but for conspiracy with Barrett to do the wrong; which is a wholly different matter, as one may be guilty of wrong and not guilty of conspiring to do so. Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM LOEB,
Secretary to President.

GROVE CITY CONFIDENT.

Expects to Win Game Saturday from Westminster, Its Old Rival.

GROVE CITY, PA., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—What promises to be the greatest football game of the season here will be played Saturday when the local collegians meet Westminster college. Special trains will run from Butler, Sharon, Greenville and New Castle. The students have been practicing songs and yells. The team has been put through the hardest kind of practice all week in preparation for the game. From 18 to 20 men are placed on the scrub team, yet the varsity has been able to tear large holes through the line. Coach James Marshall has had the assistance of alumni players in preparing for this game, among whom is "Bill" Marshall, the National league baseball player, who was a member of last year's football squad.

The management of the team wishes to refute the statement sent from Slippery Rock of a 6 to 0 game between Grove City college and the Normals, which was a misrepresentation, it being the Grove City Reserves instead of the college which played this game.

EDGEWOOD GIRL BRINGS RUNAWAY HORSE TO HALT

Miss Jane Kester, the 18-year-old daughter of J. V. Kester of 125 Gordon street, Edgewood, stopped a runaway horse in Edgewood avenue yesterday afternoon. Miss Kester, who saw the horse and wagon approaching, seized the horse's bridle, bringing the animal to a standstill. She escaped injury.

Markwort Has Been Found.

Charles Markwort, proprietor of the Hotel Dugan, Ellwood City, left home several days ago to come to Pittsburgh on business and his friends lost track of him. Yesterday he was located at the Mercy hospital. It developed that he had become suddenly ill and was not able to tell who he was until yesterday.

FINE TRIBUTE TO EMIL PAUR

JAMES I. BUCHANAN THE HOST

Pittsburgh last night paid a flattering compliment to Emil Paur and to the Pittsburgh orchestra. It was a step forward in the musical and social circles of the city, and the honor which the music lovers of Pittsburgh showed to the new conductor of its greatest musical organization was equal to the homage which the cultured cities of continental Europe pay to their native artists. James I. Buchanan, chairman of the orchestra committee of the Art society, was the host, and in the sumptuous reception rooms of the Duquesne club gave the representative men of the city an opportunity to meet its most distinguished musician. These men represented the guarantors of the orchestra since its inception and the officers of the Carnegie institute and the Art society.

It was the first time that Pittsburgh had paid such homage to a great musician. The guests all knew Mr. Paur as an artist, but the personal side of the man they found equally fascinating. When the occasion warrants, Emil Paur's dignified demeanor unbends with that nice propriety that marks the gentleman of the European school. He is no storyteller, but in conversation he has a sincerity of expression and manner that wins all hearers to his gentle kindliness. He can now be said to be thoroughly a patriotic Pittsburgher.

"A better band of musicians was never brought together," he said, referring to the members of the orchestra. "The harmony and the interest the men take in their work is most encouraging to a conductor. In looking forward to the execution of the work before me I feel that I have the ablest body of assistants that could be found in America."

"No doubt much is expected of the Pittsburgh orchestra. It is an institution that is famous now even across the sea, and to maintain its high standard will be no mean ambition. To make it greater and to shed new light upon Pittsburgh as a center of musical culture will deserve my best talents and the heroic labors of us all. No place in the old world can boast of such united support for the promotion of the musician's art. Pittsburgh is a young city and its art has all the virility of youth. Greater things are expected and greater things will be accomplished."

Mr. Paur's enthusiasm was shared by every guest. Among those who accepted Mr. Buchanan's invitation were:

W. L. Abbott, E. H. Anderson, R. H. Boggs, W. W. Blackburn, Charles Bickel, E. T. Botsford, James F. Burke, J. A. Brashear, A. H. Childs, Harvey L. Childs, D. M. Clemson, John Caldwell, W. G. KUROPATKIN'S ARTILLERY FLEEING ACROSS THE TAI-TSE HO

—From the Illustrated London News.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY.

Cigarmakers Celebrate 25th Year of Organization of Their Assembly.

The United Cigarmakers league, local assembly 1374, K. of L., celebrated its silver anniversary last evening in their hall, 535 Smithfield stret. John L. Frank, secretary of the assembly, officiated as toastmaster. Among the respondents were E. Magee, W. Eberly, William Smith and B. Ballard. The latter, who is the only charter member still working at the trade, was the principal speaker of the evening.

The speechmaking closed with an address by John Fernau, master workman of this district of the K. of L. All the speakers were charter members and have been active in the labor movement. Dr. A. J. Barchfeld, candidate for congress, was a charter member, but was unable to be present. Some of the members are too old to work, and the assembly intends giving them honorary membership cards.

Young Conley is Buried.

The remains of John Conley, aged 15, who was mistaken for a burglar by his mother, who shot and killed him last Saturday morning, were buried yesterday in Calvary cemetery. Funeral services were held over his body at St. Francis de Sales Catholic church, McKees Rocks, in the morning, the Rev. Father C. J. Covne, the pastor, officiating. The McKees Rocks band, of which the boy was a member, acted as escort at the funeral.

Officemen's Club Meets.

The Officemen's club met in its rooms at 416 Wood street last evening and listened to the reading of an instructive paper by H. E. Jacques of the Jacques Audit Company on "Funds and Their Uses as Applied to Corporation Accounting." Other papers were presented by members of the club. Fifteen new members were elected, and the club now numbers more than 120 members.

Forming New Bank for Avalon.

A meeting of the stockholders of a state bank for Avalon will be held this evening, when a location will be chosen. The incorporators of the bank will be J. H. Watt, John Wilhelm, Jr., Dr. W. J. K. Snyder, James McLaren, A. Blon Boggs, H. P. McCurdy, George B. Lewis, J. W. Cook and Samuel L. Dille. Its capital will be $50,000 and it is expected to open for business about January 1.

THINK SHE WAS POISONED.

Woman Died in Mining Camp Under Circumstances Which Warrant Investigation.

The conorer was notified last night of the death of Roxey Robinson, a colored woman, who is employed as a cook in a mining village back of Castle Shannon. The woman is believed to have been poisoned. Her sister, Hester Frazer, went to the morgue last night and said the woman complained of having a toothache Wednesday night. The miners gave her some medicine. She was taken ill and yesterday morning became unconscious, dying at noon without medical attention. This morning the coroner will investigate.

John Grimm, aged 32, of Pleasantville, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday from injuries received by being struck by a train on the West Penn railroad at Brackenridge station Wednesday.

Mrs. Thomas Evans of 335 Thirty-third street, who was burned yesterday at Scottdale died last night. She was visiting friends, and was boiling some water, when she fainted and fell across the stove.

Peter Conley, who was found in a hallway at 533 Fifth avenue at noon yesterday, died last night. A bottle which had contained tincture of opium was found by his side, and it is supposed this drug caused death. He was a stableman.

John Lewis, aged 60, was found yesterday with his neck broken lying outside of his shanty boat in the Ohio river at McKees Rocks. He had been drinking and is supposed to have fallen off the steps of his boathouse to the shore.

Frederick G. Hauff, aged 36, of Craig street, Allegehny, died at the Homeopathic hospital yesterday from a fractured skull, received by a fall at Third avenue and Smithfield street at noon yesterday. He was a carpenter and was identified by his brother, Henry Hauff of 1522 Sedgwick street.

Will Push Larkin Mandamus.

The fact that City Solicitor Rodgers has allowed 15 days to elapse since Controller Larkin filed his answer to the city's petition for a mandamus to compel him to advertise for the issue of filtration bonds, gave rise yesterday to the suspicion that Mr. Larkin's charges of fraud and corruption had scared off the mandamus seekers. Mr. Rodgers says the city will request the court to set a date for hearing the mandamus. The request may be made next week.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN.

Local Assembly of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew Holds Annual Meeting.

Addresses were made by Hubert Carlton, general secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, and by Edward Criswell of the national offices, at the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh assembly of the organization held last evening at Trinity parish house.

BANKER FACES ARSON CHARGE

Chicago Financier Alleged to Have Tried to Defraud Insurance Company.

HEAD OF $2,000,000 CONCERN

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Isaac N. Perry, president of the National Bank of North America, capitalized at $2,000,000, was arraigned today on two charges which allege that he set fire to his property—the Chicago Car and Locomotive Works, at Hegewisch, Ill., for the purpose of defrauding insurance companies.

Evidence of incendiarism against Perry, leading practically up to the point where the match was applied, is in the hands of Corporation Counsel Tolman. A sensational feature of the case, developed today, is the discovery that Perry has filed with the insurance companies no claim for any portion of the $172,000 insurance carried on the Hegewisch plant.

L. H. Baldwin, former president of the company, said that Perry had applied for increase insurance, greatly overstating the actual value of the plant. Frank Bock, engineer of the plant, testified that Baldwin had told him of this and repeatedly warned him to be on his guard.

"Those inflated values mean something. Guard that plant as you would your life. Don't let any one in the buildings alone, not even Perry," was the warning given by Baldwin on one occasion, according to the engineer.

Bock's testimony recited that Perry had peremptorily ordered combustible materials to be stored among the buildings of the plant, which were of such construction and so separated that fire would scarcely have spread from one to another without intervening combustible matter.

INSPECTING RAILROADS.

Grand Trunk System Officials Traveling Over United States Lines.

A party of Canadian railroad officials arrived in Pittsburgh last night on a tour of inspection of United States railroads. Among them were F. W. McGulgan, traffic manager; D. C. Jones, Toronto, superintendent of the middle division; W. G. Brownlee, superintendent of the western division; M. C. Sturtevant, special agent, and A. B. Walton, all of the Grand Trunk system.

They came in on the private car St. Lawrence and registered at the Henry. They will leave this morning over the Pennsylvania railroad for Altoona, and will be accompanied by officials of that road.

ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVE TO HAUL HEAVY TRAINS

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 27.—A big electric locomotive, the first of between 30 and 50 designed for use in the New York city terminal and tunnel of the New York Central & Hudson River railroad, was given a successful test near here today. Trains of 10 or more cars may be hauled by machines of its type at a speed of 60 to 70 miles an hour.

Ticket Sale Ends Saturday.

But two days remain in which to secure season evening and afternoon seats for the series of Pittsburgh orchestra concerts, Emil Paur, conductor. These seats can be bought at Hamilton's direct from the plan of the hall. The evening prices are $20, $15 and $10; the afternoon prices, $15, $10 and $8. This season's ticket sale will positively close Saturday night at 5 o'clock.

The single ticket sale will open at 9 a. m., Monday, October 31.

STOCKS ARE AFFECTED BY BRITISH ATTITUDE

Declines Registered in All Leading Active Issues—U. S. Steel Heavy.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Stocks broke badly today and the security market was feverishly affected by the warlike news from the British capital. Declines were registered in all the leading active issues of from 1 to 3 points. The fluctuations were most erratic throughout the entire day's business, the up and down movements in prices being the direct reflection of the current dispatches from St. Petersburg and London. All commodity markets were affected also, thus revealing real anxiety in the financial and commercial world concerning the critical relations between the two great European powers.

Practically every stock on the list opened down from 1 to 2 points. Special heaviness was exhibited in United States Steel, which opened at 8⅜, or more than a point down. The news that the Pressed Steel Car Company had not declared any dividend on the common stock served only to intensify the extent of the selling movement.

GRADUATES MEET PROFESSORS

Alumni of University of Pennsylvania Holds Annual Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Pittsburgh alumni of the University of Pennsylvania was held at the Monongahela club in Fourth avenue last evening. More than 100 graduates of the school were present. There was no set program to interfere with the good time. The guests of the evening were Dr. John Marshall, former dean of the university; Dr. William Romaine Newbold, former dean of the school of philosophy; Dr. James T. Young, dean of Wharton school of finance, and William Draper Lewis, dean of the law school.

The cheering announcement was made to the members of the association that Dr. Joseph Wharton has doubled his endowment to the school of finance and that branch of the university is now domiciled in the old medical school building. There are over 300 students in that school this year and it is one of the most successful departments of the university.

Are to Meet Again This Evening.

Bishop H. M. Turner will meet with the congregation of Bethel church, Wylie avenue and Elm street, in an effort to settle the trouble which has arisen in that church, this evening. He met with the official board of the church last evening and Bishop W. B. Derrick served his ultimatum to the effect that no change would be made in his appointments as he had already made them.

Pennsylvania Hotel Men Meet.

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The Pennsylvania State Hotelmen's association opened its sessions here tonight in the Rider theater. NO RINGERS ON CALIFORNIA TEAM

Physical Director Sends His Lineup and Vouches That All Are Students.

LOUIS HINKEY IS COMING

The California State Normal school last night set up the claim, through H. W. Harmon, director of athletics, that all of the members of its football team are students. More than that, it went into details, by naming its lineup for Saturday's game with W. U. P. at Exposition park, giving the class of each player and telling the department in which he is a student. The lineup is practically the same as in the game with W. & J. two weeks ago, and by offering it California shows that it is prepared to defend itself against the Washington (Pa.) charge that its great showing against W. & J. was made by using non-students.

The announcement several days ago by Coach Moose that he was prepared to play any team California might send and would not question the eligibility of any of its players, seemed to settle that matter, but yesterday some excitement was caused by the report that Chancellor McCormick of Western university had asked California for information about its players.

Coach Moose and the W. U. P. Athletic association know that Chancellor McCormick is taking a keen interest in the attempt to restore Athletics on a solid foundation and they also know that he insists upon keeping the college boys out of competition with athletic clubs, but they did not suppose that he would keep so well posted. While they hope that California will not be prevented from putting its best team on the field if they are rather pleased in the knowledge that the faculty is taking the trouble to keep tab on their doings and to put a proper restriction upon athletics. The California faculty has not sent a formal reply to Chancellor McCormick, but when the news of the protest was received Director Harmon helped to restore order by giving his lineup Saturday and declaring that every player mentioned in it is a student.

The lineup and record which he sent is as follows: Left end—Jenkins, evening business class; Drum, music. Left tackle—Hall, business department, class '06. Left guard—Stark, business department, class '06. Center—Gray, normal department, class '07. Right guard—Fry, normal department, class '07. Right tackle—Martin, business department, evening class. Right end—Coulson, normal department, class '06. Quarterback—Harmon, professor of physics and chemistry and director of athletics. Left halfback—Smith, business department. Right halfback—McCleary (captain), normal department, class '06. Fullback—Farr, business department. Substitutes: McPhail—normal department, class '07; Dewer, normal department, class '07; Cameron, normal department, class '06.

In his letter to Coach Mosse Director Harmon says: "Most of the members of the California Normal school faculty will be in Pittsburgh Saturday to attend our game at Exposition park and you will have an opportunity then of asking them about any of our players."

Mosse said last night that the Western university cannot very well go behind the report of Director Harmon, especially if a member of the faculty confirms it to Chancellor McCormick. He declares that there will not be any wrangling on the field Saturday. "If the two faculties do not come to an understanding by that time we will go ahead promptly at 3 o'clock. I have not been told by any member of the Western university that our team will not be permitted to play California even if we know that some of the players are not students and I am sure that the mere statement from California that its men are students will satisfy our faculty. Our players want California to have its best team on the field, and their wish will be gratified. The players think they have a chance to force me to give the theater party that I promised in the event of their beating California by more than one touchdown and thus outshine W. & J."

A member of the Western University Athletic association received a telegram last night to the effect that Louis Hinkey will be here Monday morning to begin the work of helping Mosse to coach the W. U. P. line. Hinkey was landed with the aid of a Yale man, who made the suggestion when he heard that W. U. P. was hunting for a coach. The athletic association practically offered the position to Hinkey on his own terms and his consent was obtained last night. He will be here in time to do the line some good before the election day game with West Virginia.

NORMALS SHAPING UP.

Expect a Hard Game With W. U. P., and Will Be in Shape.

CALIFORNIA, PA., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The heavy Charleroi team was taken on for a try-out this afternoon, the Normals making good gains with little effort. The game was more in the nature of practice, attention being paid particularly to defensive work. The Normal coaches are apprehensive of the line's work on Saturday and are working hard to round it into shape. It is heavy and speedy, but lacks firmness of organization.

The result of the game between W. U. P. and Susquehanna has startled the admirers of the Normal aggregation into the belief that hard football will have to be put up by it on Saturday if a good showing is to be made. The team itself manifests no fear. All questions of position have been finally settled, the official line-up being given out this afternoon. It will be as follows: Drum, right end; Jenkins, right tackle; Pyre, right guard; Gray, center; Hall, left guard; Martin, left tackle; Coulson, left end; Harmon, quarterback; Smith, left half; Farr, fullback; McClary, right halfback.

Sanville Defeats Central A. C.

The Sanville A. C. beat the Central A. C. last evening, 24 to 7. Lineup:

Sanville A. C.—24.		Central A. C.—7.
Rosenfeld	F.	Weis
Tocas	F.	Kurber
Harris	C.	Vincent
Mazer	G.	Ferguson
Rosenthal	G.	Gallows

Field goals—Rosenfeld 5, Tocas 4, Rosenthal, Kurber 2. Goals from foul—Vincent 3, Rosenfeld 4. Referee—G. Weis.

HIGH SCHOOL-SHADYSIDE DETAILS NOT YET SETTLED

Pittsburgh High school and Shadyside Academy representatives had a warm meeting yesterday afternoon arranging details for their football game scheduled for November 19. Propositions advanced by the High school were not acceptable to Shadyside in their entirety. High school wants the officials chosen 10 days before the game, substitutes on the side lines limited to five men and no coaches on the side lines during the game. The matter of dividing the gate receipts was discussed. At the close of the conference none of the questions were settled. High school also wants halves less than 35 minutes.

The Shadyside players practiced hard yesterday afternoon. Jay Hall, a former halfback, joined in the work. Manager Carl Borntraeger has booked a game with the Scottdale eleven Saturday, to be played at Scottdale.

Capt. Arch Williams is amused at the protest of W. U. P. against the California Normal clashing "ringers." Says Williams: "Shadyside, a prep. school team, played California, and we did not protest any of their players. The score was 12 to 6 against us, and had it not been for spectators slugging Patterson and breaking up the game we should have won, as we had secured the ball on downs on our 25-yard line and bucked it down to the Normal's 30-yard line when the game was stopped."

Bennett May Coach.

Pittsburgh High school is carded to play a team representing Allegheny High school this afternoon at the Colosseum. Word has reached Pittsburgh that Allegheny has secured players from the Peabody, N. C., and if this is true the game will not be played. The Pittsburgh boys do not like the idea of playing at the Colosseum, when Friendship park is a better place.

Robert Bennett, a former High school half and for two years captain of the State college eleven, has volunteered his services to Prof. Cooper to aid in coaching. He may be secured.

Assistant Manager Grier of Allegheny last night stated that Allegheny has no outside players on the team, and it will be a strictly Allegheny High school eleven on the field this afternoon. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock.

M'CHESNEY GOES SOUTH.

Sam Hildreth Will Try to Bring Great Racer Around All Right.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—It is more than likely that the east has seen the last of McChesney, the western crack, as he left New York at 8 o'clock this morning for Montgomery Park, Memphis, not Lexington, Ky., as has been reported. McChesney is being sent to Sam Hildreth, the well-known western owner and trainer, who seems to be able to do more with the son of MacDuff than any other trainer.

Of all the horses that have ever come here from the west McChesney has been the greatest disappointment. He came last year heralded as a world-beater and his owner, E. E. Smathers, was anxious to race him against Water Boy. J. B. Haggin's crack, which was the champion of the all-aged division last season, but while being trained for the race with Water Boy, McChesney met with an accident. During his stay here last year he won only one race, this being the Twin City handicap, when he managed to catch E. R. Thomas' crack Hermis a trifle off and beat him. This season McChesney has made several efforts to win a race, but in all was unsuccessful. Hildreth will handle a big string of yearlings at the Memphis track this winter.

W. & J. Fears Geneva.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Six varsity players were unable to get into the playing at W. & J. College park this afternoon. A weak scrub was out and the practice was a ragged one. The coaches are discouraged over the outlook for the game next Saturday with Geneva. Stuart, Sutter, Roy and Seip are the worst injured and Stuart may not be able to play for several weeks. "Jack" Flowers had charge of the back field men today and the work in this department is showing improvement. The scrub made big holes through the crippled varsity and scored one.

Shadyside Calls Off Game.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Manager Jamison of Washington High school team received a telegram today from Manager Borntrager of Shadyside academy stating that Shadyside could not play the local team at Pittsburgh tomorrow as scheduled. Washington High school is endeavoring to get a game for Saturday with the Wilkinsburg High school or Pittsburgh college scrubs. The Washington and Jefferson academy team had final practice today prior to the game here tomorrow with East Liberty academy.

Glenshaw Five Wins Game.

The Glenshaw basketball team won from the Sharpsburg Independents last night, at Sharpsburg, 14 to 11. Score:

Glenshaw—14.		Sharpsburg Ind.—11.
Strouss	F.	Riddle
Fogal	F.	Neff-Kurt
Rector	C.	Fichter
Leight	G.	Dunn
Myers	G.	Walker

Field goals—Strouss 2, Fogal 3, Riddle Neff, Walker. Fouls—Fogal, Fichter 3, Riddle 5. Referee—Fedler.

MINOR LEAGUES ADD NEW CLASS

It Will Advance Three Leagues, and Will Also Increase Price to Be Paid for Players.

CONTRACT JUMPERS BARRED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—After two days of routine business and sightseeing, the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues today took the most important action of its present convention when it added what will be known as class AA. The association voted, after much opposition on the part of the lower class leagues, to add the new class, subject to the approval of the national commission, and the national board of the association was empowered to appear before the national commission in January in favor of the proposition.

Heretofore the association has consisted of classes A, B, C and D leagues. Class A was privileged to draft players from any of the lower classes on payment of an established fee, and the two major leagues, the National and American, which are parties of the first part to the national agreement, were privileged to draft from all the association classes. In the past the fees for drafting players from the four classes were $750, $500, $300 and $250. If the national commission approves the action taken today the fees for drafting from class AA down to class D will be $1,500, $1,000, $750, $500 and $400 respectively.

All but the proposed class AA and class A leagues opposed the change on the ground that they have too many players under the four class rule, and the addition would subject them to further drafting. The high fees were adopted as a sort of compromise with the opponents of the new class. If approval is received by the national commission, class AA will be composed of the American Association, the Pacific Coast league and the Eastern league, and class A of the Southern and Western leagues. All were formerly in class A except the Southern league, which has advanced from class B.

The national board of the national association will meet the members of the national commission in Cincinnati in January. The national board today elected George Tebeau of Louisville, of the American association, chairman, and J. H. Farrell of Auburn, N. Y., of the New York State league, secretary. The other members of the board are: Eugene F. Bert of San Francisco, president of the Pacific Coast league; Howard C. Griffith of Jersey City, of the new Eastern league; T. J. Mahane of Boston, president of the New England league, and M. H. Kavanaugh of Little Rock, president of the Southern league.

The association voted to depart from its rule not to play exhibition games outside of national agreement clubs. Games will be played with semi-professional, professional and amateur clubs when such games do not conflict with the schedule, but not with the clubs which contain blacklisted players or players who are otherwise ineligible to play on national agreement clubs.

Though already stringent, the rule concerning the employment of a "contract jumper" was more tightly drawn in that a player who hereafter jumps a contract will be forever disqualified.

It was also decided that a player loaned by an association club to another association club must play with the latter through that season, and that he cannot be recalled by the club loaning him.

It was voted to meet next year in San Francisco. Denver made a bid for the convention and the Eastern leagues renewed the invitation to meet in New York city. Final adjournment was taken this afternoon.

MRS. ROHRBACHER WON.

Captured Edgeworth Subscription Cup. R. P. Nevin Also a Winner.

Mrs. J. H. Rohrbacher won the subscription cup in the 18-hole medal play competition yesterday at the Edgeworth club. Her score was 99-7-92. The other contestants were: Miss Carol Cochran, Mrs. F. C. Ewart, Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr., Mrs. O. D. Thompson, Mrs. W. A. Luce, Mrs. William Lowry and Mrs. George E. McCague.

The tie was also played off at the club for the Edgeworth cup and was won by R. P. Nevin, Jr., who defeated Edward Hoopes. They had each made six points in the five competitions for the cup.

Will Hold Another Meeting.

MEMPHIS, TENN., Oct. 27.—Although the fall meeting of the Trotting association has closed, announcement was made today that another meeting of three days will begin on Thursday next.

INSTALLMENT MORTGAGES.
The Peoples Savings Bank, Wood street and Fourth avenue, has plenty of money to loan on good residence or business property in Allegheny county. By its plan of installment mortgages the principal may be reduced at each interest period. Write for booklet.

HARD PRACTICE IS GIVEN YALE TEAM

Princeton Shows Strong Defense. Harvard Resting for the Quakers.

CORNELL ELEVEN ENCOURAGED

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 27.—Yale's football eleven was given its last hard practice today in preparation for the game with Columbia Saturday. The secret half was the usual routine, but a kicking game exclusively was played in the open half. The backs handled the kicks with sureness and the work was a vast improvement on anything heretofore during this season.

Veder, Hoyt and Hutchinson kicked high and for long distances. The halfbacks made ground by excellent dodging and drew praise from the coaches. Shevlin and Stewart gave an excellent exhibition of blocking that was encouraging.

Tomorrow's practice will probably be only signals and formations.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The sons of Nassau turned out in force this afternoon to watch what proved to be one of the stiffest and best practices the team has had put up for many a day. In many respects the work was encouraging to a degree. The defense was more like the sturdy barrier that Yale met in last year's battle, one which saved the Tigers from defeat when the eleventh hour was upon them. The center and ends showed unusual improvement in strength and few gains were made through either. The offense was consistently strong but not brilliant, and the gains were short, but steady.

In the preliminary practice much attention was given to the punting, in which McCormick did some particularly good work. In tests of speed, Tenney easily outstripped the whole squad. The team left this evening for Geneva, whence it will proceed to Ithaca Saturday.

Harvard.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Harvard will take things easy from now until the Pennsylvania game. She had her last hard practice before the fray this afternoon and it was as encouraging a bit of football as the Harvard men have shown this fall. The offense tore holes through the second eleven, and the defense proved as impregnable as yesterday. The coaches played a number of the new plays and kicks today in the open practice, but they were executed so quickly that little if anything was gone through them for the first time could solve them, nor is it likely that Harvard used all the plays she has developed in her secret practice of the past 10 days.

In 22 minutes of play the varsity scored five touchdowns, all of the backs getting across the line at least once. Capt. Hurley again was the star of the eleven, making a number of long gains.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The gates at Percy field were thrown open this afternoon and a parade of 500 students, headed by a band, marched to the grounds to give the varsity players a little encouragement with songs and cheers during the practice. It now seems certain that there will be no more changes in the line. Van Orman will play left end, Cook left tackle, Olerkirk left guard, Wilder center, Furman right guard, Costello right tackle and Forgy right end. Lynah, Rice, Halliday and Martinez will make up the back field.

U. of P.

AUBURNDALE, MASS., Oct. 27.—(Special.)—Owing to the soggy condition of the turf on the golf links and the danger of spoiling the same by running over it, the Pennsylvania football squad today had to practice on an old field. The Quakers place their chances of a victory on being able to hold their style of attack often enough to enable Reynolds to kick the ball out of all danger and then securing it in the Crimson territory and rush it over for touchdowns.

The talk of this being the last year Harvard will play Pennsylvania is heard on all sides here and the Quaker players are not a little incensed at the possibility. This alone is spurring them on to greater efforts for Saturday.

PITTSBURGH BOYS DO WELL IN YALE FALL GAMES

The Yale fall games were held Wednesday on Yale field and two local boys did well. Jack of Indiana Normal won the broad jump, going 21 feet 4 inches. William Knox, the former Allegheny Prep. school captain, was second, doing 21 feet 1 inch. Jack was third in the high jump, jumping 5 feet 5½ inches.

Notice to Orth.

Charles L. Orth of Braddock is to call up J. L. Roberts at the California normal school this morning.

The Hans Wagner
March and two-step goes on sale tomorrow at all music stores. A handsome full length portrait of the greatest of all baseball players, and autograph, covers the title page. It is going to be the greatest souvenir of the national game ever placed on the market. They will be humming "Husky Hans" on the streets, highways and byways within a week.
As soon as it can be arranged for orchestra, it will appear on several of the Pittsburgh theater programs, while every dancing program this winter will be incomplete without it. Price 25 cents.

The Stein-Bloch Co. Wholesale Tailors
REGISTERED 1865
A Striking Style
has returned to the foremost place in popularity among men who demand distinction in clothes. It is the Paletot, or Surtout, which was the rage among the dandies of the '20s. The Stein-Bloch smart tailors, taking this in hand, have altered and adapted its lines to suit modern taste. It is seen by scores on Broadway and Fifth Avenue, where Stein-Bloch styles have their greatest influence. A coat for men seeking the greatest effect consonant with perfect taste.

THREE NEGROES HAVE ONE HOPE

No Chance in Supreme Court to Save Their Lives, but Pardon Board Might Act.

VOODOO CHARMS FRUITLESS

Miles, Jackson and Obey, negroes, convicted of murdering John Kluzor at Loelsdale, must hang unless the pardon board interferes. Their cases were carried on an appeal to the supreme court. On Monday a motion was made to continue the cases, which meant that the arguments would not be heard at this term of court. Yesterday the court refused the motion to continue. The paper books with the arguments and evidence were not ready and it was impossible to have them prepared before the present term ends. This ends the matter, as under the opinions filed in other cases by the supreme court no further plea can be entered, the time for such action having expired.

The case of a Philadelphia woman, convicted of murder in the first degree and for whom a hard fight has been made, was argued for over two hours.

Catherine Danz, the convicted woman, is the widow of William G. Danz, a butcher, who lived in Philadelphia. He died on June 27, 1901. On March 11, 1903, Mrs. Danz was arrested and charged with murdering her husband. The next day the body was exhumed, parts of it taken away and examined. A month later the grave was again opened and other portions of the remains removed for examination. This action in the Danz case was brought about by an investigation into the death of two children, which developed that George Hossey, a negro voodoo doctor, had been selling charms to people. Mrs. Danz had been one of his patrons and her arrest followed the arrest of Hossey. Danz had been a hard drinker and had abused his family. Mrs. Danz did not deny that she had bought powders from a druggist, which she had given Danz secretly to kill his taste for liquor or that she had procured drugs and charms from Hossey for a like purpose. Hossey was tried for the murder of Danz, had no money to make a defense, and was convicted.

For Mrs. Danz the defense was set up that her husband died of natural causes; that he had been a hard drinker for years and that he was a victim of chronic rheumatism.

In the arguments yesterday Henry J. Scott, for Mrs. Danz, charged that the commonwealth had concealed evidence. District Attorney John C. Bell held that the trial had been fair and impartial and the guilt of the accused plainly established.

The other cases argued were from Allegheny county. The case of James Duffy and wife against Zug & Co. is attracting some attention among manufacturers. On September 21, 1901, James J. and Ellen Duffy, children 6 and 7 years of age, respectively, fell into a grease vat at the Zug plant. The girl recovered, but the boy died and his parents sued, recovering $2,000. Zug & Co. appealed and raised the questions of negligence and of their duty to a child who was trespassing on their property.

WEDDING AFTER TRAGEDY.

Woman Will Marry Man of Whom Her Husband Was Jealous, Leading to Attempted Murder and Suicide.

Gyula Flosznik secured a license yesterday to marry Mrs. Emi Polonyi, whose husband attempted to kill her and then committed suicide because of jealousy. The tragedy occurred last August at the woman's home, 68 South Sixteenth street. She was released from the South Side hospital last week, after recovering from the effects of a bullet in her head and one in her breast, the result of her husband's attempt to kill her. At the time of the shooting the couple was not living together and the husband became jealous of Flosznik.

When released from the hospital Mrs. Polonyi entered suit against Flosznik, the result of which was the taking out of the marriage license. Both were born in Austria. Mrs. Polonyi gave her age as 21 and Flosznik as 27.

DRUGGISTS WERE FINED.

New York Company Will Assume Responsibility for Adulterated Flavoring Syrups in Soda Water.

Alderman Groetzinger held hearings yesterday afternoon in the cases of the 20 druggists charged by Agent H. L. Banzhoff of the State Dairy and Food commission with selling soda water containing adulterated flavoring syrups.

Twelve of the defendants asked for a postponement of their cases until Saturday. John Anderson, who is the local agent of a New York company which sold them the syrups, stated that his concern would assume all liability in the matter, but that he would not know until Saturday whether the company would pay the fine and costs or fight the cases in court.

Two of the druggists paid the fine of $50 and $7 costs, and eight others, two of whom went into a hearing, gave bail for court.

AUGUST IN CRAYON.

Desk Sergeant at Central Will Have Picture in Court Room.

After his return from a two weeks' vacation on Monday, the smiling face of Sergt. August Metz will never again be missed from Central station, for Supt. Wallace has prepared for him both a surprise and an honor. Just prior to the hearings Metz will be presented with his portrait, done in crayon, which will be hung on the wall of the court room, alongside those of Capts. Reed and Dan Silvus.

Supt. Wallace decided upon having the picture hung with the other old-time officers in commemoration of Metz's long service as desk sergeant at Central. The presentation will be made by Alexander "Sandy" Clark, the dean of police reporters, who has been meeting Metz each morning for the past 20 years at the desk in the court room.

WILL HOLD FALL MEETING.

Bible School Convention of Baptist Association Takes Place in Braddock.

The fall meeting of the Bible School convention of the Pittsburgh Baptist association will be held next Tuesday in the First Baptist church, Braddock. There will be three sessions. The convention is composed of 78 schools, having a membership of 10,152. Each school elects three delegates.

The officers of the convention are: President, Richard W. Edmunds, Braddock; secretary and treasurer, H. Bainbridge, Pittsburgh; executive committee, W. E. Clarke, H. F. Donner and F. B. Youngson. There will be addresses by the Rev. F. B. Williams, the Rev. W. W. West, the Rev. Dr. W. G. Partridge, the Rev. Maurice P. Fikis and Attorney J. E. Gibson.

WILL WELCOME MURPHY.

Temperance Apostle Will Speak in First M. P. Church on Sunday.

Francis Murphy, the temperance apostle, will be welcomed back to Pittsburgh at a formal meeting to be held on Sunday night in the First Methodist Protestant church, Arch avenue and Howe street.

By the odd coincidence the Rev. Dr. J. J. Murray happens to be acting temporarily as the pastor of the church, and Dr. Murray was the pastor of the same church when it was in Fifth avenue, when Murphy first appeared in Pittsburgh. Dr. Murray will preside at Sunday's meeting.

Young People Met at Springdale.

The fall convention of the Young Peoples Christian union of Allegheny presbytery was held yesterday afternoon and last evening at Springdale. An address was made by the Rev. A. H. Baldinger of Springdale, Miss Emma D. Anderson, a returned missionary, the Rev. R. J. Miller and James A. Chambers also spoke. The evening session was held under the direction of G. Roy Remsley, at which addresses were made by the Rev. W. W. Lawrence and the Rev. W. S. Harper of Emsworth.

"King Dodo" at Duquesne.

For the first time in his career "King Dodo" and his court pageant will be seen at popular prices when he comes to the Duquesne theater next week. The comic opera stage has become overcrowded with worthless productions, and the way was seemingly dark until Pixley and Luders came forward with "King Dodo." The cast numbers 60 people and includes some of the best known singers. Among them is Miss Rose Cecilia Shay, a former grand opera song bird.

SOCIETY

MISS MARTHA DALZELL'S only attendant at her wedding on Wednesday, November 2, to William Booth Trainer, will be her cousin, Miss Adalaide Jones, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Jones, Jr. David Trainer of New York will be his brother's best man. The marriage ceremony will be performed at 5 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Dalzell, in Ridge avenue, Allegheny, by the bride's uncle, the Rev. Dr. William J. Holland. The ceremony will be witnessed by only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends, but a large reception will follow it at 5:30 o'clock. At the bridal table during the wedding supper there will be 24 covers. After the wedding trip Mr. Trainer and his bride will be at home in the Schenley, but later will go to housekeeping. Many of the wedding guests will be from out of town, and although there will be no social affairs planned for the bride-elect alone, the presence of so many visitors in the city will bring a round of small social affairs in the train of the wedding. The rehearsal for the wedding will take place on Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. John Trainer of Newlin, Pa., the parents of the prospective bridegroom, will be with Mr. and Mrs. John Booth in Sewickley over the wedding and Mr. and Mrs. George Booth of Chester will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Nevin, while Mr. and Mrs. George C. Burgwin of Craft avenue will entertain Miss Emily Roebling of Trenton, N. J. Mrs. Burroys Sloan of Philadelphia will be the guest of Mrs. A. Marshall Bell and a party of friends, including Mr. and Mrs. David Trainer of New York, John Crozer and John Reilley of Philadelphia and Mr. and Mrs. George Forbes of Chicago, will be at the Schenley.

Leslie-Parks.

Cards will reach the city today announcing the marriage of a former Pittsburgh girl, Miss Josephine Cooper Leslie, the daughter of Mrs. Emma Darragh Leslie, to Charles Todd Parks of New York, which took place yesterday in the metropolis. The ceremony was performed at noon by Archdeacon Nelson in the Cleveland suite of the Hotel Victoria. A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her young cousin, Miss Emma Bell Kelvie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Kelvie of Brooklyn, as flower girl. Mr. and Mrs. Parks left for Washington on a short trip, and will return to New York, sailing later in the season for a several months' tour of Europe. The at-home cards are for the Waldorf-Astoria. The bride, who has many friends in the city, is a member of the old Darragh family, being a granddaughter of the late Mattison Darragh, and is a descendant of Henry Clay and John Hart of New Jersey, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. She is a daughter of James Edward Leslie, a Pittsburgh newspaper man. Mr. Parks is a prominent New York business man, retired, who has made his home at the Hotel Astor.

Gutman-Faber.

Miss Josephine Gutman was given away by her uncle, George T. Robinson, last evening, when she became the wife of William M. Faber of Cleveland. The wedding took place in the First Unitarian church, Ellsworth avenue, with the pastor, the Rev. Walter L. Mason, officiating. Miss Althea Dilworth Hoffman, a school girl niece of the bride, was her only attendant, and Thomas Stevenson of this city, was Mr. Faber's best man, while the ushers included Howard E. Bidwell, Stuart Holdship Robinson, Frank Faber, Henry Holdship Robinson, Charles Clarke and J. Judson Brooks.

Immediately after the ceremony at 8 o'clock the bride and bridegroom left for a wedding journey, at the conclusion of which they will be at home in Cleveland, where Mr. Faber is in business. The bride is a cousin of Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hoffman of South Highland avenue, with whom she has been making her home for several years. She is a daughter of the late Anthony Gutman of this city. Mr. Faber, a son of the late William Faber, is a member of a former prominent Pittsburgh family.

Mead-Stran.

Very simple but exceedingly dainty in its appointments was the wedding of Miss Nellie Mead and Thomas P. Stran, Jr., which took place last evening at the bride's home in Westminster place, Shadyside. The Rev. William L. McEwan, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony at 8:30 o'clock. The bride was given away by her brother, James Jennings Mead, and was attended only by her sister, Miss Bertha Mead, as maid of honor. Miss Florence Coleman of this city and Miss Virginia McBlair of St. Louis were the ribbon bearers, two nephews of the bride, Archibald Speer and Fitzhugh Speer, the latter of New York, taking up the ribbons after the ceremony. Charles Stran was his brother's best man. After the wedding supper and reception, Mr. and Mrs. Stran began their wedding journey, at the conclusion of which they will be at home in New York. Miss Katherine Bradley of Washington, D. C.; Miss Agnes Buchanan of San Francisco and the bridegroom's three sisters, Mrs. Thomas Jones and Mrs. Curley of Baltimore, were among the out-of-town guests.

Satterthwaite-Rose.

After December 1 Mr. and Mrs. George R. Rose will be at home in Bellevue. They were married last evening at the home of Miss Ethelwyn Satterthwaite's aunt, Mrs. E. S. George, in Bellevue. The bride was given away by her brother, John H. Satterthwaite of Cleveland and was attended by Miss Edna Brinton as maid of honor and little Miss Anna May Murdock and Miss Grace MacMillan as ribbon-bearers. A small nephew of Mr. Rose, John Wesley Anderson, carried the ring, and J. P. Woodmansee of Rimersburg, Pa., served as best man. Mrs. George and Mrs. C. L. Rose, the mother of the bridegroom, received with the young couple at the reception following the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. W. A. Reuelon, pastor of the Bellevue Presbyterian church.

Geyer-Buchner.

Miss Laura Geyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Geyer of Davis and Fleming avenues, Allegheny, and Charles Buchner of this city, were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. W. J. Schoeman, pastor of the McClure Avenue Lutheran church, officiating. The bridal party included Miss Bertha Falck, a cousin of the bride, as maid of honor; Miss Dora Schweitzer, bridesmaid; Edward Geyer, a brother of the bride, best man; Harry Buchner, a brother of the bridegroom, and Frederick Geyer, a cousin of the bride, ushers. The hour for the ceremony was 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Buchner and his bride will be at home in Center avenue, Pittsburgh, after their wedding trip. No at-home days have been announced.

Wilson-Owen.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wilson, in Western avenue, Allegheny, the wedding of Miss Iva Mabel Wilson and Frank Clifton Owen took place last evening. Miss Eva Teirauf and Herman G. Buhl were maid of honor and best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. Edward Young, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are now taking an eastern wedding tour, having left after the reception and wedding supper last evening. They have announced days at home after December 1 in Western avenue, Allegheny.

Invitations for a Bellevue Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Wallace of Bellevue have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Anna Ellen Wallace, and Fred S. Diffenderfer on Wednesday evening, November 2, at 6 o'clock, at their home in Lincoln avenue. The Wallaces are a well-known Bellevue family. Mr. Diffenderfer is a member of the Pittsburgh stock exchange and the floor representative of Robinson Brothers, bankers. Enclosed with the wedding invitations were at-home cards naming Tuesdays after December 15 in the new home in Middle street, Avalon.

Entertainments for Brides-Elect.

The Country club in Squirrel Hill was the scene of two pretty entertainments yesterday, both being in honor of autumn brides-elect. Miss Elizabeth Udey of Shady avenue was hostess at a breakfast at 12:30 o'clock, her guests including those who will attend Miss Cornelia Brackenridge McKelvy and Edward Houston Bindley at their wedding on Tuesday. Miss Irene Succop of Ellsworth avenue gave a luncheon of 12 covers in honor of Miss Lyda Young Vincent, whose marriage to Almer H. Orr of Oakmont will take place on Wednesday.

Reception for Summer Bride.

There was a long line of assistants at the reception given yesterday by Mrs. Will Price and her daughter, Miss Myrtle Price, at their home in South Negley avenue. The guest of honor was Mrs. John Raymond Price, a bride of last June, and the assistants included Mrs. Louis Sands, Mrs. William Pressing, Mrs. Leon Suter, Miss Sarah Metcalf, Miss Lillian Metcalf, Mrs. Walter Herr, Miss Edna Little, Miss Mary Aiken, Miss Edith Speer, Miss Anna Duncan and Mrs. Malcolm Barr.

Dinner for Mr. Adolphe Smith.

Rabbi and Mrs. J. Leonard Levy last evening entertained at dinner at their delightful home, 1526 Denniston avenue, a small company in honor of Mr. Adolphe Smith, one of London's veteran war correspondents, who is now in this country as the representative of the London Lancet.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. J. M. Harding of Farragutt street, East End, gave a tea yesterday for Mrs. R. G. Gillespie.

Robert P. Nevin, Sr., entertained at cards last evening at his home, "Vinacre," in Edgeworth. Each year Mr. Nevin gives a euchre party, his guests including prominent men of the valley. About 40 men were present last evening. Mr. Nevin is 86 years old, but enjoys these annual gatherings as much as he ever has.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Jewish Home Life.

One of the most enthusiastic gatherings of club women this season, as well as one of the most inspiring meetings the Jewish women of Pittsburgh ever held, was conducted yesterday afternoon in the Bellefield club in Craig street, near Center avenue, Bellefield. It was the president's day of the Columbian Council of Jewish Women, and the handsome assembly room of the new club house was filled with more than 300 women, representatives not alone of the Columbian Council, but of the many womens' clubs and organizations in Allegheny county. The special guest of honor was Mrs. Rebecca Kohut of New York, the head of one of the well-known private schools for girls in that city, who spoke on "The Relation of Jewish Women to Their Home." Mrs. Kohut spoke chiefly of the beauty of Jewish home life, and the strong influence which the Jewish women have over the members of their families. She mentioned the virtues of Jewish home life, speaking particularly of the deep reverence which the children bear to their parents. The new president of the Columbian Council of Jewish Women, Mrs. Enoch Rauh, made a short address on the "Inspiration of Work," dwelling particularly on the enthusiasm which work engenders in the various fields of effort. Miss Yetta Baumgarten, delegated by the council to attend the meeting of the State Federation in Lancaster, gave a short resume of the proceedings of that convention. The music yesterday afternoon was exceptionally enjoyable. The program presented by Miss Helen Kell, vocalist, Miss Julia Gibansky, pianist, and Mr. Rofen, violinist. After the program was concluded Mrs. Rauh and the officers of the council introduced their guests to Mrs. Kohut. Under the direction of Mrs. Joseph S. Kaufman, chairman, the social committee served tea. The committee consists of Mrs. Kaufman, chairman; Mrs. A. M. Hast and Mrs. W. L. Kann, vice chairmen; Miss Caroline Blumberg, chairman of the aids; Mrs. M. Bonn, Mrs. H. B. Ferguson, Mrs. I. W. Frank, Mrs. S. B. Goldsmith, Miss Mary Gusky, Mrs. M. Hirmelrich, Mrs. Henry Jackson, Mrs. Isaac Kaufmann, Mrs. Jacob Kaufmann, Mrs. William B. Klee, Mrs. Albert Lehman, Mrs. Herman Mayer, Mrs. L. Newman, Mrs. M. Oppenheimer, Mrs. A. L. Rauh, Mrs. Jacob Siegel, Mrs. B. S. Trakerman, Miss Ella Werthsimer and Mrs. Jacob Wolf. Last evening Mrs. Isaac Frank gave a dinner in honor of Mrs. Kohut at which her guests included the officers of the Columbian Council. Mrs. Kohut arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning and returned last evening to New York. While here she was entertained by Mrs. A. Leo Weil.

Organizing a Swimming Class.

The Business Women's club is making a departure in its program for this year, and is organizing a swimming class for women. The swimming pool in the Woods Run Industrial Home has been secured for Tuesday evening of each week and the class will meet there. The books for registration for this class are still open and those desiring to join may do so at the rooms of the Business Women's club, 610 Arch street, Allegheny, during the week between the hours of 11 and 12 each day and 7 and 9 in the evenings. An afternoon class in millinery, meeting on Mondays, will also be opened should a sufficient number register.

Studying American Expansion.

The Thursday Afternoon club of Wilkinsburg held its first meeting this season in the home of Miss Mary Goldie in Trenton street, Wilkinsburg, yesterday afternoon. The president's day exercises were combined with the program for the first meeting of the season. Miss Jean Hunter, the president, made a short address; there was some excellent music, and the program of study for the year was inaugurated with a talk by Mrs. W. Frank Bremer, who spoke on the "Purchase of Louisiana." The subject of study this year is "American Expansion" and "China."

Recent experiments conducted by most eminent scientists, prove that light is a great remedial agent; it is essentially Nature's agent. It may be either sunlight or electric light, but it has a decided effect in helping nature to banish disease and restore health. Other scientific men have proved that oxygen electrifies the heart and can prolong life.

The people on this earth are susceptible to some laws which govern plant life. A plant cannot be successfully grown in the dark. A man is seldom healthy and strong who lives in the dark or in sunless rooms. After all, Nature's ways are found to be the best. Nature's remedies are always best for eradicating disease, and by this we mean a medicine made of roots and herbs. They are assimilated in the stomach and taken up by the blood and are, therefore, the most potent means which can be employed for the regaining of lost health. Dr. R. V. Pierce, consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., in many years of extensive practice, found that he could pin his faith to an alterative extract of certain plants and roots for the cure of all blood diseases. This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Containing no alcohol nor narcotics, entirely vegetable, this "Discovery" makes rich red blood and is a powerful tissue-builder, giving the tired business man or woman renewed strength and health. Rapidly growing school-girls and boys often show impoverished blood by the pimples or boils which appear on face or neck. To eradicate the poisons from the blood, and feed the heart, lungs and stomach on pure blood, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Don't allow the dealer to insult your intelligence by offering his own blood remedy to you instead of this well-known preparation of Dr. Pierce's. Ten chances to one he will substitute a cheap compound having a large percentage of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the best for the bowels. Use them with the "Discovery."

PITTSBURGH IS TO HAVE BIG SHOW AT POINT BREEZE

Frederick Ingersoll Buys the Singer Property for a Luna Park Enterprise.

By a deal concluded yesterday a Luna park attraction, second to none in the middle west, is assured Greater Pittsburgh. This time the location is the George H. Singer property at Point Breeze. The buyer of the property is Frederick Ingersoll, the amusement owner and promoter, who paid slightly over $200,000 for the holdings. The site comprises about 15 acres and is at the intersection of Fifth and Penn avenues, across from the Point Breeze church. The enterprise will be known as the Ingersoll Luna park.

At least $250,000 will be spent for buildings and improvements. Plans for the buildings are already worked out in large measure by Architects Neal & Rowland, and bids on the materials are now being received. They will be brick and steel with terra cotta fronts.

Thirty different amusements will be provided. These will be housed and made ready for operation by May 14, the opening date. The character of the amusements will be high class, and it is the aim of Mr. Ingersoll and the local capitalists interested with him to give Pittsburghers a variety of entertainment which is equal to the famous offerings on Coney Island.

STOCK MARKET BROKE, BUT LATER RALLIED

The Situation at Home and Abroad Dominated by the Strained Relations Between England and Russia—More Gold for Export.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The stock markets at home and abroad yesterday were dominated by the strained relations existing between Great Britain and Russia over the North sea incident. The rumor that Russia had refused to concede all the demands made by Great Britain and the inference that further delay was inevitable, was sufficient to cause a sharp decline in English consols, and the London market for American securities broke from 1 to 1½ per cent. This was the situation at the hour for beginning operations in Wall street. It was entirely natural, therefore, that prices here should open at large declines, and that the market should be weak and feverish. There were good supporting orders in the market, however, and sharp rallies occurred. These were succeeded by declines and rallies throughout the remainder of the day, the chief influence being rumor and report as to the status of negotiations between the two countries.

The indicators usually consulted in forecasting the future in foreign financial and political circles pointed to troubles ahead. In addition to the break in foreign government securities and American stocks on the London exchange, the Liverpool wheat market was strong and higher, and continental grain markets also advanced. There was one very reliable barometer, however, which indicated no change. This was the Bank of England minimum rate of discount. Yesterday was the regular weekly meeting day of the governors of the bank, and they permitted the 3 per cent rate to remain unchanged. The statement of the bank showed an increase in loans for the week of $10,225,000, and a percentage of reserve to liability of 53.88, against 56.53 a week ago. If the outlook were really serious the bank would not have hesitated to raise the discount rate. It may be recalled that in October, 1899, two weeks before hostilities began in South Africa, a special meeting of the governors of the bank was held and the rate of discount was raised from 3½ to 4½ per cent. Two days later, at the regular meeting, the rate was advanced to 5 per cent, and before the end of the month it was raised to 6 per cent. This is an infallible guide to foreign financial and political conditions, and no matter how warlike the official "notes" of the two governments may become in the present instance, the Bank of England rate of discount may be watched for the first reliable intimation of the actual situation. The Bank of France's weekly statement yesterday showed a loss of less than $300,000 in gold and an increase of nearly $19,500,000 in loans.

Aside from the war news the only important development in connection with the market was the advance in sterling exchange and the engagement of $2,000,000 gold for export to Paris by Saturday's steamer, with the possibility of another million being taken today. Despite this movement of the metal, call loan rates in New York remained easy, and while they reached 2½ per cent during the morning, they declined to 1½ in the afternoon and closed unchanged at 2 per cent.

One of the weakest stocks in the market was United States Steel preferred, which opened 1 per cent lower at 79¾, broke to 78½, rallied to 80⅛, but closed at 79¾, a net loss of 1⅝ per cent for the day. Pressed Steel Car common broke to 29½ on the passage of the dividend. One of the weakest of the railroads was Ontario & Western, which broke from 46⅜ to 42¾ and closed at 43¾. The absence of any announcement relative to the acquisition of control by New York & New Haven, and the rumor that a bill had occurred in the negotiations, was the cause of the weakness. At one time the whole list showed an average decline of 1½ to 2 per cent, but there was a recovery in the late dealings under the leadership of Union Pacific, which was the only prominent stock on the list that did not close at a net decline. It was reported that Union Pacific interests had disposed of their Northern Securities stock to James J. Hill on the basis of 125 a share, and that it meant a profit to Union Pacific of not less than $8,000,000. Chicago Great Western made a strong rally and closed 1 per cent higher for the day. All the rest of the list closed lower.

In Pittsburgh the market was under the influence of the weakness prevailing in New York, and closed lower. United States Steel issues led in point of activity and closed at the largest net declines. Crucible Steel closed nominally unchanged at 68⅞ for the common and at 40 for the preferred. National Fireproofing preferred was weak and closed at ½ point lower at 30½. Pittsburgh Brewing issues were also lower on the report that the company was not interested in the movement for consolidating the independent breweries. Pittsburgh Coal preferred declined to 70⅜ and closed at 70¾ bid. Pressed Steel Car declined 3¼ per cent to 30¼. Westinghouse Electric broke to 85, recovered to 84¼ and closed, offered at 84. The tone of the market at the close was barely steady.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

A Wall street news agency yesterday published a statement to the effect that the bonds authorized at the recent annual meeting of the Crucible Steel Company would not be issued until 1905, for the reason that officials of the company hoped by selecting a time of favorable state of the money market the bonds could be sold to better advantage than 95, the minimum price at which they may be offered for subscription. It was never the intention to issue the bonds this year, and at the annual meeting it was stated by an official that the company had no pressing debts that would require precipitate action. On the contrary, the company is in position to wait two years, if necessary, before any bonds would be required, but that it was thought good policy to be in a position to issue the bonds the coming year if market conditions were extremely favorable.

It was rather positively stated yesterday that the Pittsburgh Brewing Company is not interested as a corporation in the movement to consolidate the larger independent breweries. Such consolidation would be of benefit to Pittsburgh Brewing as the general way, but the company is taking no part in the movement. Brewing stocks closed slightly lower.

The interesting discovery was made yesterday that there are two "Tonopah Extension companies," both located in Nye county, Nevada, and both incorporated in the same month of the same year. The discovery was made through a certificate for stock in one of the companies being received at the Pittsburgh office of the Tonopah Extension Company, with a query as to whether the certificate was genuine. So far as known, the certificate is genuine, but it is not a certificate for stock in the company which has been so largely backed by Pittsburgh capital, and which has thus far met with extraordinary success in developing its property in Nevada. The certificate referred to bears the signatures of W. Sanders Salomans as president and Charles J. Hasman as secretary, and also the seal of the company, which has the words "San Francisco" in the circle. The certificate also shows that the company was incorporated May 8, 1902, with an authorized capital of $500,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. The company's wife Pittsburgh capital is developing was incorporated under the laws of the territory of Arizona (which fact is mentioned in the seal) on May 19, 1902, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each, and about $820,000 of the capital has been issued. Certificates of this company are signed by M. R. Ward as president and J. E. Brown as secretary. The latter stated yesterday that he had no knowledge of the other company referred to, did not know its officers nor the location of its property. From the date on the stock certificate received here, however, it appeared that the company had been incorporated 11 days prior to the incorporation of the company backed by Pittsburgh capital. It is important to brokers and dealers in the stock to know that there are two Tonopah Extension companies. The quotations yesterday on the Tonopah Extension stock in which local traders are interested were $1.70 bid, $1.80 asked. No sales were reported.

In response to the point raised on the Pittsburgh stock exchange among brokers on Wednesday that no annual meeting had been held or statement made in recent years by the Westinghouse Electric Company, friends of the latter yesterday pointed out that last September when the present stock was listed on the New York stock exchange a complete statement was filed with the application to list and that this statement was published in The Gazette at that time.

R. R. Brown, of Morris, Brown & Co., was yesterday unanimously elected a member of the New York stock exchange. The firm has been for years represented on the exchange, but the membership was in the name of J. C. Morris, recently deceased. J. E. Brown, also a member of the same firm, was on Wednesday elected a member of the Chicago board of trade.

The net earnings of Wabash for September increased $70,000.

A private message from the head of a New York house to its Pittsburgh correspondent, read: "Personally I think this market a buy right now, but I decide as the big interests are not in favor of any speculation and are discouraging it as much as possible. Think foreign situation will cause no trouble."

Ten days ago Pressed Steel Car common sold at 44¾. Yesterday it sold at 29½, a drop of 14¾ points. It is possible the stock was boomed two weeks ago for the purpose of unloading before the suspension of the dividend, which occurred this week.

For the quarter ended September 30, last, the United Gas Improvement Company sold 1,410,898,280 cubic feet of gas, an increase of 57,040,100 cubic feet.

A seat in the Philadelphia stock exchange sold this week at $8,500, an advance of $2,500 over the last previous sale a month ago.

The most direct effect of the foreign situation upon domestic affairs was in the additional engagement of gold for export to Paris. The immediate crisis in international affairs cannot be held responsible for this, which is in preparation for a further Russian loan in the regular prosecution of the war with Japan. But this influence upon the New York money situation is of importance in connection with the interior demand still in force. The threatened impairment of bank reserves is an admonition against excessive speculation at an unstable level of prices with borrowed money.

The following is the reported interview with James J. Hill by a staff correspondent of the Wall Street Journal, which attracted attention in stock market circles. Referring to the bulls on stocks, Mr. Hill is quoted as saying: "They had better be a little cautious. They may get bumped. Some railway stocks are selling for more than I would be willing to pay for them. These stocks had just as much real value six months ago as they have today, and I think one ought to be a little careful about rushing in to buy them after their market prices have advanced $20 to $30 a share. I suppose the speculators are attracted by the facility with which they can carry 4 per cent stocks in a 2 per cent market, but much of the money they are using in speculation is the idle money which the business interests of the country have no present use for because of the dullness of trade." Mr. Hill said stock market talk of a settlement of Northern Securities suit was nonsense. There can be but one settlement, he said, and that is the settlement which will result when all the questions in dispute have been finally passed upon by the courts and in which all of the 26,000 shareholders will share equally.

The New York bond market yesterday was active, sales reaching $7,395,000. The tone was weak at the opening, followed by a recovery at the close.

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—The Boston market surprised every one today by its strength. New York opened off over a point, but Boston stocks for the most part were as high as yesterday. Atlantic rallied to 15¾, one house taking 1,000 shares, traders selling almost the entire amount. Calumet & Hecla was the special strong spot, selling up 20 points. All advices on the metal are very encouraging and the copper stocks are due for a much further rise. Mohawk was sold all day, two different houses selling 500 each. The traders are bullish on the property and took most of the stock.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 5@10 points in response to steady Europ an cables and rather smaller Brazilian receipts. Following the call it soid up slightly and increased the gain to a matter of about 10 points all around. Later, however, there was renewed liquidation arising from fears of a disappointing world's visible supply statement after the first of the month and part of the gain was lost. The market was finally steady and unchanged to 10 points higher; sales were 48,500 bags, including November at 6.55c; March at 6.85@7.00c; May at 7.15c; July at 7.35c; September at 7.45@7.50c. Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Money was in much request in the market today owing to it being stock exchange payday and the joint stock banks' preparations for the month-end increased the stringency. Discounts were affected by further withdrawals of gold for Germany. Prices on the stock exchange opened weak and sensitive. Business was checked by the delay in the receipt of Russia's reply to Great Britain. The nervousness was intensified until the middle of the afternoon, when there was some recovery. The market closed rather disorganized, pending decisive news of the settlement of the North sea incident. Consols were flat. They touched 87⅝ at 1 o'clock, but improved later. Home rails generally were dull. Americans responded to the relapse in New York and continued unsettled on free selling here. The movements were irregular. Prices recovered slightly in spots, but closed flat. Foreigners were depressed. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 93¾. Consols for money, 87⅝; consols for account, 87⅝; bar silver strong, 29 15-16d per ounce; money 2½@2¾ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 2⅝@2⅞ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 2⅝@2⅞ per cent.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Prices on the bourse today opened feeble, the delay in forwarding the Russian answer to Great Britain causing a bad impression. The feebleness was accentuated as the trading proceeded, but improved slightly toward the close. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 93.75 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 511. Three per cent rentes 97f 0c for the account. Exchange on London 25f 11c for checks.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—Business on the boerse today was depressed owing to the Anglo-Russian tension in regard to the North sea incident.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Besides the two cars a day of zinc lead shipments to Canon City, the Colorado and Wyoming Development Company is sending lots of good grade heavy lead-silver ore to the sampler. The ore is said to assay 41 ounces in silver and 60 per cent in lead.

News has reached Salida, Col., of a strike on Chipeta mountain in the Monarch district. Hierzinger and Matthews of Salida encountered a four-foot vein in the Deer Trail lodge, giving assays of $24 in gold a ton. There is much activity reported in the district.

The formal transfer of the Henry Adney mine on Beacon hill has been made, but all the money has not yet been paid over. The purchase price was $110,000, which netted M. B. Burke, who held the bond and lease, close to $80,000. The heavy owners of the new company comprise John F. Champion and William Byrd Page of Denver and Lennox & Giddings of Colorado Springs. The property consists of almost a full claim, having very near 10 acres of territory. There is considerable ore in sight.

Advices from Tonopah state that at a meeting of the stockholders of the Jumbo Mining Company of Goldfield, Nev., John McKane, the personal representative of Charles M. Schwab in the camp, was removed from the presidency of the corporation. C. D. Taylor, the largest stockholder in the company, and Barton Pitman, a Tonopah broker, led the fight against John McKane.

The stockholders of the Ethel Consolidated Mining Company of Index, Wash., have received a new circular from President George B. McManamon of St. Louis, in which a new plan is submitted for protecting the stockholders in lieu of the one announced last week. In it the president states that an exchange of Ethel stock will not be required of those who wish to participate in the newly organized company. One share of stock in the Madison Lead and Land Company will be given free for each five shares

OAKLAND HOUSES SOLD FOR $28,000

Four Dwellings in Elsinore Square Are Bought by Local Investor.

BIG RENTING CONTRACT MADE

Through the office of Borland & Waddell four houses belonging to Mrs. Sallie P. E. Price of Philadelphia, in the east side of Elsinore square, between Craft avenue and Ophelia street, Fourteenth ward, have been sold for $28,000, or $7,000 each. The buyer is a prominent local investor who takes the houses for an investment. They are known as 3204-3210 Elsinore square, and stand on lots 20x80 feet each. The houses were built two years ago and are of the reception hall type, with solid brick walls and eight rooms and bath. This makes a total of 14 houses in Elsinore square that have been sold within two weeks, and there remain only six dwellings in that street in the hands of the original owner.

Borland & Waddell have been appointed exclusive agents to handle the 15 houses lately completed by Thomas MacConnell on the east side of Millvale avenue, near Liberty avenue, Twentieth ward. This is one of the best lots of speculative houses built this year and they are happily wanting in the many characteristics that go to make up the average house built in Pittsburgh to sell. The houses face Friendship park and stand on lots 36x110 feet. No two of the 15 are alike in design and the utmost pains were taken in the building to make them substantial and convenient. The houses contain seven rooms, a large reception hall, two tile bathrooms and a big butler's pantry. The interior finish is hardwood. The houses are reached by the Liberty avenue and Bloomfield car lines and are within one square of all the Penn avenue lines. A considerable reduction has been made to be allowed on all houses sold before January 1.

Got a Big Renting Contract.

The Union Realty Company has just captured another big bunch of houses for renting through C. C. Wager, manager of its rent department. The contract is for the 250 houses owned by the estate of John Munhall in Munhall borough. The dwellings are mostly small brick and frame houses and are well rented to employes of the steel works at Homestead and workmen in other big manufactories near there. The Union Realty Company will shortly establish an office in Munhall and place a man there in direct charge of the properties. Only a short time ago the same company secured the exclusive management of the Robinson properties in Allegheny, including over 50 houses and a considerable amount of business property.

Thirty brick houses will shortly be built by stockholders in the Homestead Ice Company in Sarah street, near Eleventh avenue, Homestead. The houses will contain four rooms each and will rent in that locality for from $15 to $18 a month. The site, which was famous because of the old West spring on it, was bought a short time ago from the West heirs for $6,000.

J. Howard Greig has purchased from R. W. A. Simmons 41x84 feet on the north side of Locust street, near Chestnut street, Sixth ward, for $22,000. The lot is improved with a number of brick buildings.

Through the Aronson Realty Company Burnheim Brothers of New York have leased the three upper stories of a building in Smithfield street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, for three years.

Small Projects Are Numerous.

In spite of the fact that most of the prospective building is being kept under cover by architects there is a fair amount of small building being started every week. House building is unusually active for this season of the year, and unless bad weather shuts off all outside operations the prospects for a lively winter's business are promising. Flats and small business structures are also going up in good numbers, and architects who have such work on hand are pushing it on to the boards. Of the large building projects known to be in a state of preparation many are being held up until the outcome of the election and the business policy of the next year are fully settled. The projects authorized in the two cities yesterday were as follows:

Pittsburgh—A. A. Hawk, brick veneered dwelling, 701 Frankstown avenue, Twenty-first ward, $4,000; Alfred Davis, brick store and dwelling, 4807 Second avenue, Twenty-third ward, $7,000; Thomas Rodd, two brick and frame dwellings, Ellsworth and Copsland streets, Twentieth ward, $26,000; Edward Steele, frame dwelling, Calhoun and Snowden streets, Thirty-seventh ward, $1,800; A. Cullen, brick veneered dwelling, Greenbush street, Thirty-second ward, $5,000; Mrs. J. F. Sowash, frame dwelling, Reynolds street, Twenty-second ward, $2,500.

Allegheny—B. F. Eagle three two-story frame dwellings on East street, to cost $2,000 each; a stone church for the All-Saints Episcopal church at California avenue and Antrim street, to cost $19,000; E. Sullivan, a two-story addition to a dwelling at 190 Fountain street, to cost $1,000.

Bought in Choice Location.

The sale of the George H. Singer property at Point Breeze to Frederick Ingersoll for $30,000, announced in detail in another column, takes out of the market one of the finest homesteads in Pittsburgh. The location of the property makes it an excellent site for high-class residences or for public buildings. Residents of Point Breeze have been especially cognizant of their locality and it is to be expected that some of them will not take kindly to the idea of a Luna park attraction in their midst.

Location: E. A. Hess & Co. sold for Samuel C. McMaster to W. C. Schofield a two-story frame house in Chestnut street, Avalon, for $3,800. Also for W. C. Schofield to James Anderson a frame cottage in Ross township, near Orchard avenue, for $700, and for Samuel Stewart a frame house in Marie avenue, Avalon, for $2,600.

Emsworth: A. J. Wise of the Mortgage Banking Company sold for Clyde M. Rayburn to Mrs. Annie Fast a frame house and four lots in Emsworth boulevard, Emsworth, for $5,500; for C. C. Howard to Smith & Davis of Allegheny, a seven-room brick house on 30x100 feet in Johnston street, Wilkinsburg, for $3,500, a lot in Maple avenue, Allegheny, being taken in part payment.

Race street: J. A. Hageman sold to George A. Swager an improved lot 25x80 feet on the south side of Race street, Twenty-first ward, for $3,000.

Allen avenue: A. S. Hagerstrom sold to Charles E. Hagerstrom an improved lot 25x160 feet in Allen avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $3,600.

Johnston avenue: John J. O'Donnell sold to Alexander J. Markes an improved lot 25x115 feet on the north side of Johnston avenue, Twenty-third ward, for $1,500.

D. Behen & Son have closed a deal through H. R. Newlin and L. F. Daum by which they sold for John McSorley to Nathan J. Means the Summerlea apartments at Summerlea and Elwood streets, consisting of a triple building, containing 18 apartments, finished in hardwood and marble, with lot 84x140 feet, for $90,000. They also sold for John M. Petty to a builder 286x125 feet on Melwood street, and 107x115 feet on Neville street for $16,000, the purchaser of which will erect a number of houses at once. This is a portion of the same property which D. Behen & Son sold to Mr. Petty for S. W. Crosby recently.

John W. Sherrer sold for H. E. Smythe to Alexander McCracken, 39x103 feet, improved with a double brick dwelling, on the south side of Mignonette street, for $4,500.

BUYERS WAITING UNTIL AFTER THE ELECTION

Business in Local Markets Seems Absolutely Dead, Pending Settlement.

The man who could find anything of interest in the local markets yesterday must needs be an optimist of the highest order. There was no life in any branch of the trade. Every person seems to have just quit until after the election.

Business men look for little revival next week, as the near approach of the national election is enough to deaden everything. While it is a foregone conclusion as to how the count will result, still there are enough faint hearts to paralyze business, and dealers generally are not looking for a revival until after November 15. By that time they expect the current to have started the right way.

Flour stiffened up wonderfully yesterday and had wheat continued up the scale, as it seemed determined to do at the opening of the market, there is no doubt another advance would have been quoted. Western millers have already raised the price 10 cents a barrel, which is equal to a 20-cent increase here. Sugar is the weakest thing in groceries just now, as the great sugar season is entirely over and but little is doing in that line. Coffee is stiffening and the prospects of a raise in price are becoming more imminent daily.

Receipts of fruit and produce yesterday were as follows: Apples, 2 cars, making 40 cars; bananas, 7 cars, making 14 cars; cabbage, 5 cars, making 57 cars; celery, 1 car, making 8 cars; grapes, 3 cars, making 45 cars; oranges, 1 car, making 12 cars; pears, 1 car, making 7 cars; potatoes, 21 cars, making 153 cars; miscellaneous, 6 cars.

HAY AND GRAIN RECEIPTS.

Receipts of hay and grain in the local yards yesterday were as follows: Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 5 cars hay, 2 cars corn, 6 cars oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 1 car hay, 2 cars feed; Pennsylvania lines, 51 cars hay, 18 cars oats, 4 cars corn, 1 car meal, 1 car rye, 1 car corn and oats.

All lines held firm in the hay and grain market yesterday. Receipts of hay were light but not more than enough to give the market what it wanted. Of oats and corn there was about enough to go around. Prices held firm on everything. The shortage of shelled corn is still felt and strictly No. 1 timothy hay finds ready buyers at full quotations.

WAR SCARE AGAIN IS FACTOR IN WHEAT PIT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Possibility of an Anglo-Russian war was the main cause of a 1½ cent advance in wheat prices here today. Subsequently, much of the advance was lost on realizing, due to rumors of an amicable settlement of the North sea incident. At the close December wheat was up ⅝c. The May option showed a gain of ½c. Corn made a net gain of ⅛@⅜c. Oats are up ⅝c and provisions 7½@10c.

The Anglo-Russian diplomatic crisis accompanied by a drop of 7-16 in consols caused an excited opening in the wheat market here. An advance of nearly 8 cent in wheat prices at Liverpool furnished additional evidence of the seriousness of the European situation. In a frenzy to secure wheat, traders who were short bid up the price sharply at the start. Initial quotations on December were up ⅝@⅞c to 1⅛@1⅜c at 71 1-4@71 3-8. May was up 1@1⅛c at $1 13¾@1 14. Bullish sentiment was encouraged by a material reduction in Northwestern receipts, arrivals for the day being 300 cars less than the number received the corresponding day last week. Within the first few minutes the December option sold at $1 15⅝. The high point, however, on the May delivery was reached on the initial sales. The sharp advance started heavy liquidation, which continued throughout the remainder of the day. Several large holders were prominent on the selling side. Offerings were taken fairly well but much of the early gain was lost. Toward the middle of the session the market became quite weak as a result of increased profit-taking. The weakness brought out many stop-loss orders and in consequence prices broke nearly 2 cents from the high point of the day. December dropped to $1 13¾ and May to $1 12¼. Much of the selling was due to a rumor that the Russian commander had been recalled. Another factor of importance was a Cincinnati trade paper's crop report, which was considered extremely bearish, the report claiming the new crop to be in fine condition, and the acreage greatly increased. Late in the day the market rallied considerably on a fair demand from shorts, the market closing firm with December at $1 15¼@1 14⅝. Final figures on May were at $1 12¾. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 27,700 bushels. Primary receipts were 844,900 bushels, compared with 1,124,500 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 576 cars, against 878 cars last week and 912 cars a year ago.

A firm tone prevailed in the corn market throughout the entire session. War news and strength of wheat caused active covering by shorts. Minor factors that contributed to bullish sentiment were small receipts and a continued good cash demand. December opened ½@⅝c to ⅝@¾c higher at 50¼@50⅝c, sold between 49⅞ and 50⅜c, and closed at 50⅛c. Local receipts were 82 cars, with three of contract grade.

Influenced by the strength of other grains the oats market ruled firm. Commission houses were fair purchasers. December opened ¼@⅜c higher at 29⅜@29⅝c, ranged between 29¼@29¼c and 29⅝c, and closed at 29½c. Local receipts were 82 cars.

As a result of the bullish foreign situation and the strength of grains, the provision market was firm in spite of lower prices at the yards. Shorts were the principal buyers. At the close January pork was up 10@12½c at $12 42½@12 45. Lard and ribs were each up 7½@10c at $7 17½ and $6 50, respectively.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat, 88 cars; corn, 76 cars; oats, 85 cars; hogs, 15,000 head.

HARWICK WIDOWS ENTER 18 SUITS

Each Woman Wants $10,000 for the Loss of Her Husband in Mine Disaster.

VIEWERS ACCUSE BIGELOW

Eighteen widows have sued the Allegheny Coal Company for $10,000 each, making $180,000 for the death of their husbands in the Harwick mine horror on January 25. Negligence on the part of the company is charged, and it is alleged that there were not proper entrances to the mine; that for a long period one of the shafts was choked with ice, preventing the circulation of air in the mine; that dust was permitted to accumulate; that the proper lamp station was not maintained and open lamps were permitted in the mine; that the blasts were allowed to be tamped with paper instead of mud, and that there were irregularities about the bratticing. It is also alleged that the company employed as fireboss for a long time, previous to the time of the injuries complained of, one Joseph Gordon, "who was a reckless, incompetent man, and an habitual drunkard."

The names of the widows and their dead husbands are: Sarah A., Harry Chetham; Annie, James Donnelly; Annie, Edward Hitmire; Lucy, George Bigley; Elizabeth, George Ambrose; Annie, Christ. Bowser; Sarah, Arthur Becham; Clara, Jacob D. Fenner; Annie, James Baughman; Sabina, John Kirkwood; Kezia, Joseph Gordon; Maud, Peter Goodman; Ellen, John A. McConnell; Ellen, George Kreigiel; Emma, Thomas P. Noble; Annie, William Shaw; Mary, W. W. Troutman; Harriet, James Parry.

Viewers Blame Director Bigelow.

In answer to the rule secured against them by Alexander M. Murdock, T. L. Rodgers, James F. Moore and L. B. D. Reese, the viewers appointed in the matter of opening and widening Hamilton avenue from Penn avenue to Fifth avenue, yesterday filed their report in court, and also charged Director E. M. Bigelow with unwarrantably and illegally withholding the report. They say their report was completed on May 27, last, and handed to J. H. Felmeth, chief clerk of the bureau of viewers, with instructions to prepare it in the proper shape and place it on exhibition for those interested. The instructions were not carried out, it is alleged. The report shows that the decision of the viewers places a total cost of $589,430 on the city. The total amount of benefits assessed being $35,818.

The list of owners allowed damages is long and the largest of which are: Amelia R. Speer, $31,497; David E. Speer, $10,000; Alex M. Murdock, $31,520; Charles E. Pope, $9,560; Leopold Vilsack (2), $25,068; Robert H. and Sarah E. Hartley, $73,952; D. J. Kennedy, $41,000; Consolidated Ice Company, $37,488; Mellon Bros., $125,000; Peter Patterson, $21,-880; David S. and Solomon Lowenstein, $11,-360; Citizens Traction Company, $52,750; Murphy Mill & Lumber Company, lessee, $25,000; Keller Bros., $12,785; Wadsworth Stone and Paving Company, lessee, $35,000. These, with a number of smaller amounts, allowed property owners, make a total cost for the opening of $625,248.

The list of assessed benefits, which is the only offset is: Thomas Mellon, $1,500; Charles E. Pope, $1,030; Leo Vilsack, $11,400; J. and P. Dunlevy, $2,841; J. Dunlevy, $958; city of Pittsburgh, $1,070; Maggie L. Reno, $480; Alexander M. Murdock (2), $4,200; Liberty Brewing Company, $5,300; D. R. Speer, $5,000; Free Ely, $530; Smith Bovard, $400; Fidelity Title and Trust Company, $1,280. Total, $35,818.

Daughters Awaiting a Verdict.

The case of the Daughters of the American Revolution against the city of Pittsburgh to recover damages for the vacation of Fort street and Point alley, was concluded yesterday. A verdict is expected this morning.

Jacob Feingold, by his father, Samuel Feingold, has entered suit against Patrick J. Murphy for $1,500 damages. It is alleged the son on July 26 entered the shooting gallery of the defendant at 212 Smithfield street, and while an attendant was handing him a rifle it exploded and the ball lodged in Feingold's arm.

In the suit of John Murphy against M. K. McMullin & Co., in which the arbitrators awarded the plaintiff $3,850, the defendant has taken an appeal.

A preliminary injunction was granted against the defendant in the suit of John F. Miller and others against the Pittsburgh & Connellsville railroad. The defendant is enjoined from undermining property of the plaintiff in making its improvements.

The following executions were issued yesterday: Andy Hanico vs. Anton J. Katchman, $689 67; J. J. Rattigan vs. H. Ables, $115 44; Mrs. Veronica Kist vs. Alexander Virag, $106 57.

In the divorce suit of Andrew Eber against Clara Eber, the husband testified they were married on October 25, 1900, and on April 27, 1902, she deserted him. When he arose in the morning she handed him a dollar and said: "There is your meal money; when you come back in the evening I will be gone." She went to her father's house where she remained.

A decree has been granted in the suit of Mary Buchner against William Buchner on the ground of desertion.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed against W. A. Downing of 5430-5432 Second avenue. Hugh and Samuel Hall, trading as Hall Brothers, are the petitioners, and a claim of $3,000, said to be due on a promissory note, is filed.

Mrs. Hecht Was Acquitted.

In criminal court Mrs. Fannie Hecht, wife of a Braddock liquor dealer, Adolph Hecht, was acquitted of a misdemeanor, charged against her by Joseph Horne, now said to be a fugitive from justice and hiding in Russia. The jury in the case was out about five minutes. The costs were placed on the woman's husband, whom the jury found to be the real prosecutor.

These sentences were imposed: William Brown, robbery and pointing firearms, two years to the workhouse; Frederick Stevenson and Albert Berry, entering a building, sent to the Huntingdon reformatory; Edward Walker, breaking into the Allegheny General hospital and stealing $20 and an overcoat, one year and six months to the workhouse; John Elish, aggravated assault, one year; Hugh Dunnigan, breaking into a stre, 90 days; Isaac Brisco, embezzlement, 60 days; Frank Samanda, larceny, six months; James Molnar, pointing firearms, six months; Steve Reap, assault, 60 days; James Smith, larceny, 60 days; Elias Jordan, larceny, 90 days; John Wesley, larceny, four months; Mattie Doubh and Lottie England, assault, fined $5 and costs each.

Mary A. Kennedy was acquitted of a charge of assault and battery, made by Henry Klarber, who was ordered to pay the costs.

THE THREE RIVERS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 27.—The stage of the river at 6 o'clock this evening was 4.5 feet and falling. Weather clear and cool. Today's departures were: Katie Mac, Portsmouth; Lizzie Bay, Louisville, and Levi J. Workum, Madison.

CROWDS LOOKING FOR A RISE.

The stage of water at Davis island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 4.4 feet and the river was falling slowly.

Water street had a little air of activity yesterday. The men who work on the towboats in the lower positions seemed to have an idea that there was a prospect of a little water, and they appeared on the water front as suddenly as houseflies show up the first warm day in the springtime. They were disappointed, however, as the water began slowly to fall yesterday morning and there is no further rise in sight.

The Eleanor is lying at the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati wharfboat undergoing repairs. New cylinders are being placed and other improvements made.

The I. C. Woodward was the Morgantown boat yesterday and carried an unusually large consignment of freight.

The Rose Hite looks almost like a new boat since her overhauling and work at renovating her is still in progress.

The Enterprise moved up with a tow of empties from Freedom to Lash's Wednesday on the little rise. The Rival tried to get up Wednesday evening, but could not get over the bar at Merrimans.

Rivermen have started a new agitation for a fireboat. Several years ago $48,000 was appropriated for the building of a boat, but the money was devoted to other uses and the valuable property in the Pittsburgh harbor is still without adequate protection.

SCIATIC TORTURE

For Six Months He Could Not Turn in Bed. He Tells of a Remedy Which Has Given Perfect Relief.

Most sufferers from the acute and persistent tortures of sciatica regard themselves as prisoners to pain for life. The case of Mr. Marston shows that sciatica can be cured, and no one afflicted by it should allow himself to be disheartened. He was first stricken about a year ago and for six months he suffered pain, which he thinks the most intense that any man could possibly stand.

Asked about the details of his remarkable recovery Mr. Marston gave the following account: "I was attacked by a numbness or dull feeling just back of my right hip, and every step I took after that caused me pain. I didn't know what the matter was, but thought it was simply a stiffness that would wear away in a short time. It didn't, however, and soon the pain became so very bad that every step was torture for me. When I finally succeeded in getting home, it was just as much as I could do to reach my room and get to bed.

"The doctor was sent for, and when he had examined me he said I had sciatica. He prescribed for me and advised me not to try to leave my bed. The advice was unnecessary for I couldn't get out of bed if I wanted to. It was even impossible for me to turn from one side to the other. The moment I attempted to move any part of my body, the pain became so excruciating that I would have to stop and lie perfectly motionless.

"I suffered this torture for six months without getting any relief. Then I discharged the doctor, and on the advice of a friend I bought a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began to take them, three at a dose, three times a day. I was determined to give them a thorough trial.

"Two months after I began to use them I was able to leave my bed and walk about the house, and a month later I was entirely cured and able to go about my work as usual. I honestly believe that if I had used them at first, I would have been cured still more quickly. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine I ever used, and I heartily recommend them to anyone who suffers from sciatica."

Mr. Marston is a prosperous farmer and may be reached, by all who desire further particulars, by mail addressed to Charles P. Marston, Hampton P. O., New Hampshire.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are equally successful in curing other painful nervous disorders such as neuralgia, partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia, and diseases of the blood such as rheumatism. They are sold by all druggists.

Neck and Neck!

Regals are now running a "neck and neck" race—with custom-made shoes.

Regals are carrying a light weight—only $3.50.

Custom-made shoes are laboring under a killing weight—$8.00 to $14.00.

Your horse-sense ought to tell you what the result will be. The custom-made shoe is bound to fall out of the race. How can it be otherwise?

Regal materials are proved to be the same as in the most reliable custom-made shoes.

Regals look as well. Regals wear as well. And now with quarter sizes Regals fit as well.

All the new Fall and early Winter styles are made in 36 quarter sizes and 8 widths, giving 288 fittings, insuring a perfect fit in every style. No high-priced custom bootmaker can do better than this—a lot of them can't do as well.

Think once more of Regal style, Regal wear, Regal fit—and Regal price, $3.50!

Send for Style Book. Mail Orders promptly filled.

Sold direct from tannery to consumer. The largest retail shoe business in the world. 80 stores in principal cities from London to San Francisco.
